MUSICAL MOMENTS

Miss Veronica Tyler will star at Morgan May 5

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Baltimore's own soprano, Miss Veronica Tyler, is guest soloist with the Baltimore Symphony, conducted by Sergui Comissiona, Friday, evening, May 5 in Murphy Auditorium Morgan State College.

An artist diploma graduate of Peabody Conservatory, Miss Tyler, who was a voice student with Mme. Alice Dushak, became world famous as a winner in the Tschaikowsky International Competition in Moscow in 1966.

Then followed brilliant concert successes in Europe and this country where she has become a favorite with opera and concert audiences.

The queenly soprano has appeared in stellar roles with the New York Opera and as guest soloist with leading symphonies, including Philadelphia, Boston, Philharmonic and Baltimore Symphonies. She also starred in the opening of the opera house of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Due to complications, Mrs. Felician Weathers, soprano, who was booked for the Morgan concert, has cancelled the engagement, there and at the Lyric.

Sponsoring the Morgan concert is the Northeast Symphony Society. Adult tickets are $5; children in groups $1; senior citizens and students, special discount.

Coppin State College will present its annual three-day Arts Festival, opening Wednesday May 3 on the college campus, 2500 W. North Ave.

The first major evening activity is the annual spring concert by the Coppin State College Choir, directed by Henry N. Freeman. Secular and sacred music, ranging from the Renaissance to contemporary and African-American spirituals, will encompass the program. Incidental soloist will be students Miss Sandra Lawson, Miss Farlene Bradley, Miss Carolyn Richmond and Larry Goins.

The public is invited to the concert and all the events of the week without admission charge. Concert time is 8 p.m. in the Tawes Student Center.

Festival events include: Wed. May 3 — 1 p.m. African Vibrations, with Mrs. S. Plummer; The Poets Hour, 2 p.m. with Mrs. Mary Carter Smith Mesames Lucille Clifton and Nellie Moore and The Children's Theatre Workshop of Baltimore and Mini Concert' by Coppin Dancers on the lawn at 3 p.m.

On May 4 Roosevelt Newsom Jr. pianist will appear in concert at 10 a.m.; Coppin Players in two one-act plays at 11 a.m. and at 8 p.m. Ellen Kiesjein and Maurice Murphy, pianists, with Ruffie London, clarinetist are playing in concert at 2 p.m.

On May 5, the Mini Troupe of Towson State College performs at 10 a.m.; Mrs. Flossie Desmond, dean of Arts and Sciences is showing European slides, followed by the Coppin Lab Band in "Soul Vibrations" at 11 a.m.

Norbart-Dubuisson Johnson lectures on folkloric arts and the Vodoun religion of Haiti at 1 p.m. and recital by Laurette Young, soprano at 2 p.m. The May Festival will be held on the lawn the same afternoon.

Fine Arts State College musicians are participating in the Third International University Choral Festival at Kennedy Center and Lincoln Center. The Festival began April 15th and will continue through Sunday.

BALTIMORE'S OWN Miss Veronica Tyler will be the guest soloist with the Baltimore Symphony on Friday, May 5 in Murphy Auditorium, Morgan State College.

Dr. Eugene T. Simpson, chairman of the Department of Music at Bowie, is one of the choral conductors at the sessions. The quartet of singers from Bowie is one of 15 similar quartets chosen from universities throughout the nation to make up a chorus of 60 representing the United States.

The quartet from Bowie State includes Miss Brenda Ellis, soprano, Miss Blanche Foreman, mezzo-soprano, Lawrence Sherman, tenor, and Nobuo Atari, bass.

Miss Ellis is a junior at Bowie State, majoring in voice as a student of Dr. Simpson. Her home is in Sutherland, Virginia.

Miss Foreman, a native of Norfolk, Va. is a music teacher in Baltimore and has also studied vocie with Dr. Simpson. She has been guest soloist at Bowie State, Mannes School of Music in New York, and with the Baroque Choir of New York and the Washington Choral Society.

Lawrence Sherman is a sophomore at Bowie majoring in Speech and Theatre. Born in New York City, he now resides in Lothian, Md. and has studied voice and piano with Dr. Simpson.

Nobuo Atari, from Tokyo, now residing in Washington, is a sophomore voice major, student of Dr. Simpson and also a piano student of Mrs. Kathie Johnson.

The ages of the students range from 19 to 26.

