$656 Million Rapid Transit Program Begins In 1972

153,000 riders to step aboard daily when trains start in '78

The year 1972 will witness the completion of preliminary engineering designs for the underground and overhead Baltimore Region Rapid Transit System.

The estimated $656 million project is expected to be completed by 1978 for 153,000 riders to step aboard the trains each day.

For example, when the trains start rolling, fares based on a zone structure will be the same as bus fare

50 CENTS TOP FARE

Based on the 1971 bus fare structure, a ride on rapid transit would cost as little as 30 cents to travel between any of the 12 stations within the City of Baltimore, from Reisterstown Plaza on the northwest route to Cherry Hill on the South Line.

The maximum fare to downtown would be 50 cents from Owings Mills and 60 cents from Marley. And to travel from Owings Mills to Marley would cost only 80 cents.

Revenues are expected to at least cover total operating expenses.

SCHOOL RIDERS

Approximately 100,000 will be commuters traveling from home to work and back again.

These passengers will include both suburbanites traveling to downtown, as well as city dwellers headed for jobs in the suburbs.

In addition, it is anticipated that 7,000 school trips will be made a day and 46,000 trips for other purposes such as for shopping or for recreational purposes.

COST AND IMPLEMENNnnn

TATION

At 1970 dollars, PHASE 1 of Baltimore's rapid transit system would cost $450 million, but due to inflation, it will require $656 million based on a completion date of 1978. This amount will cover the construction of the entire system including: Construction of all physical elements including

Property acquisition

Design and start-up costs

Funds to construct PHASE 1 are contingent upon aid to be received from both the Federal Government and the State of Maryland, with the Federal Government providing two-thirds of the capital cost, and the State providing one-third.

CALENDAR

On the basis of the implementation schedule established in 1971, PHASE 1 is planned to begin operations by the latter part of 1978. Significant dates on the calendar include:

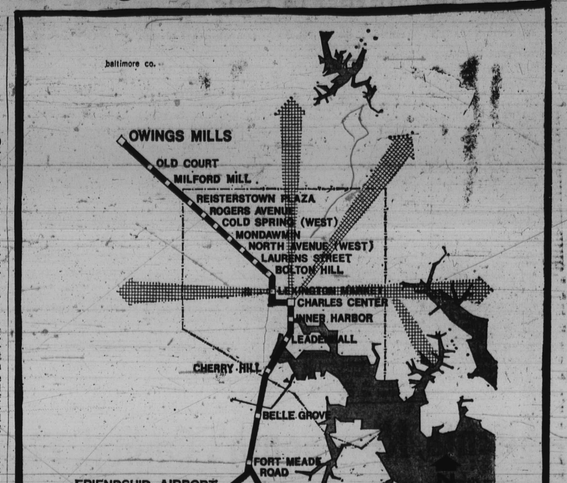
Completion of preliminary engineering designs in 1972

Beginning of construction in late 1973 and early 1974

Completion of final engineering and architectural designs by 1975

Completion of construction work by 1978

Operation in the metropolitan area the latter part of 1978



SHAKE, RATTLE AND ROLL under your house? This is the question citizens may think of too late after the corridor sites are firmly determined. Authorities say planners in other cities with underground railways may have estmiates which include statistical information of value. Word is the mathematical rate of vibration and what the action could do to a building have been calculated to reveal how many years it will take to seriously damage property. Lou Rainone, chief planning engineer for the Baltimore Region Rapid Transit System states that a $50,000 noise and vibration study may be completed in six or eight months and will be made public. He states that the depth of the corridor under the Bolten Hill-Lexington Market-Charles Center corridor (For Example) will be about 100 feet underground. Depths under the surface of the ground vary with the location. All phases of the overhead and underground trainways are under study by experts and specialists.

STATIONS

Inner Harbor Station serving the Maryland Academy of Science, McCormick Company, the proposed new Inner Harbor development, the proposed Christ Lutheran Complex, and the Federal Hill community.

Leadenhall Station serving the South Baltimore community.

Cherry Hill Station serving the Cherry Hill; English Consul, Lakeland, Mt. Winans, Westport, Lansdowne, Rosemont, Baltimore Highlands, Brooklyn and Brooklyn Heights communities.

Belle Grove Station serving Pumphrey, North Linthicum, Ridgeway Manor, Raynor Heights, Patapsco Park, Lynnrook, Terrace View Estates and Brooklyn Park communities.

Fort Meade Road Station serving the Ferndale, Linthicum, Arundel Hills, Garland Park, Shipley, Linthicum Heights, Westdale Park, Pleasantville, Crestwood and Glenmore communities.

