Mother's Day Tribute

PALMER — A Mother's Day Tribute to our mother, MARTHA PALMER, while she is with us:

WHILE SHE IS STILL WITH US

God made lots of beautiful things;
Sunset and roses, and trees,
Birds, and starlight and loyal friends;
And, after He made all these,
He gave to the earth a gift more rare.
More loving and more true,
Of all God's gifts, the one most rare,
A Mother as dear as you.

people, there would be 115 black troopers not 11, 15 black officers not 1, and 156 black employees not 52.

* * *

Reasons for this situation, the Commission said, are:

1) "Traditionally the State Police has projected an image of an all-white establishment" which "acts as a deterrent to members of the minority community to consider such an agency as a possible place for employment, and hinders the agency in its recruiting efforts."

2) "In the (application) test given by the State Department of Personnel, a much greater proportion of Blacks fail the test than do whites." No proof is given to show the test is not culturally biased against black applicants.

(3) "The entire employment system from the initial recruitment stage through the final selection is a highly subjective one." Tests for promotion are made by the police not by the Department of Personnel. 55 per cent of the consideration for promotion is made by a committee of white officers and by seniority points.

"The fact that only one black man has ever been promoted beyond the entry level position of trooper is sufficient to raise considerable questions about (promotion) procedures."

The Commission, which does not have the power to order changes in state agencies, recommends expanded recruitment of black men by black recruiters, complete revision of hiring and promotion practices, and amaintenance of records showing how black workers fare in hiring and promotion decisions.

Edwin Tully, deputy secretary of the Department of Public Safety and Correction Services, told the AFRO on Wednesday he has not received the report.

He said the police have stepped up black recruitment by sending letters to "their " high schools and colleges, making recruitment appearances there, and advertising with an emphasis on black applicants.

These practices, he said, have improved the number of black applicants and he is willing to try any suggested means of recruiting blacks that does not lower the police's qualification standards.

escalation move is a threat against North Vietnam and her allies and affects other independent nations trading with Hanoi.

Seeing the blockade as belligerent, he noted "It is ironical that the President should refer to honor in his announcement. There has been no honor for the US in Vietnam. Its victims have been Americans and Vietnamese people."

nity into believing that I endorse and support the candidacy of Marshall Levin in his effort to win a full term on the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City.

"It is the kind of maneuver which one would expect from a parochial politician but not from a judicial officer on the City's highest court.

I, of course, could not and have not endorsed Judge Levin's candidacy in any way. Further I have not at anytime given Judge Levin or anyone else permission to use my picture in any advertisement.

* * *

The picture which appeared in the AFRO was taken the day Judge Levin was sworn-in some six months ago when he asked to share my Bench to gain experience in presiding over criminal cases.

Judge Levin knows that his ad makes it appear that I am in violation of Canon cheap (trick designed to mislead the black community. XXVII of Maryland Rule 1231 involving Judicial Ethics. It is an attempt to do my picture what the Canons of Ethics prohibit in print.

Had I published this same ad with a photograph of Mr. Archie Williams and myself, the Sunpapers would ask the Baltimore City Bar Association to take disciplinary action against me and Chief Judge Dulaney Foster would ask the Administrative Judges to employ sanctions immediately.

But blacks are fair game, exceptions to the rules and, therefore, almost any deception or devious scheme designed to mislead us, whether illegal or not, is not overlooked.

This sophisticated form of racism, which pervades all levels and all phases of our system of justice, is one of the major reasons why more and more blacks have less and less confidence in the courts and the institutions surround and support them.

(Ed's Note: After receiving the above statement from Judge Howard, the AFRO received the following statement from Benjamin L. Brown, president, Monumental City Bar Association:

"We fell that the use of Judge Howard's picture in the political advertisement which appeared in Tuesday's AFRO, which was placed in the AFRO by Judge Levin without the authority of Judge Howard, is a violation of the Cannons of Judicial Ethics. The obvious attempt was to infer that Judge Levin has Judge Howard's endorsement.

"When Judge Howard made a statement regarding the 7th district congressional race many organizations and persons in the legal profession felt that he should be sanctioned for his actions and statements.

"We wonder if they will look upon this action by Judge Levin in the same light. I am sure that had Judge Howard appeared in a political as for Archie D. Williams, who is running for the position of Associated Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City, the bench and bar would have agains requested that he be sanctioned for his actions." 1:55 new dialogue, one that will get things done for all the people of the Seventh Congressional District."

He told the audience his proposed advisory committee would seek "to make sure the dreams we share can become realities."

Noting the great efforts put forth to improve relations with the Peoples Republic of China, Russell told his listeners, "I suggest the President take steps to bring racial peace to this nation....

"The time has come for the head of this government to use the full weight of his office to come to grips with the problems of understanding through a National White House Conference on Race Relations."

Russell said he envisioned the conference being paid for by the government, "which would open the areas of dialogue for politics, housing, employment, responsibility and governmental participation."

Timed to come in the closings days of the campaign, the Russell fund-raiser attracted a cross section of supporters but was not so spectacular as events sponsored for his unsuccessful mayor's race.

* * *

Others appearing on the program for Russell included Comptroller Hyman A. Pressman, State Senators Verda F. Welcome (D-4th) and Julian Lapides (D.2nd.) Earl Banks Pinkney Howell, Councilmen Clarence Burns (D.-2nd.) and Robert L. Douglass (D.2nd) and Charles Tildon.

The integrated crowd was attentive during Russell's address and gave him its biggest response near the end when he quoted from the Black National Anthem.

What the Russell Testimonial lacked in enthusiasm Wednesday, night, those who paid $50 per ticket for admission made it up in signs of outward prosperity. They were really laid out!

Although the celebration Wednesday could compare in size and number with other Russell dinners held for the same purpose, the throngs just weren't turned on.