TOGETHER AGAIN—Sidney Poitier (Buck) and Ruby Dee (Ruth) are reunited in "Buck and the Preacher", to be released late his month. The two talented artists appeared together in "A Raisin in the Sun," three years ago. Ruby plays Poitier's woman in drama based on the turbulent post-Civil War days when whites sought to keep blacks in the South as a source of cheap labor.

Cooking greens top vegetable bargains

It is getting more exciting to go grocery shopping now that spring is making its way into the produce section of the stores.

Asparagus is the vegetable that ushers in spring. The supply is coming from California where April is the peak harvest month. Only about 30 percent of the total California crop comes to us in fresh form. The large portion of the crop is purchased by processors from freezing and canning.

California crop ten percent larger than last year has been slowed by cool weather. You may purchase asparagus by the bunch or by the pound. As you select stalks look for tightly closed tip ends and stalks that are green far down to avoid waste from thick woody ends.

Fresh asparagus cooked until just tender and seasoned with lemon butter is a real spring tonic to meals.

Cooking greens are in good supply. Those suggested are collards, mustard, rep and kale. Sp22inch is coming from Texas. Greens today often come packed in film bags and are pre-washed. Look for good green color for the particular kind of green and for leaves with a fresh crisp appearance.

We can expect lettuce supplies to be a little heavier in April, mostly from California and Arizona. Prices should be more favorable to consumers but there is still need to check quality to get the best lettuce buy.

A very solid head may be over mature and will not yield nice large leaves for lettuce cups for salads, however, if you chop the lettuce the solid head will yield many more servings. Escarole and endive crops in Florida are two percent above last year. A variety in salad greens makes for more interesting meals.

There are economies to be found in new cabbage, carrots, yellows onions and white potatoes. These staple vegetables keep well and may be stored easily for use when needed.

The more costly vegetables include vine ripened tomatoes, cucumbers and green peppers. Spring cauliflower prices are edging upward.

• • •

The best fruit buys are grapefruit, small oranges, and bananas. Apples are coming from cold storage and prices higher than last fall. April brings us spring treats like fresh pineapple, strawberries and hot house rhubarb. Table grapes, honeydew melons and watermelon are available at higher price tags. Canned applesauce pears and peaches are economical fruit choices.

If you are looking for meat bargains watch for specials on beef, pork, lamb, fryer chickens and turkeys. This is the season for Chesapeake shad to start being marketed. Small rock fish, frozen ocean perch fillets and fish sticks are suggested as reasonably priced meat alternates.

Celery Seed Dressing is made with one teaspoon celery seed, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon onion salt, and one teaspoon paprika. One teaspoon dry mustard, one-fourth cup vinegar, one cup salad oil, and one teaspoon paprika.

Put celery seed, sugar, onion salt, paprika and dry mustard in small mixing bowl. Add alternately one tablespoon vinegar and one-fourth cup oil until vinegar and oil are used up, beating hard after each addition.

Continue beating for five minutes or until dressing thickens. Serve on fruit salad, avocado salad, sliced tomatoes or use on head lettuce.

Makes about one and a half cups.

PLANS ARE BEING wrapped up for the Golden Banquet and Ball which will mark the 50th anniversary of the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority on May 5, at Eastwind. Baltimore Moles feted in Washington

The Baltimore Chapter of The Moles celebrated its 13th anniversary recently in the National Capital. The Baltimore Moles, husbands of Moles, saluted the group with an afternoon of fun.

First arriving at the John F. Kennedy Center for dinner and a play, followed by a party in the Chevy Chase home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stubbs.

Good music, dancing, chatter-chatting, a buffet repass and charming company filled the evening and early morning.

One of the more affluent touches of the affair was toasting the Moles with champagne. Mrs. Louise Lockerman, president of Baltimore Moles, received fond farewell as she is to leave this week for Paris.

Among those in attendance were Bertha and Allen Forte, Helen Queen, Bernice and Eddie McDaniels, Florence Bailey, Blanche and Paul Beckham;

Emma and Glenford Dudley, Helena and Alonzo Harriston, Ellen Howard, Margaret and Louise Lockerman, Mary and Thomas McPherson, Annabel and Marsden Rawlings, Harriet and Herbert Trader; Anethia and Roland Williams, Bea and Dave Wright, Geraldine Coleman and Bea Smith. D.C. Moles who were guests.

This anniversary celebration was a way for the Moles to live up to their motto "Enjoy Yourself, It's Later Than You Think."
