No Name Club members, in the second of the two affairs planned to entertain their wives, perked off to New York last weekend for a fling, arranged by the Mondawmin Travel Service.

They took a bus early Saturday morning so that the girls could do their own thing, which was, of course, mostly shopping. They saw the "Follies," stayed overnight at the New York Hilton, and returned to Baltimore early Sunday.

Along went Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Umphery, Herbert Brown, Wilfred Seaborne, Baltimore Simpson, James Persons, Wilbur Valentine, Isaiah White, Donald Patterson, William West, Walter Dyson.

Also Messrs. and Mesdames Clement Nixon, John Cothorn, Maurice Owens, Miles Harrison, Milton Dugger, and Sherlock Grinage. A quartet of guests who went along were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blackwell, Mrs. Anita and Mrs. Juanita Harris.

On Saturday, members of the For-Win-Ash Garden Club cruised to St. Michaels, Md. on the Port Welcome, on a party that honored members who have recently retired from various positions and professions.

In addition to the delectable food, there were cards and conversation, and music by the Rivers Chambers Combo. George Harding, a former member of the group, did a bit of chirping to the delight of the party guests.

They landed at St. Michaels, where they had dinner in the recreation center, and they visited the crab house for seafoods. Many went shopping, and a few turned to the beautiful little church for a moment of meditation.

Note: Mid-moreans on the cruise were Miss Lillie Bowen, Mrs. Gloria Bruce, Miss Dominique Bruce, David Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bruce, Miss Jenifer Bruce, Victor Gordon, of New York City.

Miss Dorothy Smith of Washington, Mrs. Ethel Bennett of Philadelphia and Mrs. Doris Banks of Indiana.

The For-Win-Ash members are Dr. and Mrs. Cyril Ashby, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Banfield, Mrs. Naomi Caper, Mrs. Olga Chambers, Mrs. Ethel Cox.

Provident Hospital's Head Nurses Supervisors Organization sponsored a raffle recently in the hospital auditorium. The purpose of the raffle was to raise money to send two nurses from the organization to San Francisco to attend a management skills conference in June.

The week long conference offers instruction in effecting changes in behavior, overcoming resistance to change, communication between doctors and nurses, etc. With so many changes taking place so rapidly in the health care field, new and different skills are necessary to upgrade the quality of patient care and keep up with new trends in nursing.

Mrs. Betty Wright, head of Provident Nursing Service feels that the conference will provide Provident's representatives with invaluable information and resources. She says, "Good teamwork, of the most professional nature is essential to the quality of patient care at Provident."

The first prize at the raffle, "a basket of cheer" was won by R. Herring. Dr. Williams Ross won the second prize, an electric knife. An A.M.-P.M. radio, the third prize was won by Mrs. Rosa Nollie. All prizes were donated.

Participants in the selection of tickets for drawing were Shirley Stewart and Michael Johnson.

About 30 Provident nurses comprise the Head Nurses Supervisors organization. They meet weekly at the hospital. There are another of their fund raising activities. Mrs. Wright is president of the group.
