If it rings where you aren't, what you need is an extension phone.

Chasing up and down stairs after a ringing phone is a good way to get exercise.

It's also a good way to get aggravated.

Especially when there's no one there when you finally pick up the phone.

For just pennies a day, you can pick up an extension, and save yourself all the ringing and running.

To order your extension phones, just call your local telephone business office.

People need to talk to each other. C&P people help.

YW plans Japanese doll show

The 17th annual Japanese doll festival will be held on April 16 at the YWCA International Division, 128 West Franklin St.

Scheduled at 2 p.m., the program will include a demonstration of dressing a bride, a fashion show of Japanese kimonos, twelve dances native to Japan performing in costume, and a demonstration of flower arranging.

Traditional exhibits of dolls costumed to represent the emperor and his court also will be displayed, and Japanese food will be sold.

The dressing of the bride will show the several layers of clothing which are traditional, pyramid hair style, and chalk white make up.

Kimonos in the fashion show will be typical of those worn in the four seasons and will also show the difference between apparel for married and single women.

The 12 dances exemplify themes, such as, love of homeland, exalting traditions of the warrior class, recounting the loves of the Geisha girls and the history of the country.

Admission for the show is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. For information call the YWCA International Division, 685-1460.
