Shocked Olympics move on after violence kills 17

MUNICH (UPI) — Arab Terrorists turned the 20th Olympic games into a bloodsoaked battleground Tuesday, kidnaping and then killing nine Israeli team members when an ambush by German police backfired. In all 17 persons died in the carnage that threatened cancellation oof the games.

The 18 one-half hours of terror began at 4:30 a.m. when seven members of the extremist Black September Movement, their guns blazing, burst into the apartment complex of the Israeli team in Olympic Village, fatally wounding two members of the Israeli squad.

It ended at Fuerstenfeldbruck Air Base, a North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) installation 28 miles from Munich, just before midnight when a carefully - laid ambush by German forces exploded into bloody shambles.

The ambush apparently failed because sharpshooters stationed around the field opened fire prematurely on seven guerrillas who had brought nine Israeli hostages to the airport in hopes of escaping aboard a waiting jetliner they had requested.

Although five of the guerrillas and a Munich policeman died in the shooting, one of the terrorists exploded a hand grenade inside a helicopter that had brought them and their hostages from the village. The explosion killed all nine Israelis. The other three guerrillas were captured.

Stunned by the gunshots that ripped apart the treasured "Olympic peace," athletes from 122 nations gathered in the Olympic stadium at 10 a.m. (5 a.m. EDT) for a memorial service for the 11 dead Israelis.

Guerrillas stormed into the three-story white stone building where the Israeli Delegation occupied two floors, they shot Moshe Weinberg, 33, a wrestling coach they fatally wounded weightlifter Josef Romano, 33, as he tried to block the door.

Then they seized nine other Israelis and announed all of them would die unless Israel released 200 Arab prisoners by noon, a deadline extended repeatedly as frantic, high level negotiations dragged on all day.

Even before the sound of bullets and explosions, German chancellor Willy Brandt appeared on television to tell the German people that the games they called the "happy games" were no more.

"This truly is a sad day," he said.

Brandt said the guerrillas refused to accept "unlimited" ransom and rejected an offer by German officials to take the place to the hostages.

Willie Daume, president of the German organizing committee which saw its plans for a "happy games" shattered by bloodbath, said in a breaking voice he would "find it difficult to recommend to the IOC" that the games go on.

However there also was considerable sentiment among the nations gathered here that to call off the games would be a denial of the ideals of peaceful competition for which the dead Israelis came to Munich and that cancelling the rest of these games might well signal the doom of future Olympics.

The Athletes, the ones for whom this whole concept of peaceful games every four years was begun, seemed to have a wide range of opinions.

Some, sickened by the death, were all for going home immediately; others believed failure to complete the games would be capitulation to those who inflicted violence.

The news stunned Munich and the world and cast a shadow over the future of the Olympic Movement itself.

I WANT A JOB

It takes a job to build a work 'mystic'

This is the first in a series which will appear each Friday in the AFRO from now until the election in November focusing on 'I WANT A JOB.'

The present unemployment rate in the city of Baltimore (for the month of July) is 64 per cent based on the latest information made available by the Division of Research and Analysis of the Department of Employment and Social Services.

What follows are but two of the 35,000 stories that could be written about the city's unemployed.

Stories in this series are based on interviews of people applying for jobs at employment agencies public and private throughout the city.

The first interview took place Thursday morning in front of the Maryland State Department of Employment and Social Services, 1100 N. Eutaw St.

Interviewed were Mrs. Rosezena Thompson, 21, and Mrs. Deborah Caldwell, 19.

The pair was stopped by an AFRO reporter as they left the building and asked if they would consent to a brief interview. Joining the ladies, the three of us sat on a highly polished

Defendant Weeps On Witness Stand

Tony Brown Murder Case Goes To Jury Tuesday

Miss Margie L. Jefferson, 22, has been found innocent of first degree murder charges in the stabbing death of Anthony (Tony) Brown, 19, a Dunbar High School senior basketball star.

However, she still faces possibility of guilty on second-degree murder and/or manslaughter charges.

The case has been heard by Criminal Court Jury three days this week, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It will be continued (Tuesday) Sept. 19, with Judge William O'Donnell presiding in Part II at the Courthouse. Final arguments to the jury are expected then.

Among those present in the courtroom during hearings this week were Miss Jefferson's mother and sister. Also listening to testimony were Tony Brown's parents, sisters and other relatives.

* * *

Tony Brown, 19, lived in the 2600 block Park Heights Terrace and was known as one of the best high school basketball players in the city.

According to police testimony, Mr. Brown was stabbed in the chest with a knife about 4:50 a.m. on March 28, in Miss Marjorie Jefferson's apartment 200 block Robert St.

The mother of the defendant told the jury that the night that the incident occurred was her daughter's first night to stay in her new apartment. The other nights she had stayed at home and she worked night shift and sometimes split shift doing the day.

