

FOREWORD

The Maryland Manual is intended to be a comprehensive reference work of current official as well as historical data together with information concerning the functions of State Government.

An attempt has been made in limited space to present facts of real interest concerning the State of Maryland, including its Charter and Constitution, the names of all State and County officials and members and functions of various commissions, boards, committees, and other governmental agencies created by the General Assembly, and those emanating therefrom.

Endeavor has been made to furnish financial, educational, political and historical data of general interest to the Citizenry and State officials.

Sincere appreciation is extended to county, state and national officials who so courteously assisted in the accumulation of material and information for this volume.
