of Maryland. He sponsored legislation to elect county council members by district rather than at-large in Baltimore County. Mr. Steinberg also sponsored numerous bills concerning mental health and domestic relations law.

As a member of the Maryland State Senate, Mr. Steinberg actively promoted economic development as well. In the fall of 1984, he represented Maryland and the General Assembly on an economic development mission to Japan. In the spring of 1985, Mr. Steinberg, as President of the Senate, represented the State in London when the Pride of Baltimore sailed under the Tower Bridge to complete its first Atlantic crossing.

Mr. Steinberg also has been active in the field of higher education, having served on the Commission on Excellence in Higher Education which recommended restructuring the higher education system in Maryland.

Since his first election as Lieutenant Governor in 1986, Mr. Steinberg has continued to build on a solid record of achievement gained during his twenty years of service in the Maryland General Assembly.

On behalf of Governor William Donald Schaefer, Lieutenant Governor Steinberg coordinates and develops the Administration's legislative agenda. The Lieutenant Governor also is chairman of the Governor's Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, the Maryland Executive Helicopter Advisory Committee, and the Peabody Institute Oversight Committee.

Lieutenant Governor Steinberg was born in Baltimore City on October 4, 1933, and attended

Baltimore City public schools. He is a graduate of Baltimore City College and received his Associate of Arts Degree from the University of Baltimore in 1952. In 1955, he received a Juris Doctorate Degree from the University of Baltimore School of Law and was admitted to the Maryland Bar the same year. He served on active duty in the United States Navy from November 1955 through 1957. In addition, he has honorary degrees from Goucher College, Villa Julie College, and St. Mary's College of Maryland.

Mr. Steinberg returned to Baltimore following military service and became active in a number of civic organizations and political clubs. He entered the private practice of law as an associate with his cousin, Marvin B. Steinberg, Esquire, now a Judge of the Circuit Court of Baltimore City. Subsequently, Mr. Steinberg became a partner in the law firm of Levin and Gann, P.A. He is a member of the Baltimore County, Maryland State and American Bar Associations.

Lieutenant Governor Steinberg and his wife, Anita, have been married for thirty-two years. The Steinbergs have three children, Edward, Susan, and Barbara. Edward, a graduate of Bucknell University and the University of Baltimore School of Law, is currently practicing law in Baltimore City. Edward's wife, Halaine, is a graduate of Towson State University and is a former public school teacher. Susan is a graduate of Drew University and the University of Maryland School of Law and is a practicing attorney. Barbara is a graduate of Dickinson College and is a C.P.A. employed in the corporate setting. Lieutenant Governor Steinberg also is grandfather to twins, Mitchell Jacob and Julie Sarah Steinberg, and their brother, Jason Andrew Steinberg.

LOUIS L. GOLDSTEIN
Comptroller of the Treasury

Louis L. Goldstein was born in Prince Frederick on March 14, 1913. He was educated in Baltimore City and Calvert County public schools and at Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland (B.S., 1935), and the University of Maryland School of Law (J.D., 1938). From 1939 to 1942, he was an elected delegate from Calvert County to the Maryland General Assembly. He enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps as a private in 1942 and was discharged in 1946 as a first lieutenant after service in the Asiatic and Pacific theatres.

From 1947 through 1958, Mr. Goldstein was an elected State Senator from Calvert County. During that time he was Majority Leader (1951-1955) and President of the Senate (1955-1958). He was a member of the Legislative Council (1947-1958) and served as its Chairperson between 1955 and 1958. In 1958, he was elected Comptroller of the