Applause and cheers were few in number.

Food was plentiful and so was the rhetoric.

Other politicians on hand included Councilwoman Victorine Q. Adams (d.-4th) State Senator Robert Dalton (D.-2nd).

Except for the candidate's remarks, Mrs. Welcome's comments drew most applause. Looking out at the audience, she said:

"You really are beautiful. You look like salt and pepper. And I like plenty of salt and pepper."

istration.

Introducing himself as a councilman voted in by an overwhelming majority, Dr. Julian first accused Mayor Schaefer of deliberately not giving the Italian-supported City Council bills a hearing in the Board of Estimates.

The bills are: 1) to put a ceiling on moneys for decorating public buildings, 2) to give city jobs only to city residents and 3) to make all department heads city residents.

He then complained the Mayor-appointed education liaison man lived in the county. The Mayor, he contered asking Dr. Julian if he had any compliants about having a black appointee working with the Mayor.

Dr. Julian said the reason this person was chosen "because he supported you when you ran for mayor."

Mayor Schaefer was "utterly amazed" at that accusation. Later he did say the liaison worker supported him but as well qualified to work in the education field.

* * *

An informal count of the 34 citizens speaking to the Board at the Tuesday hearing shows 17 were against the tax increase, 12 wanted the education budget restored and 5 wanted the Community College of Baltimore budget maintained.

Oneo f the most-striking pleas before the Board was made by Jessie Alvarma, a naturalized American from Italy.

He asked for city jobs for city city people and complained about how county residents abuse the city by getting city services like garbage disposal at cheap rates.

He compared the small property tax proposed increase in surrounding counties to the one of over $70 proposed for the city and asked, "How far can you crucify property owners?"

more than $51 while Russell lists 84 persons who have given in personal donations, contributions, made loans to him, or purchased $50 tickets to his fund raising affairs.

According to Mr. Russell's report, as of May 4 persons have given or sell's report,as of May 4, 4 persons have given or loaned him $2,000 or more. With a $5,000 loan from Henry G. Parks and a $1-900 loan from his treasurer Jerusa T. Wilson, topping the loan category.

Russell also reports $1-000 individual contributions from three white men. Seven persons gave him $500 each and two persons purchased fund - raising tickets worth $500 from his organization. The other Russell backers gave him $100 to $400 for his campaign.

* * *

On the other hand Mr. Mitchell's highest individual contribution was $350. Also absent from the Mitchell report a

Fees for political "teas and coffees" or to political organizations for "secretarial services, office, travel," etc. which often disguise the passing of "walk-around money."

While the Russell report shows expenditures of $5-000, $2,100 and $2,500 to political organizations for secretarial services etc, and a smaller amount for political "coffees."

See the Tuesday's AFRO, on Primary Day, for a detail disclosure of the identity of campaign supporters in the 7th Congressional race.

Two relationship board commissioners resign

Two commissioners of the state Human Relations Commission (HRC) including one black commissioner have resigned, Chairman George Solter announced at the monthly meeting of the Commission on Tuesday.

Mr. Solter said Douglas Allen from the Eastern Shore and William Dulaney from Carroll County both submitted their resignation to Governor last fall.

He said they agreed to hold their post until the Armco Steel Corporation case was closed.

Mr. Dulaney, said Mr. Soltar, was forced to devote more time to his law practice while Mr. Allen had accepted another position in Cambridge.

Commissioner Soltar said he expected too meet with the Governor to choose replacements from the districts represented by the departing commissioners.

Commissioner Sampson Green toldd the AFRO the Governor is expected to pick another tack commissioner from the Eastern Shore to maaintain the ethnic composition of the Commission.

-Orlinsky

said Mr. Orlinsky before Wednesday's Board of Estimates meeting released to newsmen a copy of a fundraising letter allegedly signed by Mr. Rouse.

Mr. Orlinsky, at one point, did tell the AFRO the letter was only some piece of paper he picked up off the floor.

Then he said he sent no letter to anyone, particularly not to the reporter who wrote the daily paper's article.

-Rap Brown

of a Harlem tavern last summer.

Deputy Maryland Attorney General Edward F. Borgdering stated the defense's request was an effort to remove Mr. Brown from the New York jurisdiction.

He also accused Mr. Kunstler of attempting to involve the Maryland trial here in "months and months and months of legal maneuvering".

Blount (D.5) gave the keynote address on "Youth in the Political Process."

Other youth officials were, Kevin Dooley, Cardinal Gibbons, comptroller; Eric Mitchell, Mergenthaler, vice president of the Council; Miss Paula Partee, Douglass, chairman, Pre-Legislative Session; Joseph Cassidy, Cardinal Gibbons, chairman, protem.

Also, Miss Janette McNeil, Douglass, Council Clerk; Duane Hawkins, Douglass, parliamentarian; Mike Clanton, Morgan State, sergeant-at-arms; and Miss Darlene Ross, Dunbar, city solicitor.

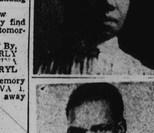
As I walk through life alone.
Loving Wife, SARAH

WILLIAMS — In loving memory of my dear mother and loved one, MARY V. WILLIAMS, who passed away May 13th, 1960:
Loving memories, never die
As years roll on and days go
In our hearts a memory is kept
Of the mother we loved;
And will never forget.
Devoted Daughter, FLORENCE WILSON and FAMILY

POULSON — In loving memory of my husband and our father, THEOPHILUS A. POULSON SR., who passed away May 14, 1962:
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
WIFE and CHILDREN



PARKER — In loving memory of my dear niece, LOUISE (SINGLETON) PARKER, who passed away May 8, 1967:
You'll never know how much We've missed you
How much we always cared,
Our lives will never be the same
Without you around to share.
