WSCS honors two for church services

Two women who have made outstanding contributions, both to Unity United Methodist Church and to the Women's Society for Christian Service of that church, were cited when the Society held its "Ladies of the Year" luncheon, Saturday afternoon.

The honorees were Mrs. Levi (Mamie Bruce) Miller, wife of the pastor of the church; and Mrs. James (Natalie Watts) Hurtt, a long time employee of the Baltimore City School System, and president of Unity's W.S.C.S.

For 15 years, Mrs. Miller has been a speech therapist in the city school system. The mother of four children, and grandmother of eight, in addition to wide service in the church, Mrs. Miller has consatntly augmented her education and at present has completed academic requirements for a doctorate degree in education. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, travelling and reading.

Members of W.S.C.S. fondly say Mrs. Hurtt is a "hard task master," but admit they are inordinately proud of the Society's accomplishments under her leadership.

Mrs. Hurtt, they say, keeps them going from one project to another, but never fails to give them a pat on the back when they have done well. They also point to the wide scope of her endeavors, among which they list financial aid to college students as well as to the sick, the shut-in and the bereaved. She was cited for "patience, understanding, intelligence and love."

Mrs. Hurtt has been a member of Unity Church since 1938. She serves on the Usher Board and sings with the Women's Chorus. She is the mother of two sons and the grandmother of seven.

Mrs. Hurtt is on the dietitian staff of Douglass High School; is a member of the Eastern Star and the Saratoga Neighborhood Club.

The honorees were presented by Mrs. Lavenia Gross and Mrs. Alyce Miller.

The hostesses provided an interesting program of entertainment for their guests. Travis Winkey, dancer, performed for the audience. A fashion show was presented by Miss Reba and Mrs. Paula Williams, by Models Foris Woodhous, Theresa Henson, Ethel Green and Clarice Wilkerson. Miss Barbara Parker was narrator. Mrs. Emma Lawson sang. Accompanist for soloist, readers, and models was John Miller, pianist, and a teacher of music in city schools.

The hostesses also dispersed a number of door pries, the first of which went to the assistant pastor of Unity Church, the Rev. Miss Kathleen Kachonow. Miss Kathleen Kachonow. The prize was a beautiful umbrella.

Guests at the luncheon were:

Mesdames Ollie Cunningham, Leola Moore, Marion Dawkins, Rosie Holly, Janie Blackmore, Elroy House, Amanda Waters, Emma Hicks, Joseph Henley, Rea Toney, Clara Lanem, Martha Crawford, Mary Adams,

Mesdames Martha Crawford, Daisy Anderson, Rena Taylor, Cornelia Cummings, Hannah Brown, Lulastine Brown, Lavinia Gross, Katheleen Newsome, Irene Dodson, Georgiana Phillips, Lena K. Lee, Jewell Rawlings, Dorothy Wise, Ada L. Knox, Valerie Miller, Lula Mackay,

Selective shopping holds down budget

By VIRGINIA L. McLUCKIE
food economist

For the average shopper the increase in food prices has been evident for some time in the weekly outlay for food.

There is no one solution that can be offered as a way of saving money for every family.

Holding down the food bill requires careful planning and spending more time shopping to compare prices before making selections. Compare price differences between the various forms of foods, such as fresh, canned or frozen.

Use Unit Pricing to compare per pound or per quart for much used items. You can easily use this system to compare prices between different brands of the same product as well as the cost of the product in different sized containers. Choose the brand and size pack that offers you savings and at the same time serves your needs and family preferences.

While most of our interest in the food market centers on products' characteristics and choice among products, it is good to look at the markets from time to time. The supermarket is one of the most specialized institutions in our economy. The notion of low prices is the central theme in the relation between the supermarket and the consumer.

Consumer specialist give prices as the most important issue in food. Chain store marketing specialist also attest to the high priority of prices in competition with other supermarkets in food advertising. This is a bit strange, because, different supermarkets are rarely distinguishable on the basis of price levels, and studies show consumer's purchasing habits place priority on many other things than lowest prices. Today's shopper has greater purchasing power and becomes interested in many qualitative aspects. She wants convenience, variety, status of products as well as economy.

The operation of the supermarket is becoming more standardized. The likelihood is remote that one would have significantly different prices or costs or profits than another. Having an opportunity to juggle prices on several thousand items, the competitive pricing strategy can keep you guessing, but price levels are very similar in competing supermarkets in the same part of town.

All food retailers have specials. Retailers achieve an amazing standarization on how much they can give away in special prices since profit margins amount to about one percent of sales. The average shopper is attracted by the "on special" promotion, then buys enough other things to make up for the bargains she got, otherwise the specials would not work.

Shopping from store to store for specials for family meals can give bargains to consumers who are sufficiently interested to do their homework than shop around.

Seasonal buy suggestions of plentiful foods are milk and Dairy products, and Grade A Eggs, white potatoes, canned apple sauce, canned pears, grapefruit and oranges.

Old Mistresses on view at Walter's Gallery

A lecture tour of the Walters Art Gallery's current exhibition, "Old Mistresses: Women Artists of the Past," will be held on Tuesday, May 9, at noon. The exhibit extends through June 18.

Members of the gallery's education department will conduct the tour of the show, which offers one of the first comprehensive surveys of woman's contribution to the visual arts over the centuries.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.

The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients in New York City, Washington, D.C. and at a Middle Medical Center reported similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H®.

Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense.

There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.
