MRS. GREEN

By MARJORIE R. GREEN

By MARJORIE R. GREEN

It was a memorable Friday afternoon in the life of Mrs. Florence Dugan. Co-workers and friends gathered at the Quality Quart Motel to help her celebrate her 30 years in government service.

Mrs. Dogan was radiant as she gave thanks to those who had come to wish her well in retirement. She revealed she intends to devote her spare time to help others through volunteer civic and church work.

She revealed she intends to devote her spare time to helping others through volunteer civic and church work.

She emphasized, however that her toughest assignment would be learning how to be a full time housewife.

Section chief, Walter Beverly, did a unique job reviewing her career in the Social Security Administration. He re-called her entrance on duty as a Tabulating cerk in 1942, and described the changes that have come since those early days in the Candler Building.

He also mentioned the many years she spent as a claims examiner in the Certification Branch prior to coming to the Bureau of Disability Insurance.

There were more:

Unit Chief, Thomas Jones, and Technical Assistance Irene Terry, told the honorees she would be "greatly missed" by all of the authorization clerks and supervisory staff in the Continuing Eligibility unit where she last worked.

On hand for the farewell dinner, in addition to those already mentioned were: Mesdames Ann Pound, Susan Mangum, Laura Strassberger, Gloria Heise, Olivia Weems, Maureen Levy, Margaret Foster, Gladys Palmer, Elinda Hatfield, Marjorie Green.

Also Mesdames Mary Jane Barbuck, Willie Tyler, Ruth Farson, Barbara Mabe, Julia Ransome, Julia Nichols, Lenora Kamber, Blanche Malanow, Modil Stokes, Ellen Griffin, Beatrice Nixon, Margaret Resop, Marion Lincoln, Maceo Holland, Marguerite Thornton, Pauline Weston, and Myrtle Dawson.

And, Andy Gray, Dan Bralove, Sam Moore, Morton Silesky, Ron Jiretza, Beale Cooper, Robert Augustine, Richard Perry, Dwight Johnson, Steve Mitchell, Larry Gibson, Len Dickson, Gerald Brandt, John Mulgrew, Albert Kommarsky.

Sending best wishes, but unable to attend were Mrs. Marie Suter and Benjamin Scott.

GGOG'S (Government Girls on the Go), held their annual holiday luncheon on Friday, at Dante's. The group, founded by Mesdame Mamie Jones, Hazel Woods and Sarah Gross, entertained more than 60 guests with a "Do Your Own Thing" fashion show and singing of Christmas carols.

Mrs. Jones opened the festivities by giving a brief history of all of the government girls who represented the employees from the Social Security buildings downtown and in the Woodlawn complex.

Chairman for this years luncheon was lovely Thirza Thompson.

The photography of Alvin M. David, Assistant Commissioner for Program Evaluation and Planning of the Social Security Administration, has been featured in a one-man exhibit in the Slayton House, Columbia since November 25. The exhibit has proved so popular that it will be held over until January 6.

The photographs will be exhibited from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday; and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Mr. David became interested in photography years before he joined the Social Security Administration in 1936. The display at Slayton House include 35 photographs, mostly seascapes and mountain landscapes. Entry to the exhibit is free.

Mr. David became interested in photography years before he joined the Social Security Administration in 1936. The display at Slayton House include 35 photographs, mostly seascapes and mountain landscapes. Entry to the exhibit is free.

Mr. David is the key legislative adviser to the Commissioner of Social Security. He is married to the former Linda Whitney they have a daughter, Joan Salzman. About his pictures, Mr. David said "I take most of them when I travel."

Some of his favorite shots are pictures taken in Greece, Italy, Sweden, Oregon, California, and in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Mrs. David added: "When we travel, Alvin always brings a camera, a tripod, and an eye for a photograph. Sometimes he'll spend an hour studying a shot and he won't take a picture. Sometimes he'll shoot a whole roll of film in 10 minutes. If he has two suitcases, one will contain clothes, the other photographic equipment." Apparently, his picture-taking is also quite satisfying to others because Mr. David has won several awards for his camera work.

As resident of Ellicott City, he is a member of the American Public Welfare Association, National Social Welfare Assembly, and serves on the Board of Directors of the National Council on Aging.

Sadness came to the Division of Adjudication Monday morning when news of the sudden death of Mrs. Evelyn Hilda Collins reached SSA.

Mrs. Collins had made many friends since she began work in 1961.

She was known for her admirable performances as Section Chief in the Bureau of Data Processing.

Funeral services were Wednesday at New Shiloh Baptist church.

The Social Security Administration Volunteer Christmas party for handicapped children was a tremendous success. Santa Claus who in real-life is Bob Dalrymple, 6'3" tall and weighing close to 300 lbs. was on hand to see that each child received at least three gifts.

Because of the generous contributions of the employees there were enough toys left to distribute among six area schools this week. A cavalcade of cars left SSA headquarters on Wednesday afternoon laden with toys, clowns and volunteers who signed for annual leave to give their services to this worthwhile project.

The SSA volunteers have been selected to participate as finalists for the 1972 volunteers national award. Selections for this years award will be made on February 14th in Washington. Taree other groups will be competing for the honor. Kitty Smith and Louis Zawatzky will represent SSA volunteers at the ceremony.
