EPICUREANS PARTY

There was singing and swinging at the annual Yule party given by the Epicureans at the home of Mrs. Delores Sykes.

Fashionable hostesses, Blanche Beckham and Mrs. Sykes, entertained club members and their lively guests with carol singing, conducted by Jacqueline Hardy. And, gifts were exchanged among the group and their guests.

About that evening were Mesdames Philathea Hall, Christine Moore, Jomie Horton, Llewelyn Walker, Pauline Blackwell, Beatrice Wright, Sarah Taylor, Jean Wilson, Kay Carter, Robbie Chissell, Gloria King, Chances Murphy and Bernice McDaniels.

Members present were Mesdames Barbara Bennett, Gordine Blount, Marion Brown, Elise Clark, Gladys Daniels, Elva Edwards, Dorothy Johnson, Bernadine Harrison, Betty Morton, Audrey Pinderhughes, Niki Randolph, Annabelle Rawlings, Marita Stokes and Doris Wallace.

The group will hold its next meeting on January 26 at the home of Mrs. Stokes.

HOLIDAY VISIT

Back from a three-day stay in New York City are Misses Patricia L. Holtsclaw and Yvonne Holt. The girls drove to the big city last week and dropped in on Miss Sherly Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Al (Dorothy) Dalton and Mr. and Mrs. Lamont (Paulette) Pittman. Mrs. Pittman is Pat's sister.

30 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore "Teddy" Johnson (Carlotte) will celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary this month. In prior years, the couple hosted nearly 100 friends at open house dinner on their special day, however, this year they plan to wine and dine alone at a cozy spot.

MORE HOLIDAY PARTIES

The Wilbert McNamaras hosted their annual pre-New Year's shindig last Friday night at their elegant Ludgate Rd. home. The superb hostess, Mrs. "Chickie" McNamara had prepared a tasty repast for her 50 or more guests while "Mac" mixed bubbly drinks.

The couple has three children, Kevin, 14; Tracy, 7, and Keith, 3.

Word got around that Irving Phillips was having a New Year's Eve party and folks from all over dropped by to check it out. This writer estimates that there were at least 150 guests, all told.

Guests ranged from his younger sister, Sheila, and her group to his older sister, Laura, and her friends. And, somewhere in between came the hosts friends. Folks ranged from TV personalities to college students. For those of you who couldn't make it, Irving plans to do it again soon.

(NOTE: Young Mr. Phillip, a bachelor, is the Sunpaper's star photographer).

CORRECTION

In Tuesday's AFRO, the writer listed Melvin A. Cullman as president of the Templars. Ooops that wasn't correct. David Scott heads the group and members are proud and grateful for the outstanding job he is doing. This writer is sorry for the error.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

At a recent birthday dinner, honoring the Rev. Ernest P. Clark, minister of Metropolitan United Methodist Church, friends, members of the church and relatives participated in an evening of great pleasure, togetherness and fellowship at Lord Baltimore Hotel.

The Rev. Mr. Clark is vice-president of the Board of Education of the Baltimore Conference; member, Board of Missions and is currently serving on District and Annual Conference Nominating Committee.

He served as a member of the Capital Fund Design Team and is vice chairman of the Convocation on Local Ministries.

The Rev. Clark also serves on the Advisory Council of Family and Children Adoption Agency and is an advisor of the Provident Comprehensive Health Center; co-chairman, Social Action Committee and participates in the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance and other related groups.

Mrs. Doralee Dyson Ringgold presided at the celebration. The Rev. Frank L. Williams, minister of Asbury United Methodist Church, Washington, D.C. gave the invocation.

Mrs. Ringgold related some of the highlights of the Rev. Clark's services in the church as a minister and as a friend of the people in the community. Her remarks became witty and this set the pace for the evening.

HIGHLIGHTS

Highlights of the evening were the solos rendered by his two daughters, Misses Lorraine and Donna Clark and accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Martha Clark, an English instructor in the public schools.

