AFRO INQUIRING REPORTER

AFRO readers think Nixon visit to Russia fruitful

The AFRO Inquiring Reporter stopped the man or woman on the street Wednesday to ask the following question:

What do you think about President Nixon's visit to Russia?

Of the 20 persons interviewed, 13 thought the trip had meaning; 5 said it was a waste of time and would have no meaning; and 2 had no positive ideas.

Here are the answers:

Fred Parker, 22, truck driver, 1204 H Court: I think it was a good idea that they should have done it a long time ago. I think they can get more accomplished having face-to-face conferences.

Henry Parker, 37, meat cutter, 2215 E. Chase St.: I think the trip was very fruitful especially the medicine program.

Mrs. Margaret Watkins, 25, beautician, 416 Avondale Rd.: I think it was an unnessary trip. I don't think we have really accomplished anything. He is wasting money.

Mrs. Anna Sparrow, 67, housekeeper, 911 N. Franklintowne Rd.: I think it was good. Maybe he can get some things straightened out.

Dennis Cardarelli, 27, salesman, Woodlawn: I think it is the greatest thing he could have done. Mining the harbors of North Vietnam did not stand in the way of relations between the United States and Russia.

George Riley, 61, long shoreman, 227 S. Fremont Ave.: I think it was a pretty good idea. It might stop the Viet war.

Marion Pinkney, 45, housewife, 2519 Round Rd.: I think it was too much publicity about it. I think it should have been kept a secret until he got back.

Rodney Gitting, 19, student, 800 Chauncy Ave.: I think it was fine. We never know when something is going to come back to us, so it is better that we stick together.

Earl Couch, 21, student, 3118 Mondawmin Ave.: I think it was a waste of time, he didn't solve anything. He went bootlicking the Russians because he was afraid of repercussions from Hal Ping.

Charles Kleiber, 51, cable splicer, Towson: I think it was a good thing, it got a lot accomplished.

Miss Cynthia Cureton, 19, telephone operator, 700 block 23rd St.: A very good idea, because Russia is suppose to be such a powerful country. I thought that it was time for someone to go over there to come to a mutual understanding.

Willie Roberta Gross, 45, checker, 3019 Arunah Ave.: I think it was a good opportunity for the two nations to get together and decide on their futures.

Dr. Ivens LeFlore, 29, surgeon, 7200 Campfield Rd.: I think it was good. The world needs more peaceful relationships.

James Earl, 32, stevedore, 1813 Maddison St.: I don't see where he really benefited anything. He might have made a little progress as far as bringing us a little close together.

George Brown, 20, cashier, 501 George St.: If we can communicate with them and get Russia to break down some of its barriers, I think it was good.

Leon M. Robinson II, 23, stock room worker, 7 S. Clifton St.: I think he made some peace arrangements on his trip to Russia, he made more progress than he had made before he left.

Michael Taylor, 21, salesman, 2602 Springhill Rd.: I don't think it did any good. The only thing I was interested in was the war. They should have concentrated more on the war.

Sidney Dorsey, 39, construction worker, 2109 St. Paul St.: He might have accomplished something. If it can do anything to stop the war in Vietnam I think it was okay.

Gilbert Evans, 42, construction worker, 2109 St. Paul St.: I don't know what we are going to get out of it, but I hope we get some men out of Namn.

Miss Sheila Thompson, 26, mental health technician, Roslyn Ave.: I am kind of disinterested, because we have to much going on here. I think a trip to North Vietnam would have served a better purpose, because until the war is over, improvement that we need here cannot be financed, and seem not to merit enough attention — J. A. G.

They quote Mr. Nichols as saying Mr. Green chased and shot at him.

Homicide police told the AFRO Tuesday the suspect is being held in the City Jail without bail.

Mrs. Williams is quoted by police as saying she became involved in an argument with the suspect, her boyfriend, Mr. Green in their apartment shortly before 11:30 p.m. night.

Their report quotes her as saying the suspect beat her and dragged her down the stairs and left the house.

Mrs. Williams told police Mr. Green later returned and took away with him a pistol.

department's administrative supervisor, told the AFRO she does not recall any black professional ever applying for an examiner position.

She noted there are black employees: six secretaries and three janitors.

Forensic pathology, she said, requires five years special training after a young doctor finishes medical school and the profession does not pay well compared to other medical professions.

Miss Hartel remarked the department sometimes has trouble holding onto its white examiners because hospitals pay their pathologists three times the department's salaries.

Landlord fined $150, warned for violations

For failing to repair a leaking pipe-line and a sink, a Northwest Baltimore landlord was fined $150 in the Housing Court Tuesday.

In addition, Jeffery Levitt, 2000 block Park Heights, had $450 suspended fine in three different housing violation cases.

Judge Solomon Baylor warned the landlord he was suspending $150 fine on his property in the 2100 block Guilford Ave., on condition that he complied with the Court's order for repairs within seven days.

He also suspended $300 fine each on Mr. Levitt's properties in the 1500 block Maple Ave., and 4900 block Edgemere Ave., on conditions that no violations on each of these houses are brought before the court within six months.

The violations totaling about 20 in all the four houses include broken pavements, defective ceilings, defective paintings, leaking pipe-lines, broken sinks and defective plaster.

The court found the defendant guilty in all cases.

Judge Baylor warned Mr. Levitt the court will deal mercilessly with him if he failed to comply with the court's order.

In his defense, Mr. Levitt said he was doing his best to repair the defects.

He stated defects in the properties in the 1500 block Maple Ave., and 4900 block Edgemere Ave., have been Garbis paid $35 in court fine and was placed under probation for violations on his property in the 5100 block St. Gjorge's Ave.

The prosecution told the court 13 violations were detected on inspection of the property April 6, 1972. However, a second inspection on April 26 revealed the defendant had failed to comply with the court's notice for repairs.

Mr. Garbis who appeared on behalf of Harold Everline, in whose name the summons was issued, told the court on of Tuesday about 95 per cent of the defects have been repaired.

Hall.

Dr. Farber told the AFRO, "Mr. Hankins is not in a position to make his accusation. He has heard only one side of the story, that of Conaway's camp who still don't like her (Miss Wilzack) and are stirring up trouble."

He added she has been doing a "very good job over the last three months" and he will probably make her permanent director if she passed a Civil Service exam taken recently.

As to the exam, David Glenn, director of the Community Relations Commission, told the AFRO he had asked Dr. Farber to make the exam open to anyone in the city qualified to take it but Dr. Farber refused and limited the exam to Home Services employees.

Mr. Hankins said he believes only one other person took the exam.

Miss Wilzack told the AFRO the petition for her resignation has never been brought to her personally by the staff.

She remarked "I've worked hard and I'm kind of shocked."

Council seeks black members on State Board

The Council of Black School Board Members today called on Governor Mandel to appoint two black persons to the State Board of Education to fill two vacancies which will occur this year.

The Council said it is "concerned" that there is only one black on the state policy-making level.

It added: "We feel that more enlightened people should be appointed to the State Department of Education Board to give direction and emphasis to correct this injustice."

James M. Griffin, president of the Council, told the AFRO the group feels that there is a need for "more progressive thinkers" on the State Board of Education, "who would be concerned with the needs of the minority population as well as the majority."

The Council told the governor it stood ready to recommend names of black persons who could be appointed to the State Board.

And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.
