Clean Block Highlights

By IDA MURPHY PETERS

The weekly Clean Block meeting is being held today (Friday) at 10 a.m. and will offer many tips and supplies to help AFRO Clean Blockers.

Captains and co-captains along with their advisors are urged to attend every Friday morning.

Clean Block Director, Mrs. Irma Widgeon, toured blocks this week and will award the first flags to blocks who have shown the most improvement.

CONTEST

Reginald Everett, 1600 blk. N. Calhoun, is in the lead with 10,900 votes in the Clean Block contest. (See full details on this page).

Crystal McDonald of Salem St. is second with 6,500 votes. Stephanie Smith is third; and Patricia Barr and Cynthia Greene are tied for fourth.

Welcome to Curtis Byrd of 1800 blk. Braddish who entered this week with 1,600 votes.

BLOCK TOURS

Visited the 2100 blk. of Ashland Ave. and talked with Mrs. Sadie Wise. She has applications and window stickers and needs the help of her neighbors to get her block started.

• • •

Miss Clarice Ellis, of the 900 blk. N. Duncan St., is another new block. She is taking the leadership in getting her block involved in the Clean Block Campaign.

• • •

We will be working with the 800 blk. N. Chester St. Sonia Jones is discouraged right now, because her small block is divided by a gas station and the children are too small to participate.

• • •

Congratulations to Linda Fitzgerald and her workers in the 2100 blk. E. Preston St. They have beautiful flowers in the first and second floor windows with a block scheme of black and white.

This block has 16 houses in the block with 16 families helping. All houses have steps; woodwork painted and cleaned and all houses with window boxes.

• • •

The 2000 blk. E. Biddle is a long, long block, but Mrs. Collenn Rogers says that everyone is doing his own thing and participating in the clean block campaign. She has some beautiful people.

• • •

In the 2000 blk. of Ellsworth, Vanessa Rogers and her workers have a beautiful clean block with a yellow and white color scheme. They have coordinated their chairs and window boxes.

• • •

In the 1700 blk. E. Preston St., Robin Stokes told us how all her neighbors, little people and big people were helping.

In the 2000 blk. Ellsworth, the street was exceptionally clean and the neighbors seemed to be enjoying working together. Lewis Tyler and Larry Rodgers are the volunteers who monitor the block so that it stays clean.

The 1300 blk. Chester St. under Wanda Johnson was showing a marked improvement over our last visit. Keep up the good work.

COMPLAINTS

The rear of 1700 blk. of Etting St. has a thoughtless neighbor who continues to dump trash in the alley after trash collections. Shame! AFRO is talking with City of Baltimore to board up city owned houses with the backs out and full of trash.

We have a report that one neighbor's children used city boards from the houses to build coops for pigeons and dogs. Shame!

To other calls. The landlord has boarded and painted the front of 1200 blk. Druid Hill, and trash is being removed.

• • •

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Thank you to the Continental Society—of Baltimore, Inc. Mrs. LaFrance Muldrow, president, who sent a $50 contribution to the Clean Block Prize Fund.

Thanks also to Time Realty, Stanley Sugarman, Edward Z. Watson, acting administrative assistant, Baltimore Public Schools.

• • •
