The couple exchanged vows last Saturday in a double ring ceremony held at St. Joseph Monastery with the Rev. Samuel Ray and Father Gerald officiating.

The setting was in rainbow pastels with pink and white gladolis and white daisies decorating the church.

The bride was frocked in traditional white. Her gown was trimmed with chantilly lace with a long train with pearl lace trimmings. Complimenting her gown were baby pearls. She wore a matching headpiece.

Mr. Spann wore a colorful tuxedo with a velvet bow tie and ruffled shirt.

Solos came from Herbert Muldrow. Miss Sherie Waters was at the organ.

Following the 2 p.m. ceremony, the wedding party and guests journeyed to Mardel's West, Baltimore National Pike, for the buffet reception.

200 doctors honored at MGH reception

Nearly 200 foreign doctors were given an introduction of Maryland hospitality at a recent reception in the Maryland General Hospital auditorium.

Sponsored by the Baltimore Council of International Visitors, the annual meeting was an effort to bridge the cultural gap for foreign doctors studying and working in the U.S. for the first time.

The BCIV provides tour and downtown information, provides language assistants, and keeps a roster of almost 700 Baltimore families who act as hosts to the foreigners and their families.

Dr. William H. Mosberg Jr., Chief of Neurosurgery at MGH, was the host and introduced the guest speakers.

A message from Mayor William Donald Schaefer, welcoming the newcomers to the City of Baltimore, was delivered by James Smith, from the Mayor's Community Relations Office.

The mayor's message thanked the many doctors from foreign countries for the work they do to deliver health care to the people of Baltimore.

• • •

Dr. Emerson Walden, president of the National Medical Association, spoke on the importance of good communications between people, regardless of their backgrounds.

Mrs. Jerome Grant, Chairman of Medical Affairs of the BCIV, welcomed all the foreign doctors to Baltimore, and invited everyone to the social hour that followed.

Light Housekeeping

There's no food "Recipe of the Week." However there is a recipe for a very special kind of success. You will need one spoonful of enthusiasm, one spoonful imagination and one of grandma's or one of your own delicious recipes. These ingredients may just make you one of two $25,000 winners in the 24th "Bake It Easy" Pillsbury Bake-Off in Beverly Hills, Calif., Feb. 24-27, 1973. Not to mention other cash awards in several categories.

The $25,000 grand prize will be awarded in the snacks, flour, frosting mix and hot roll mix division, and in the refrigerated crescent roll dough division.

Two new eligible products this year are hot roll mix and frosting mix, with coconut almond or coconut pecan frosting mix specified.

Recipe suggestions for frosting include desserts, cakes, cookies, bars and

Flour, the only product included in early bake-offs, also invites new types of recipes this year, as whole wheat and the new unbleached all-purpose flour can be used, as well as regular all-purpose and self-rising flour.

• • •

Another difference is that crescent rolls are the only refrigerated fresh dough product in this year's contest.

However, a $5,000 first prize will be awarded in each of two crescent categories: sweet snack, sweet roll or dessert and savory snack or quick meal, which would include sandwiches, non-sweet snacks or easy main dishes.

The entry blank contains criteria which will be used in judging all entries. The basic elements include:

Taste, appearance and popular appeal;

Preparation time and method, and

Value-cost (Is the recipe a good value in terms of quality, cost and convenience, considering the serving occasion.)

Anyone 10 years or older may enter the contest. Recipes must be submitted with an official entry blank by Oct. 31, and received by Nov. 6.

Sparkle is hot tasty food served with a warm smile.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

It's impossible not to take the weddings of your close friends' children to heart. Every time one of my friends' daughters starts to plan a wedding, I can't help but get involved.

Just recently one of my dearest friends called to invite me over to help with some of her daughter's wedding arrangements. I was glad to go and, believe me, we had quite a day.

At one point I complimented Sheryl on her pretty smile and said it must have helped her to get her fiancé to propose. She was quick to admit that it had.

"You won't believe this," she said, "but I got really turned on to using CLOSE-UP and I'm sure that it was a big help.

