Flu outbreak won't be epidemic, says bureau

Dr. Allan Moodie, director of Bureau of Communicable Diseases, told the AFRO Wednesday there is no indication outbreak of flu will reach epidemic proportions this winter.

He said according to a Nov. 20 report of "Morbidity and Mortality" published by the U.S. Health Service the few reported cases are likely to be sectional rather than nationwide.

Dr. Moodie said: "What is going to happen is nothing of serious consequences. We don't really anticipate anything serious."

He said so far as the bureau is concerned it does not anticipate any outbreak of epidemics this year.

Commenting on the incidence of high rate of syphilis and gonorrhea in Baltimore, Harry Feliz, assistant senior public health officer of the Division of Venereal Diseases said, the department is doing all it can to eradicate syphilis and control gonorrhea.

Two main approaches are being adopted. One is education of the people and epidemiology. He stated that the division has undertaken intensive interviewing program to find out who has the disease from whom it was contracted.

By this means, the originators could be reached and referred to the clinics for treatment.

Mr. Felix said the diseases when unattended will have serious consequences on the patient.

He stated that syphilis can expose the patient to insanity, blindness and probable death while a gonorrhea patient may develop arthritis, become sterile and, therefore, unable to have children.

Mr. Felix explained that all of these diseases can be cured within 24 hours after a penicillin shot.

He appealed to the public to make use of the free medical facilities for treatment of these diseases.

There are three centers; one at Druid Health district at 1515 W. North, the second at Eastern Health District at 620 N. Caroline and the third Western Health district at 700 W. Lombard St.

Mr. Felix stated that at each of these centers patients can have free checkups; laboratory examination and free treatment.

4th Democrats hold parties Dec. 7, 21

The Fourth District Democratic Organization will hold its senior citizens night Dec. 7 and Christmas party on Dec. 21 at the Fourth District headquarters.

Guests at the Dec. 7 affair to be held at 7:45 will be a bus load of senior citizens from St. James Terrace and SAGA.

A special feature will be a singing program by the Mary Rodman Boys' Choir from School No. 204. The music will be directed by Mrs. Ruth Hawkins.

The affair expected to be attended by all the senior citizens will be presided over by Mrs. Alice N. West from SAGA.

Every member is asked to bring a can or package of cheer for the Christmas basket and a piece of decoration for the Christmas tree.

'Coming of Christ' parade Dec. 12

With the proclamation "Christ Is Coming," the Inner-City Christian Community is sponsoring a parade Sunday, Dec. 12 at 1:30 p.m.

"We are not protesting against anything," say organization leaders; "We are proclaiming the renewed birth of the Prince of Peace in our hearts, in our city, in our time."

The parade led by the Star and the Wise Men will begin at Gilmore and Baker then move along Baker to Pennsylvania and Fremont.

There the Shepherds, the donkey, Joseph and Mary will join in to lead the parade along Pennsylvania to Lafayette. There the Angels will join in to direct marchers aong Lafayette to Lafayette Square.

Paraders will be met there by Simeon the Prophet and Anna the Prophetess for prayer in Saint James Episcopal Church.

13 declared for deaconate Saturday

Thirteen laymen in the Archdiocese of Baltimore Diaconate Program made their initial public declarations of commitment as ministers of the Church Saturday, Nov. 27 during Mass at St. Mary's Seminary.

Bishop T. Austin Murphy was the principal celebrant of the tonsure ceremony. Pastors from the deacon candidates' parishes concelebrated. The wives and families also took part in the ceremony.

The next and final step as deacon candidates will be ordination. After ordination, these men are to tribute the Holy Eucharist, read the Gospel at Mass and deliver sermons.

The deacon candidates being tonsured are T. Russel Gibson, Joe Jolin, Robert Keenan, Francis Lambert, George Leever, John Martin, Eugene Miller, Jr., Stanley Piet, Robert Schott, Joseph Schultz, William Vaughan, Francis Wheeler and William Young, Sr.

FAMILY MOURNS—Funeral services were held Monday at Enon Baptist Church for Councilman Robert C. Marshall. (Second row l. to r.) are Mrs. Alice Marshall, wife; Misses Tonya and Pamela Marshall, daughter; Mrs. Angie Clark; Miss Allison Marshall, daughter; Bernard Marshall, brother; Mrs. Susie M. Johnson, and Howard Marshall.

LAST FAREWELL from thousands of Baltimoreans were paid Sunday night as the body of City Councilman Robert C. Marshall lay in state at Enon Baptist Church. Among those lingering at the coffin were (left panel) Dr. Emerson R. Julian, (standing near the guard) the City Councilman who made the motion that Mrs. Marshall take her husband's seat in the Council. In center and right panels, citizens touch Mr. Marshall softly and a mourner leans upon him to pray. (Photos by J. D. Howard).

