Citizens press to preserve in Annapolis old Mt. Moriah

A "Motion to Intervene' has been filed in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court in an effort to preserve old Mount Moriah Church of Annapolis as a site of historic importance to the black community.

Filers of the motion, Mrs. Bertina Nick, Harry Walker and The Poor People's Rights Organization of Anne Arundel County are thus attempting to head off scheduled city demolition of the church.

It is their contention that the city of Annapolis has not obtained the 'necessary' permit from the Historic Preservation Commission authorizing the demolition.

City officials have filed a Bill of Complaint', stating that no permit is necessary as the church 'technically' does not fall under the jurisdiction of the Historic Preservation Commission. They contend its listing as an historic site came after city plans to tear down the outdated structure.

An injunction currently restraining the destruction of the church expires next Tuesday, at which time opposing factions in the dispute will be given the opportunity to present their cases in court. The hearings is set for that day, Oct. 10, will be held at the Anne Arundel County Circuit Court in Annapolis.

Mrs. Johnson was mother of florist

Mrs. Edna Johnson of 1500 N. Caroline St. died at home, Friday, after a short illness.

Requiem mass was Tuesday at St. Frances Xavier Church. Burial is in New Cathedral Cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson, a Baltimorean, had many survivors. Survivors are son, Stanely Beckett, owner of the St. Francis Flower Shop; 2 adopted daughters, Mrs. Mary Grooms and Mrs. Emma Martin; 6 adopted sons, Freddie Williams, David Vaughn, John Stewart, Morris Waters, Richard Graham, and John Martin;

Also, nieces, Mrs. Hilda Mussenden and Mrs. Beulah Boyce; and one nephew, Charles Bennett.

A CLOCK FOR THE COLLECTOR, the Rev. Marion C. Bascom, was the gift of the Vulcan Blazers the local organization of black professional firefighters, for the pastor's leadership as the city's first black fire commissioner. From left are Charles R. Thomas, Vernon Mason, the Rev. Mr. Bascom; John Fryer and Curtis Chapman. The presentation also marked the Rev. Mr. Bascom's 23rd anniversary as pastor of the Douglas Memorial Community Church.

Citizens asked to help School Task Force

The Task Force on Enrollment and Districting, recently formed by Dr. Roland Patterson to develop plans to resolve school overcrowding and underutilization, is inviting the public to participate in the planning process and work with the Task Force 'on an ongoing basis.'

In making the announcement, Lloyd McDonald, chairman of the Task Force of 10 staff members said, "Since the work of this Task Force could affect all segments of this city, the Task Force feels that every individual and organization which wishes to participate should have an opportunity."

Interested groups and individuals are invited to contact the chairman in writing to arrange an initial meeting with the Task Force no later than Oct. 18.

All requests should be directed to Lloyd McDonald, chairman, Task Force on Enrollment and Districting, Pimlico Junior High School, 5500 W. Northern Parkway, Baldimore or phone 467-4000, extension 2879.

In a letter asking community participation, the Task Force states "The thinking, ideas, concerns and questions of the community will be a valuable part of the joint planning process.

"It is hoped that the options developed for consideraion by the Superintendent and the Board of School Commissioners will reflect input of students, citizens' groups parents, teacher and administrative organizations and others who comprise out total community."

* * *

Dr. Patterson has asked the Task Force to have the final report submitted to him by the Board of School Commissioners' last meeting in December. In addition progress reports are to be submitted until then.
