MRS. WILLIAM CHEEKS—Miss Helen Brown, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Thacker and Russell Brown, was married to William Thomas Cheeks, son of Mrs. Rosetta Cheeks at the United House of Prayer on July 30. The Elder Alfred Moore officiated the ceremony. Mrs. Cheeks is a graduate of Dunbar High. Mr. Cheeks was graduated from City College. After their honeymoon trip to Florida, the couple is now at home on Hilton Rd.

TWO PRETTY COUPLES—In last Friday's edition, the AFRO incorrectly identified these couples who were at the Prince Hall Masons' dinner-dance held that same week. The AFRO regrets the error. At top is Mr. and Mrs. William Scott (Doris). Bottom Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Russell (Mildred).

Iron first those articles which require the least heat. Doing it that way you won't waste time while the iron cools after having it set on "high" for articles requiring maximum heat.

Leather cracks, peels and powders if not given treatment aimed at keeping it from drying out. Good leather conditioners include Neat's-foot oil, lanolin and even castor oil.

KING of the Jordan family is Richard, 4th, only member of the 4th generation.

Meet Richard member of 4th generation

A fourth generation member of a long-time Baltimore family is 3-month-old Richard Edward Jordan IV. Born May 5, this very active and bright young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jordan III (Frances) of 3022 Westwood Ave.

"He loves to laugh and stand up," stated Mrs. Jordan. She is a Fame model and Mr. Jordan is employed at the Pimlico Manor Convalescent Home. Both parents attended Baltimore Public Schools.

Baby Richard IV has 2 step-sisters, Sylvia Harris, 10 and Rita Harris, 9. The family attends Faith Memorial Baptist Church.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jordan Sr. (Sadie) of 3022 Westwood Ave. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graves (Delores) of 2414 Loch Raven Rd.

The first Richard Edward Jordan and his wife, Rosie, were natives of Va.

Hints For Homemakers

Even though my niece and I work together, we seldom get an opportunity to talk with one another. So, the other evening I thought I would pay her a surprise visit.

When I arrived I found her going through what she called her usual "48-hour preparation run," getting ready to go on a business trip.

Her first step always, she said, was doing her laundry.

She was sorting it according to color, when I noticed she had a box of DRIVE set out for her trip to the laundromat the next morning.

"I didn't know you used DRIVE," I began.

"I use all of Lever's products," she responded. "Usually I use DRIVE when doing my lingerie, and I use it for other things, too. But I particularly like it for doing my undies.

"And I feel good about using DRIVE because it gets clothes nice and clean. Besides, it doesn't contain any enzymes and it's also very low in phosphates.

"It seems as if my white things get whiter and the underarm stains from perspiration are kept in hand when I use DRIVE. It keeps my colored lingerie nice and pretty, too.

"But I can't understand why you are so surprised to see me with DRIVE. After all, it's one of the Lever detergents you use, too."

"You're right," I responded, "but with you I never know whether you're paying any attention to my recommendations."

"Oh," she started, "I'm always listening to what you say. I remember your telling me about how to sort my laundry and that I should always measure my detergent for best results.

"And you're the one who told me that DRIVE contains no enzymes, that it's low in phosphates and biodegradable.

"That's why, because of your advice, I always reach for DRIVE when I need to remove stains."

"Amazing," I commented, "and all the time I thought you weren't listening."

SMOOTH SAILING WITH DOVE

As I watched her begin assembling her things for packing, I noticed that she kept looking at a piece of paper.

"What is that you keep looking at?" I inquired.

"I always make a list of everything I want to take with me so that I don't forget anything," she said, "especially something like DOVE.

"You see, I've started using DOVE just recently. I had been using a medicated cleanser on my face, but it appeared to be losing some of its effect, so I decided to switch back to a beauty bar.

"Knowing how sensitive my skin is, I had to be very careful to choose the right one.

"I remembered some of the literature we have in the office about DOVE," she continued. "When I reread the material and noted that DOVE contains ¼ cleansing cream, and is non-alkaline so that it won't dry out or irritate your skin, I knew it was what I needed.

"And I'm really satisfied with DOVE. It gets my skin nice and clean but doesn't leave it with a stiff, dry feeling like plain soap does.

"Of course, if doctors recommend DOVE for babies' skin then I really know it's alright for mine."

"Well, I'm glad to hear you are satisfied," I said.

"To let you know just how satisfied I am," she continued, "I started my younger sister using it."

CLOSE-UP FOR SMILES

"I see you've got CLOSE-UP toothpaste on the list, too," I commented.

"Remember, it's leap year and I'm catchin' as they say," she said. "I'm trying to do whatever I can to make myself more attractive.

"After all, as the saying goes, 'you never know when you're going to be up close!'"

"I've always thought you had a pretty smile," was my next remark, "but, I didn't realize that you used CLOSE-UP to keep it that way."

"You know, I'm all for convenience and ease," my niece explained. "The fact that CLOSE-UP allows me to clean my teeth and freshen my breath at the same time makes it a natural for me."

"Which one do you use, the regular or mint?" was my next question.

"I usually use the mint flavor," she answered, "though I know that they both give the same protection and contain special whiteners. It is just something about the mint that turns me on."

LUX CLEANS WITH KINDNESS

"Why don't you come on down to the kitchen with me while I wash up a few dirty dishes?" my niece asked.

"I can't stand to leave any dishes lying around when I'm leaving town.

"You know, I use another Lever product to do my dishes."

"Which one is that?" I queried.

"LUX LIQUID," she responded. "I don't have many dishes to do too often; but when I do, I want to use something that is easy on my hands as well as good for my dishes. LUX LIQUID is both.

"It's an easy job to get my dishes clean and sparkling with LUX's superior grease-cutting action. But, better still, it's easy to keep my hands soft and smooth."

"That's because LUX has an exclusive skin-conditioning formula," I added.

"It doesn't contain any phosphorus and, like all other Lever detergents, LUX is biodegradable. I like it for its long-lasting suds, too."

"You know," I said with a smile, "I didn't realize that you were so much 'the lady about the house.'"

"Oh sure," she laughed. "What do you expect with my home economics background? Besides, I need to keep in practice. Who knows, this might be my lucky leap year."

Who knows, I thought, it just might. And whoever it is will be a lucky fellow.