Mrs. Clark was elegant in her beautiful winter blue lace dress.

Mrs. Corelia L. Smith led the closing prayer of thankfulness followed by group singing directed by the Rev. D. Ridout.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

In charge of the tokens of appreciation were:

Mesdames Annie Moses, Thedosia Burnes, Mattie Gray and Jo Ellen Lofton.

Serving on the ticket committee were Messrs. Chester Washington, John Gray and James Murray. Hostesses included Mesdames Hortense Franklin, Dorothy Mooney, Sara Rose, Viola Butler, Mary Wilson, Soloma Powell, Melvina McClain, Genevieve Fields.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

A 57th wedding anniversary dinner party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Evans Sr. Christmas Eve at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Roberta Lecato.

Mrs. Helena Evans was elegantly dressed in gold and black. The gown topped off with a strand of white pearls and matching earrings. A gold orchid was pinned on by her oldest daughter, Mrs. Eva James. She also wore silver slippers and a silver bag.

Mr. Evans was handsome in white knit pants, black bow tie and a black dinner jacket. Mr. Evans also wore a boutonniere which was pinned on by his second oldest daughter, Mrs. Helena Wheatley.

CHILDREN

Mr. and Mrs. Evans have 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren, are: Messrs. and Mesdames George James (daughter and husband); Leon Wheatley (daughter and husband); John Lecato (daughter and husband); Edward L. Evans (son and wife) and Earl W. Evans (son).

The head table was decorated in gold and white. The centerpiece was a gold and white floral arrangement. The cake had four tiers in gold and white topped with orchids.

Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Evans have 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Evans has one brother, Robert T. Vowels Sr.

GUESTS

About that evening were Mr. Charles Evans' brothers and sisters, Willie Evans, Washington, D.C. and Mesdames Maggie Anderson and Annie Watson of Baltimore.

Also, their nieces and nephews attended the celebration. They included: Messrs. and Mesdames Willie Rogers, Ed Johnson and daughter; Walter Bridges and a Member of Owings Mills, Edward Smoot and family and Carl Parker.

Also Messrs. Edward Shepter, Primo Harris, Aubrey Phillips.

Mesdames Lillian Brown, Harvey Thomas, Irene Oliver, Dorothy Allan and Effie Quintillian.

Miss Pearl Smith and Judy Kravis and Dr. and Mrs. William Watts.

A special record, "Our Anniversary Waltz," was dedicated to the couple. The affair ended at 1 a.m. Christmas morning.

51ST ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown of 500 Archer St. celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary Christmas day along with their five children, 16 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Lansing, Michigan were special guests. They are the niece and nephew of Mrs. Brown.

LA LECHE LEAGUE

The La Leche League, Northwest Group, will hold its next meeting Thursday, January 11, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Steve Hurt, 7-A Greenbury Court, Town and Country Apts., Woodlawn, Md. Subject: "The Art of Breastfeeding: Overcoming Difficulties." For further information, call 944-0641.

FOUNDER'S DAY

During the month of January, over 60,000 Deltas far and wide will be paying tribute to those awe-inspiring women who in 1913 designed and created the foundation for their great sorority. Members of the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority have already formulated plans for their commemorative occasion.

On January 14 Deltas in our city will celebrate Founder's Day at a Memorial Day Dinner at Martin's West.

They will have as their guest speaker, their immediate past president, Soror Frankie Muse Freeman. Mrs. Freeman is the first and only woman to serve as a commissioner on the U.S. Civil Rights Commission. She received her appointment from President Lyndon B. Johnson on March 1, 1964. An attorney, she has practiced law in both state and federal courts since 1949; served as Assistnt Attorney General of Missouri; taught Business Law in the Associate College of Upper New York; and worked in the Office of Price Administration and the U.S. Treasury Department.

