Provident Hospital to give donors permanent memorials

Provident Hospital is now formulating plans for the erection of permanent memorials to pay tribute to the thousands of men and women whose generous contributions to the Development Program are in large measure responsible for the new hospital.

In order to insure that all contributors are listed correctly and that their names are properly and tastefully displayed, the following categories and appropriate tributes have been decided upon:

1.) $150-$499 — Names of donors will be attractively inscribed on the parchment pages of the Book of Life.

2.) $500-$1499 — The contributors' names shall appear on individual bronze strips, listed alphabetically in the memorial alcove of Provident's main lobby.

3.) $1500-$7500 — Symmetrically arranged plaques with contributer's name and the particular facility his gift supported shall occupy a Memorial Wall on each floor, to be located near the patients' waiting room.

4.) $7500-up — Donor's names to be inscribed on one of the large memorial panels in the main lobby.

The center panel is reserved for gifts of $50,000 and over.

Since patient care and staffing the new facility were, of course, primary concerns at the outset, the memorials were delayed. Plans are now underway to contact all donors.

There are more than 5,000 gifts which must be verified as to correct listing of donor, correct category, checking responses against pledges, etc.
