Prisons need committee in Annapolis

Senator Verda F. Welcome (D-4th) has asked that a Legislative Committee be established to "study the conditions which led to the recent outbreaks" in Maryland's Correctional Institutions, "and to work with the Governor to bring about meaningful changes."

Because of the Legislative responsibility for the Correctional Institutions, the long-standing deplorable conditions and increased concern brought about by the riots, the reinstating of a formal Legislative Committee charged with responsibility "to investigate, oversee, gather information, and make Legislative recommendations, is imperative," she said.

"In the light of the recent rioting at the Maryland Penitentiary, House of Corrections, and other Correctional Institutions in this state, the Legislature has a responsibility and many Legislators are concerned," said Senator Welcome.

In addition, Senator Welcome cit..l as imperative considerations (1) improvement and acceleration of training programs for guards, (2) the raising of salaries of prison guards to a level equal to policemen's salaries, (3) re-examination of the decision to let guards carry guns while off duty, and (4) modification of the requirement that Legislators have permission of Col. Lally to visit Correctional Institutions even when a state of emergency does not exist.

"We cannot assume that because the riots are quelled and the prison guards are no longer striking that the problem is resolved," said Sen. Welcome.

"Only through development of a practical plan and a commitment on the part of both the Administration and the Legislature to carry it out, can we hope to bring about meaningful changes," the senator concluded.