Friendship International Airport Station serving the airport complex:

Glen Burnie Station serving the Glen Burnie retail and commercial facilities and surrounding residential communities.

The Northwest Line — The Northwest Line of the rapid transit system will stretch for approximately 14 miles from the center of downtown to Owings Mills.

Starting at Charles Center, the line will extend westward under Baltimore Street and will turn northward under Eutaw Street; passing Lexington Market and the State Office Complex.

Several blocks past this point, the route will turn westward into Pennsylvania Avenue and continue northward, passing North Avenue and Mondawmin.

Near the Community College of Baltimore at Liberty Heights Avenue and Druid Park Drive, the line will continue along the Western Maryland Railroad, passing Cold Spring Lane, Rogers Avenue and the Reisterstown Road Shopping Center.

The line will then meet the proposed Northwestern Expressway and will extend along the median of the highway, past Milford Mill Road, Old Court Road to Owings Mills where it will terminate.

STATIONS

Lexington Market Station serving the University of Maryland Hospital and downtown campus, the major retail shopping district, Lexington Market, Seton Hill and various housing projects along Fremont Avenue.

Bolton Hill Station serving the Maryland State Office Center, Bolton Hill, the Maryland Institute of Art, the Maryland General Hospital, the Lyric Theatre, the University of Baltimore, the Mount Royal Plaza Urban Renewal area.

Laurens Street Station serving the Pennsylvania Avenue retail shopping facilities and the Upton renewal area and surrounding residential areas.

North Avenue Station serving the Pennsylvania Avenue and North Avenue communities and acting as a major transfer point with east-west bus lines.

Mondawmin Station serving Provident Hospital, Coppin State College, Community College of Baltimore, Druid Hill Park, Mondawmin Shopping Center and surrounding residential areas.

Cold Spring Lane and Rogers Avenue Stations serving the communities of Arlington, West Arlington, Glenmore Park, Ferndale, Pimlico and Howard Park.

Reisterstown Plaza Station serving Seton Institute, Reisterstown Plaza Shopping Center and the surrounding residential community.

Owings Mills Station, the terminal of the northwest line, serving the Owings Mills and Reisterstown communities. The station will also serve the Owings Mills Industrial Park and the proposed sector center at Painters Mill Road.

The South Line

The South Line of the rapid transit system will stretch for approximately 14 miles from the center of downtown to just south of Glen Burnie with a branch going to Friendship Airport. From Charles Center, the line will extend under Light Street, past the Inner Harbor Development, and then turn southward.

Traveling through the Leadenhall section of the city, the route will cross over the middle branch of the Patapsco River in the median of the proposed new highway I-295.

After passing the Westport area, the line will continue through Cherry Hill and pass the city line where it will then follow along the Baltimore and Annapolis Railway.

The route will then continue southward past the Pumphrey area and the Fort Meade Road section.

Just south of the Fort Meade Road station, a spur will branch to Friendship Airport.

The main line will continue southward past Glen Burnie to Marley, the terminal station, located near the intersection of Mountain Road and Ritchie Highway.

As described, the South Line will be located entirely along the B and A right-of-way from approximately the city line all the way to the terminal station at Marley, with the exception of the branch to Friendship Airport.

The total length of the South Line will be slightly more than 14 miles, including two-mile branch serving Friendship Airport.

City makes areas safe for skaters

For the second consecutive year, the Mayor's Traffic Safety Commission has ordered that city streets be barricaded adjacent to the Public Schools to provide roller skating safety.

In cooperation with the Baltimore City Public Schools, Dr. Frank Bennett, director of safety education, has notified all elementary schools to provide designated areas on the school play grounds or barricated streets for roller skating.

Every year many boys and girls receive roller skates for Christmas. In order to provide as much fun as possible, with safety, it is suggested that parents instruct their children not to roller skate on the streets or highways, reminding them of the areas provided for their safety.

All pricipals of elementary schools will advise pupils as to dates and areas provided for roller skating, and will stress the importance of roller skating safety.

Moss Ottenheimer, 2nd, Chairman of the Mayor's Traffic Safety Commission, feels that this will decrease many of the normal roller skating accidents occuring during the holiday season.

Mayor Schaefer would also like to encourage the children to use these skating area.

The steering committee of the Maryland Junior Science and Humanities Symposium has announced that its tenth annual symposium will be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore on March 23, 24 and 25.

All papers are to be mailed to JSHS, Maryland Academy of Sciences, 7 West Mulberry St. Baltimore, Md. 21201, to arrive no later Jan. 7.

City unions urged to support strike

Organized and unorganized labor are being sought to unite under the leadership of the Strike Support Organizing Committee and the National Caucus of Labor Committees to combat the use of welfare people to combat a strike.

