467 Merganthaler Grads Wore Blue And Gold

476 graduate from Mergenthaler High

A total of 476 young men and women were blue and gold gowns as they stood to receive diplomas at commencement exercises held last Thursday evening at the Civic Center.

It was the 19th annual commencement for Mergenthaler Vocational-Technical High School, 3500 Hillen Road.

Eager and excited parents and friends were present to witness the beautiful ceremony.

• • •

Greetings were delivered by Lloyd M. Alston, principal.

He also recognized platform guests, Dr. Roland Patterson, superintendent, Baltimore City Schools; Dr. W. Eugene Scott, member of school board; Sterling S. Keyes, associate superintendent; Joe A. Carrington, assistant superintendent, and George Mitchell, student member of the board.

Valedictorian, Miss Catherine Vanderpool, said, "Here we commence our lives, farewell to old school days. This is the beginning of a new phase in our lives. You, our parents, teachers and friends have sent us forward with wisdom. We are now on a new threshold."

• • •

Dr. Patterson, in his remarks, stressed the continuing need for qualified and capable people to fill the job markets.

"You are your brother's keeper. Make the world better, start from within and work outward. We need your vitality, a skill and ideas."

Miss Vanderpool mirrors the hope of all the members of her class when she declared, "All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full. Let us strive to be the sea, being filled to the brim with knowledge, yet being a reservoir from which others can draw."

Houston-Woods grads have special skills

Some 75 Houston-Woods High School seniors marched on opposite sides of the school's auditorium, alternating with men wearing black robes and women wearing gold robes, at the 9th annual commencement held June 7.

The hour and a half commencement was opened with traditional chords of the "Star Spangled Banner" but was highlighted with the popular song, "Young Gifted and Black."

Dr. Roland N. Patterson, superintendent of Public Instruction, was key speaker for the ceremony.

He told the vocational school graduates, although "you are in great demand with your special skills, I urge you to extend your knowledge by taking full advantage of all educational opportunities."

Degrees were conferred upon the seniors by School Board President, Dr. John Walton.

Studies completed included the fields of business, child care, barbering, cosmetology, dressmaking, industrial sewing, painting and decorating, shoe repairing, sign painting and show card writing, tailoring, upholstery and woodwork.
