Miss Sheila Scott, a June graduate of Western High School, has been awarded a four year scholarship by the Aquarians of Baltimore.

Miss Scott, the daughter of Mrs. Carrie Scott, will attend Coppin State College.

The Aquarians' chief objective is providing services for young people in need of help.

Proceeds from a dinner theatre party at the Garland Theatre in Columbia City, Md. aided in setting up the scholarship.

Soon members of the club and their friends will set sail for Nassau.

The happy travelers-to-be recently gathered at the Morgan Park home of Mrs. Lillian Williams for a get acquainted party before the August trip.

Miss Scott was guest of honor at the affair.

Officers and members of the club are Mesdames Cynthia L. Harvey, president; Mary (Jackie) Ross, business manager; Gertrude Flowers, secretary; Elsie Colona, Treasurer; Margaret H. Hudgins, publicity chairman; Lorraine Luca, chaplain; and Miss Frances V. Thompson, vice president.

The two lovely educators said they were kept quite busy, seeing historical Boston and the other points of interest during the trip.

When community members grow up and move on, it often takes imagination and a lot of hard work to get them back together again.

A few years ago Sgt. James Williams, career Army man is now stationed over-seas, figured out a plan to get all the old (about 35-40 years old) members of the Pimlico community together.

With the aid (indluding financial) of some friends, Louis Thompson, Jeff Groomes, Louis Matthews, Thomas Matthews, Joe Gray, Ben Holmes, Gen Eldeelen and Fred Bailey, the first Pimlico Oold-Timers reunion, dance, get-together, or whatever you like to call the coming together of neighbors, was held last year.

Since the fellows didn't want any profit from their ticket selling efforts, they gave the $100 that was left after expenses to one of two community churches, Berean Baptist Church, for its building fund.

The fellows got such a kick out of last year's happening that they decided to do it again. So, bigger and better than ever, some 350 strong (about 100 over last year's attendance), the Pimlico Oold-Timers met at the Famous Ballroom, Saturday evening.

Only community members, or one-time neighbors attended, and the affair can be called a wopping success.

Birthdays were celebrated and neighbors even serenaded each other, while Mickey Fields' and provided the background.

Mrs. Dora Vanderford, known to many of the oldtimers as Aunt Dora, was cited and given 25 dollars.

At 85 she is the oldest living old-timer and has been foster mother of many members of the Pimlico community.

This year, the community's other church, First Baptist, will receive $100.

The civic-minded men, who have worked to bring their community and neighbors back together, are now thinking of officially organizing and electing officers.

They say they are already considering means to sponsor a party and baskets for the Christmas season.