* * *

The slender, tall Miss Jefferson who weighs 130 pounds, was dressed in a long-sleeve pink frock when she testified Thursday.

She is a 1968 graduate of Western High and only needed three credits before she would graduate from Community College of Baltimore.

As she sat in the witness chair with her hands folded, holding tissues, she told the jury, "I met him about a year ago at a basketball game and met him later at a Christmas party.

"He introduced himself as Tony Brown and asked me for my phone number.

"I did not give it to him. Later he got it through some friends. We were like buddies and not like girlfriend and boyfriend.

"I saw him at parties that I attended. Approximately a half dozen times. He visited me at my home. He would call me because I was easier to reach then he was. I was in jail when I read in the newspaper he was in high school. I had no idea he was in high school.

* * *

"I was on vacation and did not want to stay in my apartment. It was too quiet." (The first night that Miss Jefferson stayed in her apartment was the night Tony was stabbed. She had her keys to the apartment since February but had never stayed over night in it. The defendant was staying at her mother's home).

Miss Jefferson told the Officer May Be Charged In Shooting Of CCB Student

A Northeastern District Police Officer Gary Lambach may be charged with assault by shooting Jeffrey Scott, 28, a second-term Community College of Baltimore Student, Sgt. Charles Siford of Northeastern told AFRO Thursday.

Police said they are awaiting the recovery of the Vietnam vet who is currently nursing a gun wound of the chest at the Union Memorial Hospital so as to know what action to take.

Reported doing well by hospital officials Mr. Scott, police reports show, was shot by Officer Lambach while he (Scott) was allegedly "attacking" another officer in an alley in the 1600 block Chilton St. Sept. 3.

Mr. Scott, police said, may also face charges of attempt on an officer's life.

This charge, however, has been denied by 10 neighborhood residents who told AFRO last week they were eye-witnesses to the shooting incident. They state Mr. Scott never made attempt on anyone's life.

The witnesses who said they saw the incident from various places also charged the two officers with shooting the victim while he was standing facing them with his hands down.

Police said they received a call to the 1600 block Chilton St. in connection with a man armed with a carving knife and was disorderly behaving.

They alleged when they asked the suspect to put away the knife he tried to strike Officer Julio Ortega Jr., with the knife.

Child, 3, kidnapped, found safe, hungry

Why are some people so cruel to children? Who would kidnap a 3-year-old-child, take his clothes off and put him in a basement with no food or water?

Ronnie Lee Wilson, 3, had been missing over night. Members of his family came to the AFRO on Tuesday to report that Ronnie was missing.

Mrs. Dorothy Henry, Ronnie's aunt told the AFRO "He was with my nephew going to the store. When they crossed Lakeview Ave., Ronnie fell and hurt his leg. A lady came out of a phone booth picked Ronnie up and walked down Lakeview Ave. My nephew, Robert, came back home."

Two hours after relatives left the AFRO, they called to say that Ronnie had been found in a basement of an apartment house across the street from where he lived. The child was wrapped in a blanket and had no clothes on.

* * *

Neighborhood children who were playing in the basement of the occupied home found Ronnie and took him home.

Mrs. Henry stated "I think some dope addicts put him there and were going to ask for money."

The family took the child to Maryland General Hospital to be examined and was told by doctors at the hospital that he was in good health and only needed some food to eat.

* * *

The child is just one of hundreds of children who are kidnapped or wander away from home. All parents are not as lucky as Ronnie's parents were to find their child.

Another 3-year-old, Solomon Gomille Rose, II, with whom all AFRO readers are familiar, has been missing since April 1, when he disappeared from his mother while she was shopping at Mondawmin Shopping Center. We hope he is well-cared for and will be returned to his family safely.

Pimlico Junior High 7th Grader

Teen Slain At Picnic Table

William James Lee Jr. was buried in the Baltimore Cemetery Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. at the St. Ann Catholic Church on Greenmount Ave. and 22nd St.

Police reveal 14-year-old Lee was slain last Sunday while he and friends were seated at a picnic table in a playground at W. Garrison and Belview Aves.

Police claim the Pimlico Junior High 7th grader was found lying across the table when they arrived. He lived in the 3000 block Dolfield Ave. with his parents.

Witnesses told police two unidentified men arrived and one of them placed a steel gun at Lee's neck and fired.

* * *

Police state no arrest has been made in the incident. Police said they are hunting for two suspects in their late teens, who witnesses claim, fled on foot after the shooting.

They are described as 18 and 19 years old, one wearing a large bush hair, gray shirt and trousers and white tennis shoes.

Lee is survived by his parents, William Lee Sr. and Mrs. Sylvia Lee; two brothers, Melvin and Ricardo Lee and his grandparents.
