Columbia Capers

By PINNIE L. ROSS

Friendship Exchange, a county-wide service organization, has been given the use of the Mall for one day, Sunday, December 17, from 1 to 6 p.m.

Joy Sunday activities will include a "Children's Corner" . . . a center for turtle races, movies and arts and crafts. Featuring also at the Mall will be a life-size doll house, designed to captivate the younger set. Gospel singing will be by St. John's Baptist Church.

In the afternoon, a fashion show will be given. Participating in the show will be the Pinnie Ross male models popular, Travis Winkey (Boodie) and Arnold Mitchell, senior at Coppin State College.

Highlight of the day's activities will be an unusual auction. The main attraction of the auction is an unusual quilt designed by Peggy Wood. The coverlet has features of Columbia's trademark, the people tree, surrounded by the new town's villages.

All proceeds from Joy Day will be given to Friendship Exchange.

The National Council of Negro women sponsored a Sunday family affair to Roadside America and Xmas Village in Bernville, Pa. last week. Some 90 adults and children participated in the affair.

When approaching Christmas Village, the excitement began to grow amongst the little children.

They saw the exciting and glittering lights at the top of the hill, lights, lights glowing all around, made and shaped into different objects captured the eyes of the tiny tots.

Many of the members supported the event by underwriting ticket costs for some children.

The Council's Christmas project is to participate in a Xmas party for women at Jessup Correctional Institute. At this party the inmates' children will be present, and will receive from the organization toys and stockings stuffed with nuts and fruits.

If you wish to contribute to this worthwhile project contact Diane Tolson, 730-8144 or Minnie Toure, 730-7305. Deliveries will be set up for December 23rd.

PIERIANS

The Pierians sponsored their annual art exhibit Sunday at Morgan State College Gallery of Art.

This exhibit entitled "Black Matri-Images," a retrospective exhibition of paintings by Laura Wheeler Waring and painting and prints by Elizabeth Catlett, Lois Jones, Alma W. Thomas, in memory of the AFRO-AMERICAN women's editor, the late Mrs. Lula Mackay. Chit chatting among many old friends, we saw many couples from Columbia. They were guests of Mrs. Emerson Walden (Celonia), Mr. and Mrs. Phyllis Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Briscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Dr. and Mrs. James Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Tyson and Dr. and Mrs. George Taylor.

The Pierians are strictly dedicated to art and cultural activities.

The club was founded 15 years ago by Mrs. Annette Johnson, a Columbia resident, and principal of the beautiful Lake Clifton High.

GREETINGS

Greeting people as they entered the art showing and perfect hostesses were cute Carolyn Briscoe, (little) Celonia Walden and Janet Young.

In the mail bag today came a letter from pretty Columbian Kay Black. It read: "Hi, left National Airport and arrived in Miami; left Miami same evening and landed in San Jose, Costa Rica at 9:15, stayed at the Irosen Hotel. Next stop by plane was Fred, Kay's better half, is the executive director of the Economic Resource Corporation. This is a private, non-profit land development organization, presently developing Watts Industrial Park in Los Angeles, California. This organization deals not only with construction, but training programs, job opportunities, community services, equal opportunity. Emphasis is toward the minority, especially blacks; since Fred has taken this position 850 new job slots have been created in one year.

MISS HERBERTA NICHOLS will wed Dec. 20.
