

8 George 3.—A. D. 1768.

CHAP. 22. An act for the more easy and effectual recovery of the penalties and forfeitures inflicted by the acts of parliament, relating to the trade or revenues of the British colonies and plantations in America.

These penalties were to be recovered in the Vice Admiralty courts having jurisdiction in the said colonies and plantations.

9 George 3.—A. D. 1769.

CHAP. 28. An act to permit the inhabitants of Jersey and Guernsey, to export directly from thence to Newfoundland, or the British colonies in America, goods necessary for the fishery, &c.

This statute was, of course, to have its operation in the colonies.

CHAP. 38. An act for further encouraging the growth and culture of raw silk in his majesty's colonies or plantations in America.

See the note above.

CHAP. 39. An act to prevent the free importation of certain raw hides and skins from Ireland, and the British plantations in America.

Same as to part of this statute.

11 George 3.—A. D. 1771.

CHAP. 41. An act to explain an act, made in the reign of his late majesty, king George the first, entitled, An act giving further encouragement for the importation of naval stores, and for other purposes therein mentioned, &c.

The statute 8 George 1, Ch. 12, was herein explained.

12 George 3.—A. D. 1772.

CHAP. 7. An act for explaining and amending an act made in the seventh year of his present majesty, &c.

The statute 7 George 3, Ch. 56, hereby explained and amended.

CHAP. 20. An act for the more effectual proceeding against persons standing mute on their arraignment for felony or piracy.

The 2d section directed that the provisions should extend to his majesty's colonies and plantations in America; but I do not find any prosecutions under this statute, or shewing that it was used, &c.