The Strike Committee reported workers at Jiffy Enterprises in Camden, N.J., "are being replaced by welfare mothers — A living example of the meaning of Nixon's slave labor Family Assistance Plan.

"The Jiffy strike is being used as a test case for the future use of unemployed and welfare victims as scabs to bust organized labor."

The Baltimore chapters of the Strike Committee and the National Caucus are presently seeking support from the Baltimore Metropolitan Council of AFL-CIO Unions and the Baltimore Building and Construction Trades Council.

The two committees prefer a five point program to fight current national economic policies that, they say, "allow big business to carry out wage and job gouging.

"1) No layoffs; expansion of productive jobs and services; 2) Moratorium on rent and mortgage payments for those unemployed and on strike; 3) $150 minimum wage per week, whether able to work or not.

"4) Finance at capitalists', not workers', expense; and 5) No repression. Defense of right to strike and organize."

Seton psychiatric service

Seton Psychiatric Institute (6400 Wabash Avenue, Baltimore, Md.) has opened a day treatment center for the care of ambulatory and disturbed individuals.

The announcement was made by Sister Anne Williams, administrator of the institute which is operated and sponsored by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul.

The new day treatment center is located on the hospital's first floor. Directing the program is a senior staff psychiatrist, Dr. Marie C. Rigaud.

The program will operate six hours a day, five days a week, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. One day each week is devoted to "Family Day" when the hours will be from 12 noon to 7:00 p.m."

Sister Anne Williams concluded, "Referrals and inquiries should be directed to Social Services, phone 764-2200.

Student pages to help Annapolis legislators

Baltimore City should be very proud of her high school students. The City Department of Education chose 32 senior girls to serve as pages for the upcoming General Assembly session.

The 15 girls and 17 boys will each serve for two weeks during the 90-day session beginning Jan. 12.

Many will be housed in State officials, and all will receive academic credits from their high schools for their work in Annapolis.

Legislators find the student pages very helpful, running errands, making sure all the legislation is before the law makers in proper order.

The student pages from Baltimore are:

Suit claims tavern owner discriminates

U.S. Justice Department filed Dec. 23, in U.S. District Court in Baltimore its first public accommodations suit in Maryland in over two years.

The complaint charges that a St. Mary's County tavern owner "refuses to provide Negroes with the same privileges as white patrons."

The owner is Loren L. Landsman of the Coles Point Tavern on the Potomac River.

The suit request a court order enjoining Landman from continuing any such racial discrimination, that he makes his tavern equally available to members of all races.

If successful, the suit would also require Landsman to notify the public of an equal service policy.

John Wilson, assistant information officer for the Justice Department, declined to name the complaintants, saying if was department policy not to.

Request hearing on Regulation 28

THE AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS today in a strong protest to the Real Estate Commission of Maryland, has requested a public hearing to be held on Regulation 28 which would restrict realtors and real estate salesmen from advertising in newspapers in general and more specifically in the AFRO.

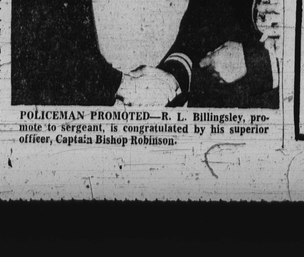
The AFRO takes strong exception to this proposed regulation which will become law unless a hearing is held.

The regulation reads: "No licensee shall solicit the purchase, sale or lease of residential properties by any means, including, but without limitation, door to door solicitation in person or by telephone, or distribution of circulars, cards or advertisements, in any area where the Commission shall determine that the said solicitation could be damaging to the public or to the dignity and integrity of the real estate profession or Code of Ethics. The area so designated shall be defined as to boundary, the particulars of which shall be included in an appropriate order of the Commission. Said order shall be mailed to each licensed broker in the State who shall, immediately upon receipt, inform each licensee under said broker's license of the contents thereof."

Steve M. Kahoe is executive director of the Real Estate Commission of Maryland.

Others sending letters were:

Stanford Hess, assistant attorney general for the State of Maryland; and Commissioners James C. Latham, Albert Jones, Charles Wolfe, Joseph Maran, William Harloff, James Crockett and Edward J. Warren.



POLICEMAN PROMOTED—R. L. Billingsley, promote to sergeant, is congratulated by his superior officer, Captain Bishop Robinson.

New Year's Tribute

BROWN — A New Year's Tribute to the memory of my dear husband, LEON, who passed away November 13, 1963:
Just around the corner, a little out of sight,
My loved one walked ahead into Eternal light
Just around the corner there is a brighter view,
Where many other loved ones, at last can see God too.
And though your work's not finished here,
Just know God hears our prayer
Some day just around the corner,
I'll be waiting there.

In Memoriam

BRENT — In loving memory of our dear mother, LAVINIA C., who departed this life January 2, 1966:
God made lots of beautiful things;
Sunset and roses, and trees,
Birds, and starlight and loyal friends.
And, after He made all these
He gave to the earth a gift more rare—
More loving and more true.
Of all God's gifts, the one most rare
A mother as dear as you.
BY HER CHILDREN

JONES — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, MASHIA E., who passed away January 3, 1971:
She never closed her eyes in sleep
Till we were all in bed,
On party nights till we came home
She often sat and read.
We little thought about it then,
When we were young and gay,
How much our mother worried
When we children were away.
We only knew she never slept.
When we were out at nights,
And that she waited just to know
That we'd come home all right.
Why sometimes when we stayed away
Till one or two or three;
It seemed to us that mother heard
The turning of the key.
For always, when we stepped inside,
She called and we'd reply;
But we were all too young back then
To understand just why.
Until the last one has returned,
She always kept a light.
For mother just couldn't sleep until
We were home safely
She'd kissed us all good-night.
She had to know that we were safe
Before she went to rest
She seemed to fear the world might harm
The ones she loved the best.
And once she said:
"When you are grown to women and to men,
Perhaps I'll sleep the whole night through,
I may be different then."
And so it seemed that night and day
We knew a mother's care
That always when we got back home
We'd find her waiting there
Then came the night that we were called to gather 'round her bed:
The children all are with you now,
The kindly doctor said.
And in her eyes there came again
The old time tender light
That told she had been waiting
Just to know we were all right.
She smiled the old familiar smile
And prayed to God to keep
Us safe from harm throughout the years,
And then she went to sleep.

In Memoriam

DAY — In memory of my dear husband AARON, who passed one year ago, December 30th, 1970:
What would I give his loving hand to clasp
To see his smiling face, as in the days of use to be.
Loving Wife
EMMA B. DAY.

DAY — In loving memory of our dear father, AARON W., who passed away December 30, 1970:
Today our hearts are heavy,
Our thoughts are all of thee.
Oh, how We miss you dear,
None but God in Heaven can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But no, it isn't true,
For one long year has passed, dear,
And our hearts still ache for you.
Loving Children:
IDA WALLACE
ELENORA PACK and JAMES DAY

FAIRFAX — In memory of our loved one, ANNA REID FAIRFAX, who passed away December 19, 1970:
We've missed the sound of your footsteps.
And your voice since you have gone,
And though we no longer see you,
In our minds you still live on.
And so we smile in the daytime,
But some nights our hearts are sore,
As we think of the dear one God took away
To His distant and golden shore.
THE FAMILY

MOBLEY — In loving memory of our mother, INEZ MOBLEY, who passed away December 29, 1962:
Gone, dear mother, gone forever,
Ever we miss your smiling face.
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
THE FAMILY

BROWN — In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and daughter, GLORIA, who passed away December 27, 1970:
What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see.
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife.
And clasp each other's hand once more.
In Heaven, that happy life.
Husband,
WARRINGTON BROWN
Son, DANA BROWN
and Mother,
ELVA CALDWELL.

NASH — In loving memory of our loved one, OCTAVIA V. NASH, who passed away December 30, 1970:
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief, and shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died,
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best
Oh, God, grant you eternal rest.
Devoted Father,
JOHN T. NASH SR.
Brother and Sister-in-law,
JOHN and JOSEPHINE NASH and FAMILY

RHEUBOTTOM — In loving memory of my mother, BESSIE RHEUBOTTOM, who passed away December 29, 1966:
A wonderful mother, woman and aide
One who was better God never made;
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true.
One in a million — that, mother, was you.
Just in your judgement, always right;
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew.
Wonderful mother — that, mother, was you.
LOVING DAUGHTER

SPARKS — In loving memory of my dear wife and my mother, PAULINE (BABY SIS), who passed away one year ago on December 28, 1970:
Sad and sudden was the call.
Of one so dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief, and shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died,
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best
Oh, God, grant you eternal rest.
Loving Husband,
ARMOUR G. SPARKS and SON

TUCKER — In loving memory of our dear son, ALFRED JR., who passed away December 31, 1968:
A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Some may think you are forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
MOTHER and FATHER

ALLEN — In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, ALBERT ALLEN, who passed away December 29, 1961:
You're not forgotten, father dear.
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
Devoted Daughter,
ETHEL and Granddaughter, BERLENE
