for production of grass cutters, all assembled, tested for efficiency and packaged by staff members of the factory.

Out-put of grass cutters has increased in a short period of three months from 1,500 to 5,000 per week.

"Nobody thought it would work, but we soon hope to expand our factory into larger fields.

"We even hope to open a Child Day Care Center next door if the progress keep up," stated the enthusiastic manager, Mr. Teele.

Open House is scheduled for the week of Jan. 20 as an introduction to the community.

Dr. Marvin Platt (medical examiner) reported, "this paralysis led to death by "extensive bronchopneumonia."

Assistant State's Attorney Gerald Richman at a preliminary hearing on Jan. 5 asked Judge Baer to reduce the charge from homicide to manslaughter.

In his request, Mr. Richman referred to Dr. Platt, who concluded, "The manner of death is accidental."

The doctor wrote, "It is noted that a search of the medical literature and survey of physical medicine and sports authorities reveal no incidence of cervical fracture from a double or single Nelson maneuver.

"It is further noted that no one considered this hold as a purposeful design to cause a fracture.

"Thus the circumstances and testimony in this case indicated that the manner of death is accidental."

BLACK–AND IT'S BEEN BEAUTIFUL

Beginning our Insurance Career 36 years ago, our aims were to stay in business, make a living for my family, and to secure the best and broadest coverage for black people, and open up to them new vistas and techniques of the vast industry.

During the years we have represented as Agents the top American Companies: Aetna C. & S., Hartford Fire, Home, I. N. A., Maryland Casualty, Maryland Indemnity, New Amsterdam Travelers, and the Triple A. