Homesick congressmen receive fatter fringes — Investigation

House members have given themselves more free trips home and a fatter stationery allowance, starting next year.

Instead of 26 round trips to the capital from their homes in the two-year session of Congress, they will be reimbursed for up to 38 trips.

Whereas they formerly got $3,500 per year to spend at the House stationery room, they hereafter will get $4,250. If not used in full, the unspent sum can be drawn in cash.

Members who live nearby, and who don't want to keep track of travel expenses, can draw a flat $2,250 for travel, per two-year session. The figure formerly was $1,500.

Employes of House members, who formerly were reimbursed for a total of up to four round trips per Congress to the member's district, hereafter may make six such trips in two years at taxpayer expense.

The added fringe benefits were ordered by the Administration Committee and became effective on publication in the Congressional Record.

Senators, whose fringe benefits are set separately, can be reimbursed for 20 to 22 round trips to their home stated per year, either for keep track of travel staff members. For stationery they get $3,600 to $5,000 per year, depending on state population.

Mrs. Green granted divorce

Mrs. Vernell Green, of 600 block Denison St., was granted a divorce this week from her husband, Walter W. Green Jr., 40.

The couple was married Dec. 26, 1971. Judge Solomon Liss signed the decree on Oct. 5.

Mrs. Green, 38, testified she had been separated from her husband since Jan. 1, 1972. According to records, Mrs. Green stated that her husband mistreated her.

The court was told he was vicious, shot at her and forced her out of her house. The wife testified she had conducted herself as a kind, chaste and affectionate wife.

According to the congressman's file there are 70 people in this specific area with the majority of them black.

Out of 25 blacks considered to be eligible for promotion to eight GS-4 positions only one out of 25 made the best qualified list.

Some 17 black employees attempted to present the problem of racial discrimination to the management and were threatened away by threats from an EEO (Equal Employment Opportunity) counselor.

The EEO counselor threatened to put them on annual leave or AWOL status, Congressman Mitchell was told.

The counselor later told them that would not happen.

Now these same employees are making a complaint that they are being harassed by their supervisors by unusually close supervision.

According to the congressman's files, the employees were told no action would be taken on their grievances because the EEO counselor they spoke to was the wrong counselor because he was out of their black employees.

The congressman said he presented many cases to the administrators before and later found no meaningful effort was being made to solve discrimination.

Since the congressman says he found no real evidence of progress, he laid out a three-phase plan to the administrators.

The meeting ended with Social Security congratulating the congressman "a very good meeting" and revelation the government agency wants to improve and correct problems.

Some 300 employees walked off their jobs before noon to meet Mr. Mitchell.

Later employees from the Dickinson Building took him to their location where hundreds staged a rally and presented grievances.

* * *

A second meeting is called for Oct. 19, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with administrators and all employees with grievances. A room in the Dickinson complex will be cleared for ample space.

The first option made is to contact Secretary Elliot Richardson of the Health, Education and Welfare Committee.

He also plans to contact the House Education and Labor Committee to obtain the necessary effort for them to assist.

The third option is to bring the problem to the Congressional Black Caucus and request their independent investigation hearing.

The specific reason for the Thursday meeting was to discuss complaints made by black employees in BDC (Bureau of Disability Insurance).

According to the congressman's file there are 70 people in this specific area with the majority of them black.

Out of 25 blacks considered to be eligible for promotion to eight GS-4 positions only one out of 25 made the best qualified list.

Some 17 black employees attempted to present the problem of racial discrimination to the management and were threatened away by threats from an EEO (Equal Employment Opportunity) counselor.

The EEO counselor threatened to put them on annual leave or AWOL status, Congressman Mitchell was told.

The counselor later told them that would not happen.

Now these same employees are making a complaint that they are being harassed by their supervisors by unusually close supervision.

According to the congressman's files, the employees were told no action would be taken on their grievances because the EEO counselor they spoke to was the wrong counselor because he was out of their section.

At the end of Thursday's meeting special assistant administrator Louis Zawatsky assured all employees there will be no such reprisals.

The administrators asked the congressman for his files.

The congressman said he feels they do not need his files because they should be able to identify and eliminate all discrimination problems with the use of the millions of dollars they have.

