Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Brooks Jr.

Miss Horshaw married in beautiful ceremony

Looking beautiful in a form-fitting white gown with lace sleeves and bodice, and a satin skirt that was also trimmed in lace, was Miss Doris Horshaw when she exchanged nuptial vows with Bernard Ellsworth Brooks Jr.

The double-ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Horshaw, Edmondson Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Brooks Sr., Lyndhurst St., was Saturday at Greater Olivet Baptist Church.

The Rev. W. Watson officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Annette Jackson, matron of honor, and Miss Monique Brooks, flower girl, were attired in pink gowns.

Bridesmaids, Misses Lillian George, Carolyn Hill and Denise Anthony, wore yellow gowns and carried yellow and white flowers.

Larry Jackson was best man and Louis Makle, Stanley Ellis and Renard E. Brooks were ushers.

Master Joseph Ryles was ringbearer.

The couple was toasted by friends following the ceremony at the Big Boys Social Club, Abbotston St.

The bride is a graduate of Edmondson High School; the bridegroom graduated from Dunbar High School.

The couple will be living on Adelle Terrace.

WEDDING BELLS—Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Arthur Lewis Jr. of Baltimore announce the marriage of their daughter, Reva Marcia, to Terry Rayner Watson, son of Mrs. Dorothy W. Watson and the late James Andrew Watson. Both are attending the University of Maryland. The bride is in the school of medicine and the bridegroom is in the school of dentistry. The bride is a June graduate of Morgan State College.

sights in San Juan, St. Thomas and Montego Bay.

Adding to the fun was George Knox who won the silver trophy for best performance aboard ship for his imitation of a Bunny ("Playboy" that is).

His wife, Mrs. Knox, known professionally as Dr. Ada Lee, helped him with costume by providing one of her fancy slips, a wig, and two balloons, for proper emphasis.

Also among those at sea, although closer to home, were members of the St. Agnes Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, their guests and the rector and wife, Father and Mrs. Donald O. Wilson.

They got-together Sunday and cruised down the bay to Annapolis on Earl Britt's private yacht.

Once in Annapolis, the group, attired in red, white and blue, spent the day sightseeing and had dinner at the Harbor House.

Then it was back on the boat, and three entertainment and music filled hours for the trip back to Baltimore.

Mrs. Barbara Dungee is warden of the guild, and Mesdames Anethia Williams and Carolyn Willis were respectively chairmen and co-chairmen of the affair.

Members of their committee were Mesdames Cleo Diggs, Doris Wheeler, Elizabeth Ramsey, Constance Neal and Shirley Taylor.

On the grapevine is the word that the Pleasurette's Social Club is planning to do their thing, July 29, in Atlantic City.

In fact the group met at the lovely home of Mrs. Geneva Moses, Saturday, to finalize plans for the bus trip.

Officers of the clubs are Mesdames Betty Howard, president; Belma Bailey, vice president; Dorothy Richard, recording secretary; Evelyn Bantum, financial secretary; Geneva Moses, business manager; Pauline Bynum, treasurer; Bertha Washington, chaplin; Beverley Fleming, social committee, and Sarah Mills.

On the home front, "The Women" continue to get together, after more than 20 years as a club group.

Recently, they chose the beautiful lawn and patio of the Malachia Darkins to picnic.

There were all the delectable dishes, with each member preparing a special, accompanied by the usual July thirst-quenchers.

From New York was member Bea W. Hammond, house guest of her twin, Beulah and husband, Malachia Darkins.

Other members, Mesdames Lydja Mussenden, Hermione Harden, Doris Harris, Iona Collins, Senora Reckling, Anne McKeiver, Dorothy Proctor, Bead Wright and Rebecca Griggs.

Their guests included Luther Harden, Preston Harris, Bob McKeiver, William Proctor, David Wright, Malachia Darkins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moss (Bettye), and house guest, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Brooklyn, N.Y., and the Darkins' daughter, Mrs. Kip Carter.

People being nice to others: Parents of 3800 block Howard Park Ave. welcomed home their children from school with a bus trip to Hershey Park, Pa. last week.

Previously slated for the week June 25, Tropical Storm Agnes caused cancellation.

Mrs. Rosetta Carrington, the block chairman made the arrangements.

More people being kind: These couples, frequent guests of members of the Upper Ten Plus Club, turned the tables and entertained club members.

The Sunday poolside affair, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yancey Whittaker, was sponsored by them and by Mr. and Mrs. Marsden Rawlings and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hughes.

Their guests were Messrs. and Mesdames David Wright, A. Paul Moss, Clifton Murray, Kenneth O. Wilson, Aaron Ellis, Errol Taylor, Edward Williams, Charles Hillen, Royal Weaver, and Melvin Callaman.

Guest of the group was Mrs. Wright's father, Frisby Lindsay.

The Ellises mentioned above left early to meet her mother, Mrs. Laura Weaver, who flew in from Rome, Ga.

And, that same evening, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, mentioned above, were taking her mother, Mrs. Ellen Mason to Provident Hospital, where she is reported resting comfortably.

People moving about: Prince Hall Grand Master Samuel T. Daniels, Mrs. Daniels and son, Van, and fellow Masonic leaders are on their annual trek to Europe, visiting associate chapters in England, Germany, France and Denmark.

Others in the group are: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks, Mrs. Alma Burley (Mrs. Daniels' mother); Mr. and Mrs. William L. Morton;

Also, Mrs. Alma Jones, grand matron; Robert Greer, grand patron; and Mesdames Eva Ayers, Viola Trott, Helen Smothers, Evelyn H. Cole, Elaine Campbell and Mrs. Elizabeth Mc Cree (wife of the grand patron) and Mrs. Alice Catlin.

Speaking of Masonic leaders: Richard Washington, the kindly past potentate of Shriners, is doing nicely at Md. General Hospital. He had his leg amputated.

Many know him as the retired postal worker and a good neighbor.

And, Mrs. Reginald Mathews (Dot), the telephone company employee, who was stricken at work, is out of Mercy Hospital and back on the job.

Happy birthday hellos to Howard Jennifer, 110 Scott St. Many know him as a good, good neighbor. His big day (49 years old) is July 22.

Baltimoreans vacationing at Hawaii's Sheraton were special guests when city school principal, Mrs. Alfreda Pinkney surprised some friends on tour in Hawaii by having a birthday party at the hotel.

The buffet provided by the hotel was something to behold and each had the beverage of his choice.

The ladies were beautiful in the full length dresses with many matching their escorts shirts with the Hawaiian prints. Beauty on conviviality permeated the scene and all had a most enjoyable evening.

Baltimoreans about: Messrs. and Mesdames Stanley Boyer (it was his birthday, too); Paul Roller, Alfred Dixon, Willie McCullum, Charles Nelson, Rufus Tucker, George Taliaferro and Mrs. Ethel Covington.

Washingtonians included: Mrs. Gladys Bradshaw and Mrs. Sylvia Washington.

Special guests from Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peck.
