STUDENT CHIEF

George A. Pruitt new Morgan Dean

"I have always wanted to work at a black college with the caliber of Morgan and under the leadership of someone like King Cheek. He presented me with an opportunity I couldn't turn down . . . I first met Dr. Cheek about two years ago at a conference at Penn State University."

Morgan's new dean of students, George Pruitt, the out-going dean of students at Towson State College, was recounting his reasons for accepting the new move effective July 1.

The 25-year old Mr. Pruitt will succeed George Taliaferro. Mr. Taliaferro resigned the position earlier last year to become special assistant to the president of the University of Indiana.

A graduate of Illinois State University where he received both the B.S. and M.S. degrees, and a native of Canton, Miss., Mr. Pruitt becomes the third dean of students at Morgan State since the post was established in 1966.

He founded the Black Student Association while an undergraduate at Illinois State University, and formerly was assistant to the vice president and dean of facilities at Illinois State in 1968-69.

He was director of the University's High Potential Students program in 1969-70 before joining the Towson State administrative staff as associative dean of students in 1970.

He is unmarried.

In his post the new dean will supervise and coordinate all non-academic student services and activities.

Under his direct supervision will be the college's counseling center, offices of the associate deans for men and women, student housing, health services, financial aid, placement and student activities.

"A youthful and dynamic educator, Mr. Pruitt comes to Morgan with an excellent academic and experience background in student personnel services," President Cheek said.

'Like his predecessor, Mr. Taliaferro, he possesses a set of personal and acadmic qualifications that should make him a valuable member of the Morgan State College family.

"He joins the Morgan community when colleges all over the country are still seeking effective ways of coming to grips with the problems and concerns of the current generation of college students. We look forward to the contribution he can make to the resolutions of those concerns and problems at Morgan."

Dr. E. Worthington Water was the first dean of students. He resigned in 1970 to take a position with the Maryland State Department of Education where he remained until his death from a heart attack last year.

Mr. Taliaferro succeeded Dr. Water in 1970.

He will enter Indiana University in August on a fellowship to do graduate work in mass communications.

Said Clay, "I am the last of five children to have graduated from Morgan." A brother, Luther James Perry Jr., a history major finished in 1966; a sister, Mrs. Yolande Perry Marlow, Class of 1967 was a sociology major.

Another brother, Acres Ricardo Perry, class of 1969, majored in political science; and Len Sherwood Perry, class of 1971, majored in economics and is now attending the Catholic University School of Law.

The family lives at 2406 Southern Ave., near the Morgan campus. Mr. Perry Sr. is a foreman at A and P Bakery on Franklintown Rd.

President Cheek will preside over a busy round of commencement activities, beginning with the ROTC Commissioning Ceremonies in the auditorium of Carl Murphy Fine Arts Center Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

According to Col. Clarence M. Hurtt, head of the Morgan military science department, some twenty Morgan ROTC cadets will be commissioned with second lieutenant's ranks at the ceremonies.

Brig. Gen. Oliver W. Dillard of the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, U.S. Army, will be the guest speaker.

Immediately following the ROTC event, at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, the President's "At-Home-For-Seniors" affair, hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Cheek, will be held in the upper lounge of Truth House on the campus.

President and Mrs. Cheek will greet the graduates and their parents, friends and guests, as well as faculty, alumni and friends of the College.

them on the jury.

In his unsuccessful attempt to be allowed to call witnesses on the racism factor, Mr. West told the judge the troubles of Private Drewery started in an isolated U.S. Army post in southern Germany.

He said resentment by white soldiers of black soldiers dating German girls grew hotter and hotter in the summer of 1970 until one night the defendant spotted a large burning cross and 40 white soldiers gathered on Army property.

Mr. West said the camp's 50 black soldiers (out of 1,000 man total) were unable to get help from post MP's and no white soldier was ever punished.

He said a month later a white soldier fired a gun at black soldiers who were helping a German girl, assaulted by a white soldier. When blacks the next day gathered around the post commander to air their fears, they were dispersed by military police and later charged with unlawful assembly.

Events got so bad, said Mr. West, Private (then Sp 4) Drewery tried to flee Germany and was caught, court-martialled, served 10 months in jail, and was to be dishonorably discharged from the Army.

The lawyer said the private's troubles started at Ft. Meade when the dishonorable discharge ruling was overturned and the p vate became eligible for a year's back pay.

Mr. West said the defendant was refused his pay by a Ft. Meade sergeant, was shuffled from one office to another and arrested by police on the charges of the current trial.