Congressman Mitchell has asked 8 administrators to demonstrate willingness to make significant advances in the areas of fair employment by investigating the specific issues.

He also wants to be advised of the bases of all conclusions and to take positive action against the people who brought this problem about.

Mr. Zawatsky told the AFRO that one-third of the employees at Social Security are black.

He said, "There is an equal rate of promotion for blacks as for others.

"That's what our records show."

He also stated, "We're all trying to do something to find the problem areas and do something about it."

He concluded, "It was a very pleasant conference.

"The congressman wants to improve and I want to do the same."

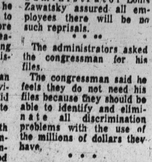
Mr. Zawatsky presented the congressman with some statistics on the employment of minorities and women in the Baltimore headquarters.

The congressman's assistant described them, "Statistics are just like a coloring book in that they provide outlines that are easily colored attitudes."

Present at the meeting were Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, Skip Cooper, the congressman's assistant; Jerry Mitchell, Equal Opportunity Staff Officer; Jim Troy, Equal Opportunity Specialist; Louis Zawatsky, Herbert G. Creech, Special Staff for Labor Relations and Equal Opportunity Director and Charles P. Bennett Jr., Division of Personnel, Deputy Director.



BILL BRYANT

An Open Letter

William G. (Bill) Bryant, a professional local photographer is one of many citizens who contacted the AFRO Thursday "upset" about the James Brown For Nixon deal.

After hearing the radio airing what the famed singer said about the White House employing black citizens and a Nixon assistant's having a cake of octagon soap in his office, Mr. Bryant fumed. His open letter states in essence:

"It seems to me these are poor reasons for Nixon or any public official to boast. White politicians feel if they stick a token black face here and there, the black man will think he is for our people.

Mr. Bryant asks, "How can James Brown insinuate Nixon is for the black man? It's high time our citizens everywhere and in Baltimore stand up to these black persons who are used and fooled by Nixon or any other white politician.

"Until we change from people into some other form, we shall be considered as people and treated as people with equal rights. We will get our rights and freedom.

"In order to get these rights and freedom, every eligible black man and woman must vote.

"Don't listen to those who tell you to stay home and not vote because neither candidate is for the black man.

"We must remember, It is better to have a man who is partly for the black man than a man who is not at all for the Black man.

"It would be better to vote for the man who is partly for the black man. simply because we will then be able to get something done for us. Equally important, we will not be given a "nase job," by the use of tokenism.

"Another reason we must vote is because of our pocketbooks. One candidate cares nothing about middle and lower class whites or blacks. He is only concerned about big industries.

"On the other hand, we have a candidate who wants the tax loopholes closed so that everyone would pay his fair share of taxes and not have the rich pay nothing and the poor pay it all.

'One candidate for President makes no attempts to end the war, thus allowing our brothers and sons, cousins and nephews to be killed on the battle field every day.

"On the other hand, we have a Democratic candidate who wants to stop the war. Then you will not have to spend sleepless nights wondering if some one you know will live through the night in Vietnam or survive the next day or return home."

Dazed prisoner sent to city jail 'to dry up'

"You are under drugs or alcohol.

"You have fallen asleep. I saw you walking to your seat.

"You are not paying attention. I will not permit you to go to trial. You are guilty of contempt of court. I will commit you to jail where you can be dried up."

Above are the words of Judge Anslem Sodaro in Criminal Court Wednesday.

Troy James, 22, of 700 block Edgewood St., was before the jurist charged with narcotic violations, assault with intent to murder and carrying a deadly weapon.

The defendant was in "no shape" to take the witness stand.

James was sent to jail because he came in court under tht influence of narcotics.

Troy James was found not guilty of insult with intent to murder and not guilty of carrying a deadly weapon. Judge Sodaro found him guilty today (Friday) of possession of heroin and was sentence to four years in jail.

The trial will continue today (Friday).

While Judge Sodaro, was trying to talk to the defendant, he continued to interrupt.

James told the court, "I am high because I have been to get my methadone this morning. Please do not send me to jail. Forgive me and give me another chance. Your honor, I am begging you don't send me to jail. Your honor, all I will do is sit down and go to sle
