MUSICAL MOMENTS

Set subscription campaign for Symphony Orchestra

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Plans are buzzing excitedly in Baltimore Symphony Orchestra circles.

New in his second full season as Music Director of the Baltimore Symphony, widely acclaimed by critics and warmly received by audiences in Baltimore and on tour, Sergui Comissiona has extended his contract through 1974-75 seasons.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Sherbow, an energetic committee is launching a telephone subscription campaign for the symphony concert series.

Mayor Schaefer will call the winner and lucky subscribers will receive ticket winning calls from television and theatrical celebrities who are assisting the committee.

The Women's Association, headed by Mrs. William Hall, opens activities with a luncheon at the Suburban Club Sept. 28.

Maestro Comissiona will moderate the panel with Isaiah Jackson and Murry Sidlin, assistant conductors, as speakers.

Performing will be Tuthor Lewis, principle violinist of the symphony and Evelyn Swartz, pianist.

Association dates will be on Thursday mornings so that members of the orchestra and guest artists may attend without conflict with rehearsal hours.

Meetings will be held at Evergreen House, the Maryland Historical Society and the Suburban Club.

Officers of the Women's Association are: Mrs. Wm. G. Hall Jr., pres; Mesdames Wm. Knoblock, Richard Sindler, Carroll Peatt and Joseph Sherbow, vice pres.; Mrs. Hermione E. Wharton, recording sec'y.; Mrs. Howard Kern, corresponding sec'y, and Mrs. Wm. Grove, treasurer. Mrs. Ben Reuben, program chairman.

A chartered bus plan is announced by Mrs. Virginia Hardy, beginning with the opening concert Sept. 27.

The fare is $2.50 each way and $4.00 round trip. For information Mrs. Hardy may be called at 435-4380 or at the Symphony office 727-7300.

Of the 12 symphony societies, Dulaney Valley has subscribed in advance next season's concert series.

The Northeast Symphony Society launched the year's activities with a Committee of One Hundred, chaired by Mrs. Catherine Admas and Mrs. Alice Parham.

The 1972-73 concert season will include Comissiona and Midel as conductors and Isaiah Jackson, youthful black director at the May concert.

Mrs. Genevieve Wisner and Clifton Sherrard are co-chairing for the second year the souvenir program.

Officers of the Northeast group are: Mrs. Roger Williams, pres.; Carlton Ford, vice pres.; Frances B. Hill, sec'y; Howard Murphy, treas

The annual meeting was held at the Morgan Park home of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy where the society was inaugurated seven years ago.

Mrs. Williams, received congratulations upon the announcement that she will be awarded her doctorate at her alma mater, the University of Maine, at a convection held this month.

CALENDAR: Public auditions for the 1972-73 season chorus roster of the Baltimore Opera Company will be held at the Opera Studio, 336 N. Charles St. from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Sept. 5. Auditioners should call the Opera office 727-0592 for appointments.

Auditioners will bring their own music and will have prepared a song, aria or suitable chorus part, each in Italian and French. Each will be required to read and sight a poem or other material provided by the Opera Company. In both languages. The Opera Company will provide its own accompanist.

George Woodhead, Chorus Master, announces criteria for selection in the chorus: 1) quality of voice; 2) ability to read music and to hear correct intonation; 3) reading knowledge of both Italian and French; 4) ability to understand text and to act convincingly; 5) experience in operatic performances. Robert J. Collinge, general manager of the Opera Company.