"You know, you hear all those commercials about being so nice to be close to and how CLOSE-UP has a mouthwash in it and whiteners, too, so I decided to try it. All I can say is that it really worked for me."

Close-up

"Well," I responded, "of course I believe you because I've been writing about CLOSE-UP ever since it came on the market. I'm well aware of what it can do and I also depend upon it to keep my breath fresh.

"You know how important white teeth and a pretty smile are in my business, so I always use CLOSE-UP. It hasn't let me down yet.

"In fact, if you had asked me, that would have been one of the strongest suggestions I would have given you on how to keep yourself more attractive."

LIFEBUOY PROTECTION

Speaking of hints, I have a few others that I like to give young brides-to-be.

One is concerned with the importance of overall personal freshness. To insure this, I recommend using LIFEBUOY soap.

LIFEBUOY provides long-lasting deodorant protection that won't let you down even after a full day's activity.

"You must always remember," I told Sheryl, "that there will be someone around you most of your life and you want to be confident of personal body freshness.

"Of course, your man will like LIFEBUOY, too. That's what's so really great about it. Its effective deodorant protection is good for a man's needs, yet its mildness makes it just right for you."

"I'll remember that," Sheryl said. "I sure hope it comes in a color to match my bathroom as I'm so anxious to have everything especially pretty and just right in our new apartment."

Lifebuoy

"LIFEBUOY comes in white, coral and green," I informed her, "so I'm sure one of those colors will suit your needs.

"But you must remember that it is long-lasting deodorant protection you will be buying with LIFEBUOY, not just color."

"I'll keep that in mind," Sheryl replied.

RIGHT ON WITH WISK!

"The really smart wife remembers two other things, too," I continued. "One is to always keep her husband's clothes clean; the other is to always feed him well.

"Now I'd like to make a couple of suggestions on those subjects. First off, when you start doing laundry for two, you must remember to use WISK.

"WISK liquid detergent is the answer to a housewife's prayers. It's concentrated, so a little goes a long way. It's not only great for the entire wash but it's almost miraculous the way it removes soils and stains from your husband's shirt collars and cuffs.

"And if you're concerned about the environment, you'll be glad to know that the surfactant in WISK is biodegradable and the product contains a very low level of phosphate."

"I'm sure glad to know about WISK because I must admit that I had been somewhat concerned about doing my laundry well," Sheryl said.

"You can trust WISK when you use it right," I told her.

"All you have to do is be sure to measure out the amount you need for your particular type of machine, pretreat spots and stains by pouring a little WISK directly on them, then put the rest in the wash.

"The WISK will start working before the machine does and your wash will come out clean and fresh every time."

"I'll be sure to buy some," Sheryl said, "because I know if you say it's good, it must be."

MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S FOR BRIDES

Sheryl had another question. "You also mentioned something about feeding my husband-to-be. What were you referring to?"

"Oh, yes," I said, "it's very important to always give your husband good meals, particularly for breakfast. If you send him off to work with a good start, he'll feel better and be more productive all day. And when those promotions start coming, he'll know that you helped him get them."

"Oh, you," she said, laughing.

"Well," I went on, "it may not happen just that way, but it's still a good idea to give him a good breakfast, preferably a hot one, every morning.

"Most men, I find, like pancakes, waffles, French toast or something of that order, and you'll find that MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup will be a helpmate you can depend upon to make these dishes a big hit.

"MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S with real-butter is so thick there's no worry about having soggy pancakes or waffles left on the plate. He'll just love that rich, mapley flavor, too, and he'll think you're the greatest little cook ever.

"Of course, you won't just be cooking for him alone, but I'm sure that you'll like MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup, too. I get hungry just talking about it.

"And, since you'll just be starting housekeeping, you'll be glad to know that the MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S containers are not only attractive syrup pitchers but they make great decorator items too—like flower vases, lamp bases, etc.

"As clever as you are, I'm sure you'll find a lot of uses for both MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup and its bottle."

"You have certainly given me a lot of helpful suggestions," Sheryl declared. "Have you ever thought about going into the bride-to-be counseling business?"

At that, we all had a good laugh. After all, that's what "Hints For Homemakers" is all about, except that it isn't just for brides-to-be.
