Aberdeen coed named to school prom court

ABERDEEN, Md. — Miss Sharion V. Johnson, 17, was selected as the only black representative on the Aberdeen High School's court for the senior prom on May 20.

Seven other girls were selected for the positions on the court. From among the eight students one will be chosen as queen of the prom in an election to be held next week.

Black students had told the AFRO there would be "there will be no prom or court at all."

It is still possible to have a black queen of the prom as students must choose from the eight girls.

Dr. Bard named consultant

By DR. SIDNEY KOBRE

President Harry Bard, of the Community College of Baltimore, has been appointed chief consultant to the Hostos Community College in New York.

The college, located in the South Bronx, is made up of minority groups, mainly Puerto Rican and black students.

Hostos is the only bi-lingual community college on the American mainland, with Spanish and English spoken in many classes.

The announcement of the appointment came officially from Dr. Robert Kirkwood, executive secretary of the Middle States Associations of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which assists colleges to develop high educational standards.

The association also grants accreditation after reviewing the policies, programs and instruction at the colleges.

Dr. Kirkwood said Dr. Bard was selected because of his excellent record in developing BCC as an institution which recognizes its urban responsibilities and which has brought new hope to minority citizens.

CCB was selected a few years ago as a model case study college, so that educators throughout the United States could observe how CCB moved in the direction of seeking minority students and then helping them to prepare for obtaining and advancing in rewarding positions in business and industry, government service and teaching, as well as in the professions.

CCB also provides liberal arts and pre-profession programs for many students so they may transfer their credits to the third year of four-year universities and colleges.

As a consultant, Dr. Bard will visit Hostos Community College to review their policies, instructional programs and facilities.

He will be able to make recommendations based on his 13-year experience at the college where many minority students—both teenagers and adults, are enrolled in day, evening and summer classes.

Mr. Dobson is survived by his wife of 29 years, Mrs. Henry Mae Mason Dobson; three sons, Thomas J. Jr. of Oakland, Calif., Lt. Hugh Dobson, Mannheim, Germany and Eugene Johnson of Wilmington, Del.; daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Dobson; sister, Mrs. Ruby Houston, Miami, Fla.; brother, Leonard Dobson, Miami, Fla.; grandchildren, Donna Elizabeth Dobson, Tyrone, Ricky and LaTanya Johnson.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR REP. MITCHELL

Anyone wishing to volunteer to help the campaign to reelect Congressman Mitchell may call 728-3400, paign headquarters.

Rep. Dellum wants Mitchell

A California Congressman has endorsed the candidacy of Parren J. Mitchell (D., 7th) and appealed to voters of the Maryland Seventh Congressional district to vote him back to Congress.

Addressing students of the Johns Hopkins University Wedensday night, Representative Roland V. Dellums (D. Calif.) paused in the middle of his speech and told his audience:

"I give my unconditional endorsement to Brother Mitchell. I ask you, I beg you, I challenge you to return the brother back to Congress."

Rep. Dellums stated Mitchell is a man of integrity and has "the integrity of his convictions." He stated Mr. Mitchell takes his cues from the people and not the politicians.

SOMEONE TO BELIEVE IN

What George Russell Believes in . . .

"I run for Congress because of the problems I find: for example, the sense of anguish about our schools, the lives of young people ruined by drug addiction. These are not black problems or white problems. They are national problems and we must all face them together — without friction and without fear."

"We must look to common concerns. We must reorder priorities and give first attention to solving the human problems.."

"Whites must make an all-out effort to see, touch, smell the problem as it appears to the black imprisoned in a slum, to feel in their bones the sense of hopelessness, defeat and despair that comes from being sentenced to lifetime imprisonment."

"The nation struggles with Vietnam, and the cities fight for survival. Peace on the streets, the quality of life we all lead — these are the stakes in the years ahead."

"The only real prevention of violence, the only real law and order, will emanate from equal participation in society, and not from the power of its police."

"If we . . . fail to act now . . . the ultimate tragedy of our times will not be the brutality of the bad people, but the silence of the good people."

"My son, who is only a little boy of six, may have a life in this country which will take him far into the next century. What kind of life this young boy and other children like him will have in America is really what my campaign is all about."

Why People Believe in George Russell . . .

When George L. Russell, Jr. was appointed city solicitor on January 2, 1968, he assumed the highest municipal office ever held by a black man in Baltimore. In accepting the position he gave up the prestigious post of Associate Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City. He had been the first black man in Maryland's history to serve at the Circuit Court Level. Lawyer, family man, public servant, advocate of minority causes, member of nearly 30 civic and professional organizations, George Russell has made an impact on our community that few leaders, white or black, can match.

Because of George Russell
your home is protected against illegal search and seizure.

Because of George Russell
every job holder in Baltimore is guaranteed a higher minimum wage.

Because of George Russell
municipal employees have at last secured the right to collective bargaining.

Because of George Russell
teachers in Baltimore City now benefit from a health and welfare fund.

Because of George Russell
and many other dedicated leaders we now have Provident Hospital.

Because of George Russell
the people of the 7th Congressional District will have in congress — someone to believe in.
