Doctors to give free eye tests

Once again, doctors of the East Baltimore Street Clinics of the Greater Baltimore Medical Center will conduct their annual free eye examinations for residents and employees of large housing complexes in their neighborhood.

On three Thursdays in September, eye doctors will visit three highrise apartments between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The schedule calls for visits to the Flag House Courts on Sept. 7; the Perkins Homes on Sept. 14, and the Lafayette Court on Sept. 21.

Future schedules call for visits also to groups in the Fells Point area and the Douglas Homes; all on an annual basis, doctors said.

Mortarboards Worn, Diplomas Given In Headstart Graduation

GOT THEIR HEADSTART—These nine smiling youngsters are what Headstart is all about. They are (from top left) Delores Floyd, Devera Backman, Lena Randall, Stacy McCullers, Euanne Wilson, Lauriean Wilson, Lisa Kerne, Curtis Williams and Joseph Levine.

FIRST OF MANY DIPLOMAS—With their Headstart graduation, hopefully these children are on their way to meet their education potential. These diploma holders are Cylinda Johnson, Aaron Johnson and Janatha Bridget.

PAPER MORTARBOARDS — They may have been only paper mortarboards, but the graduation was as real and important as a high school or college one. Looking up at AFRO photographer Benny Pillips, are Neil Call, Sheila Washington and Kirk Wallace.

ALL SMILES—These smiling faces belong to Tracy Davis, Lachone Moore and Gina Brown.

GRADUATES ALL IN A ROW—Six Headstart graduates sit in a row, wondering what the future holds in store for them. Well, first there is a whole lot of reading, writing and arithmetic to learn. Hopefully, Headstart has made that first step easier. Shown here are Tracy Cutler, Darryl Wallace, Linda Jackson, Monica Kerney, Gary Lane and Ruby Hartsfield.