Big letters mark Druid Hill YMCA

A visitor to 1619 Druid Hill Avenue would have no trouble finding the Druid Hill YMCA now that four huge letters have been erected on the outside of the building.

The letters, which reach up one-and-a-half stories, spell YMCA.

The outside attention-getter is matched on the inside because, the Druid Hill Y now has renovated facilities for men and women and boys and girls.

"We did what we could for a long time with a run-down place, but now we can offer a wider variety of programs in a modern facility," said John H. Henderson.

Druid Hill spent $214,339 on the renovations which took two years and were just recently completed.

The major improvements came in the physical education areas.

The all-purpose room and the exercise room were both overhauled and new equipment was added. This included a sauna, 15 station Universal gym, trampoline, rowing machine and stationary bicycle, as well as modernized facilities for boxing, weight-lifting and wrestling.

Both the men and womens' locker rooms are have been brought up-to-date. The womens' locker area has been equipped with items like a vanity table designed to attract women to the Y.

"We're going more, for the coed and family activities now than ever before," Mr. Henderson said.

"Our overall goal," he added, "is to offer a wider variety of programs, and to increase membership."

The Druid Hill YMCA also offers members an all-new indoor archery range.

Still included in a Y-membership are use of the existing swimming pool and basketball court.

'YMCA' is spelled out in big orange letters on the front of the Druid Hill YMCA, which has spent $214,339 on renovations inside and out.

Legal internship program forms

Attorney General Francis B. Burch has annouced the formation of a Legal Internship Program to be sponsored jointly by the Attorney General's office and the university of Maryland School of Law.

Burch said that up to thirty students from the law school will participate in the program for the spring, 1972, academic semester.

"These students will be assigned to our Criminal, Civil, and Consumer Protection Divisions as a part of their third-year curriculum. We expect that these students will provide valuable assistance to the Attorney General's Office in addition to improving their employment prospectus and professional skills," Burch said.

The students will receive academic credit for their participation in the program in lieu of monetary compensation.

Their work will include legal research and writing, the lawyer-client or lawyer-employer relationship, legal ethics, understanding the day-to-day aspects of legal work and professional responsibility, and the oral skills of trial advocacy, interviewing, and factual evaluation.

Burch said that other area law schools are also being contacted regarding the possibility of their participating in such a program.

Notre Dame has new scholarships

Sister Kathleen Feeley, president of the College of Notre Dame of Maryland, announced the creation of a new scholarship program for senior girls in Maryland high schools.

Alpha is a program designed to give girls with a desire to exert leadership in society, and with financial need, an opportunity to begin their collegiate work with a half scolarshii to the College of Notre Dame.

Twenty-five Alpha scholarships are being offered to girls currently in the senior year of any public or private high school in Maryland.

Financial need must be demonstrated by the Parents' Confidential Statement.

Applications for the Alpha Scholarship Program will be by letter to the President of the College. In the letter, the applicant should state clearly her own personal goals and the role she envisions for herself as an educated woman.

Those girls whose letters are selected for their awareness of woman's role in contemporary society and their potential for making a positive contribution, will be notified to submit an application and the Parents' Confidential Statement to the college.

Letters of application should be addressed to the President and mailed to the College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland 21210. Deadline for receipt of letters is January 31, 1972.

Christmas scenes in Mt. Winans

By WALTER W. E. HILL

Sympathy is extended Mrs. Charlotte F. Hill in the passing of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Forbe on Thanksgiving Day.

Funeral services were held at Jones Tabernacle Baptist Church on Monday with the pastor, the Rev. Arthur Jones officiating.

* * *

A Christmas tree will be set up at the downtown plaza on Saturday, December 4 for the Community of Mt. Winans. The residents, churches, schools and clubs of the area are asked to help make decorations for the tree so that we can win first prize.

Santa is scheduled as guest along with Professor Kool for the children at 11 a.m. Judging will be held at noon. Come and join us at the tree, sponsored by the Mt. Winans C.I.G.

* * *

The annual community Thanksgiving Services were held at the Mt. Winans United Methodist Church. The Rev. George Smith, pastor of Mt. Winans First Baptist Church, preached. Special guest was the Rev. W. E. Woods.

Everyone is asked to keep a lookout for the Christmas Carolers as they tour the neighborhoods of Westport, Mt. Winans and Lakeland. Coffee, doughnuts and soda will be served to carolers. If you can sing, we need, you. Elders may also enjoy the trip on heated bus.

Mrs. Florence Douglas, former member and organist of Star of Bethlehem A.M.E. Church, along with her daughter and grandchildren were guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. E. Hill, Sr. for Thanksgiving dinner.

Present were: Mr. Charles and Rita Mason, Sandra Ceryse, Robert, Colleen, Kevin and Charles Mason, Jr. Also Mrs. Grace Hill Hines.