A native of Danville, Va., she attended Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va. and received her LLB from Howard University, Washington, D.C. She is a member of the Missouri State Bar and Washington, D.C. Bar and has been admitted to practice in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Baltimore Deltas will also present a souvenir but original operetta depicting the history of the accomplishments and outstanding events of the chapter during the years. Much planning and work has gone into the activities for this celebration. It is the hope of the Founder's Day Committee that all Delta sorors and friends will be present at this memorable occasion.

This year's Founder's Day Committee is headed by formal sister, Mrs. Dolores F. Bacon and Elizabeth F. Diggs. Working with them are Sorors Gloria Marrow, Doris Nash, Louise Jackson, Betsy Fox, Lucy Harrison, Thelma Cox, Chapelle A. Mastard, Bernice Fuller, Leah Hasty, Florence McDonald and Dorothy Marshall, publicity.

For ticket information call 357-0337 or 357-1116. Commemorative plates will be on sale, an excellent moment to mark this occasion.

MRS. IDA M. REDD

The illustrious Mrs. Ida M. Redd, wife of the Rev. Samuel B. Redd, pastor of the Mt. Ararat Baptist Church, will be honored by friends and church members on Sunday, January 14 at the Holiday Inn Downtown.

Committee workers say this tribute is being held to give recognition of Mrs. Redd's outstanding service to her church. It will bring to light aspects of her service to the youth, the missionary and all other aspects of her life in the church."

Many know Mrs. Redd. She is the daughter of Mrs. Artexas Collier George and the late Shiloh George.

Born in Early County in Arlington, Ga., she attended the public schools there. She was graduated valedictorian from Arlington High and attended Albany Normal College (now Albany State).

At age 13 she joined the Piney Grove Baptist Church and was secretary of the Sunday School and taught church classes therefor several years.

AFFILIATIONS

In addition to her religious affiliations at Mt. Ararat, she has served as president of the Senior Missionary Society for 17 years; past superintendent of Sunday School from 1952-1956; vice-president of the senior choir; honorary member of the gospel chorus and organized the gospel chorus in 1955; member, Nurses Unit; member, Deaconess Board; advisor of the Ida M. Redd Sisters; vice-president of the Presidents' Council; assistant teacher of the 9-year class and head of the beginner department; member, Pastors Aid Society; and many others.

Committee members of the affair include: Mesdames and Misses Doris Holt, general chairman; Naomi Brown, assistant general chairman; Lucille Johnson, program chairman; Pearline Carter, assistant program chairman; Etta Thomson, financial chairman; Thelma Simms, assistant financial chairman, and Evelyn Becoats, publicity chairman.

BARC ASSOCIATES

BARC Associates, new affiliate of the Baltimore Association for Retarded Children, opened the New Year with tours to acquaint its membership with several of the 20 some facilities BARC operates daily throughout the city and county.

Instead of a January meeting, the new group plans tours on alternate dates, Wednesday, January 10, or Tuesday, January 16. Each will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Searchlight Habilitation Center, BARC's sheltered workshop at 4321 Old York Rd.

From the Searchlight Habilitation Center, the group will provide transportation for the tours and will serve lunch at one of its facilities, returning those participating to their starting point by 2:30 p.m.

ABOUT BARC

BARC founded the new organization at an inaugural luncheon in November as an outreach into the community, a volunteer body and sportive service designed to provide Metropolitan Baltimore and its retarded community with a variety of programs for meeting human needs, stimulating public awareness and encouraging personal activism.

At the initial meeting of BARC Associates in December members began the formulation of numerous committees and an executive board. A charter signin ceremony was a highlight of the occasion. Mrs. Leon Zukerberg, founding President of BARC nity, a volunteer body and sportive one or the other tour, but to make reservations through Ms. Joanna Cannon, Director of Volunteer Services, at the Baltimore Association for Retarded Children, 4800 York Road, Baltimore, Maryland 21212.

Anyone interested in joining the organization should contact Miss Cannon at the above address or by telephone at 323-5600. At present charter memberships are still available.

Alexander Hamburger is president of the parent Baltimore Association for Retarded Children; Herbert L. Fedder is executive director.
