Also off on its fall program is the Baltimore chapter of Bennett College alumni. Its first meeting was on Saturday evening at the Emmanuel Blow residence on Dolfield Ave.

Plans were initiated for a spring dinner dance and a theatre dinner party later this year.

Bennett marks its centennial year on May 4, 5 and 6, 1973.

Mrs. Elease Browning of Greensboro, N.C., home of Bennett College, was special guest. She described plans for the celebration.

She was accompanied to Baltimore by Mrs. Naomi Brown, president of the Washington chapter.

In attendance were Mrs. Mary S. Anderson, Mrs. Audrey P. Highsmith, Miss Dorothy C. Randall who presided: Mrs. Shirley H. Stokes, Mrs. Edna S. Phillips, Miss Shirley E. Thomas, Mrs. Judith C. Adams, Mrs. Brucella L. Blow, Mrs. Paula L. Byrd, and Mrs. Sarah Plummer.

The group will meet again on Sept. 30 at 3 p.m. at the Kinchelow Ave. home of Miss Randall.

After the business session, members were joined by their spouse, including Mrs. Milton Credle, Eddie Cunningham, Henry Parker, Lindbergh Parker and Elijah Royster.

A "Pot Luck" off-to-college party honored Miss Harriette E. Lane, recently.

She is the 16-year-old Western High grad now enrolled at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Guests enjoyed swimming, listening to records, dancing, films, games and a variety of dishes.

The lovely Glen Burnie home of the Aaron Taylors was the scene of the Saturday night meeting of the H and W Social Club.

Beautiful floral arrangements of lavender and gold, the club colors, crowned the decor.

Retiring president, Milton Credle, installed the new officers in an impressive candlelight litany.

* * *

The new officers are Mrs. Rosetta Parker, president; Mrs. Beulah Parker, vice president; Mrs. Laura Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Peggy Cunningham, assistant secretary and Milton Credle, treasurer.

New members welcomed by the group were James and Margaret Pennington and Charles and Mozelle Fisher.

* * *

About were Misses Catherine Mendeloff, Marion Newell, Beverley Leonard, Lee Rappertmem, Julie Babubilitz, Joanne Scholone, Lyn Gerber, Jean Malotte, Janet Shulbonk, Jonelle Carter, Jackie Proctor and Mandy Bynum.

The new college coed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane (Genesta) of Dunhill Village, Liberty Rd.

Mrs. Eula Smith, of Buford, S.C., celebrated her 83rd birthday recently surrounded by a score of relatives. She has six children, 28 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren and one great-great grandson.

About were Messrs. and Mesdames B. Day and George Murray and family.

Also Mesdames Altonia Murray, Hilda Murray, Walter Smith, Hattie Mae Cooley and family: Leon Lallace and Miss Mirriam Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo M. Brown, of Boarman Ave., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Angela Brown, to Albert G. Ringgold Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ringgold Sr., of Richwood Ave.

The bride-elect graduated from Edmondson High. The bridegroom-elect attends Towson State College.

An August 1973 wedding is planned.

That lovely dinner party at Eudowood Gardens on Sunday was hosted by the Supervisors' Committee of the Baltimore branch of National Alliance Postal and Federal Employees.

Recently retired supervisors and their wives were guests of honor.

They are: Messrs. and Mesdames J. Harvey Joyce, Dallin Wicks and Robert Dawson.

Ina tendance were other recently retired supervisors. Raymond Yound, Robert Smith, Frances Pullen, George Russell Sr.

Retired members of the Alliance also present were Mrs. Irma Armstrong, Richard Reed and Lester Fauntleroy. John Holt in his role of "master of ceremonies" was very colorful and witty.

Clifton Harris is president of the Baltimore branch.

More fall activities: Zeta Chapter of Theta Nu Sigma Sorority held its first meeting of the year last week at the Master Beauticians Association with their newly elected basileus, Soror Rosetta Tilghman presiding.

Program for the year was presented to the members.

Sorors attending were: Rosetta Addison, Flossie Brown, Marie Cherry, Olivia Carroll, Elizabeth Foskey, Mattie Hawkins, Ola Mae Johnson Ora Johnson, Florence Knox, Juanita Monroe, Mary Nicholson, Mary Stevens, Lillie Mae Spears, Marion Wade and Blanche White.

MISS MARYLAND EVANS AND LOLLIPOP

Like Lollipops? Then You'll Love 'Lollipop

In her role as "Lollipop" the clown, Mrs. Sarah J. Penner, an exception clerk with the Social Security Administration's Bureau of data processing in Woodlawn, has visited hospitals, schools for the handicapped, and school picnics to entertain children. She has even received a letter from Mayor Schaffer for her efforts. Lollipop is also the first female member of her race to become a member of Clowns of America.

Honking a horn and looking quite funny in a large red nose, Lollipop said, "My main ambition is to make people happy."

Mrs. Penner is also a member of Volunteers of Social Security, Social Security Toastmistress Club, the Arts Guild and the Fair Housing Service.

Yet, she still found time to take the training classes in clown antics and makeup. She says that now she can apply her makeup in about 30 minutes.

Besides her clown classes, she is also enrolled in the Upward Mobility College, a program designed to give social security employees in lower grades an opportunity to further their education and advance their careers.

And, to top all that she is also mother of three: Cynthia, 12; Bernadette, 11, and Vernon Jr., 9. Mrs. Penner says her children also love Lollipop.

In fact she says she and her husband gave the children an end of summer cook-out last week, at their Beechwood Avenue home.

She says lots of their friends attended and a band played, and the kiss made a special request for a visit from Lollipop, who of course was more than happy to appear.

* * *

Besides putting on her own makeup, Mrs. Penner also says she makes her own costumes.

You should have seen the first costume I made myself," she said, "It was terrible."

Now she has three different costumes, one of which, a friend, Mrs. Jeanne Hitzelberger, helped her to make.

One, she says, is just a poir of men's gray flannel PJs with polka dots and lollipops.

The other is a pair of white pants and a white shirt with red pockets and polka dots. With this she wears a red and white straw hat, with "Lollipop" written on it.

* * *

When asked about her face makeup, she said that most clowns have to experiment with the makeup as they go along.

She said that she found that she liked the large red nose and the blue over the eyes best and decided to stick with it as she practiced with her makeup.

She says that usually when she goes out with the Social Security Volunteers, the group sings songs with their audience and she clowns around.

If you want to get a peek at "Lollipop" yourself be sure to get to the upcoming City Fair parade, Sept. 29.

She'll be there with some of her other friends from Clowns of America.
