

officer of his regiment; and if any officer, non-commissioned officer or private shall neglect or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section as required of him, he shall be cashiered or fined a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars if a commissioned officer, twenty-five dollars if a non-commissioned officer, and ten dollars if a private, in the discretion of such court martial as the case may require.

662. It shall be the duty of the commanding officer of each company district at the time of making the enrolments aforesaid, to deliver to each person, or at his residence, a printed notification, signed by said officer and directed to said person, setting forth the enrolment, and stating the times and places of parade throughout the year as established by this article, as well as the times and places of holding the courts of appeals for the trial of absentees from parade; and he shall cause the first enrolment as aforesaid to be entered on his company book, and make a true return of the same in writing between the first and sixth of April in each year to the commanding officer of his regiment; and if any officer shall neglect or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section as required of him, he shall be fined in a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, in the discretion of such court martial as the case may require.

663. No person enrolled within said division shall be excused from militia duty on account of corporal disability, unless he produces to the commanding officer of the regiment within whose district he shall reside a certificate of the surgeon of the regiment, if any, and if not, of some practising physician of the city of Baltimore, stating that he has carefully examined such person, and that he is in the opinion of said surgeon or physician incapable of performing militia duty, by reason of some bodily infirmity: and the commanding officer of the regiment shall forthwith grant a furlough to said person for such a period of time as in his opinion the certificate of said surgeon or physician will justify.

664. At all the meetings herein directed, the commanding officer of each company shall appoint a fit and proper person who shall call over the muster roll of said company, noting those who are absent, and within two days thereafter shall make return in writing of such absentees to the commanding officer of his company, and if he shall neglect to do so, he shall be fined a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, in the discretion of such court martial as the case may require.
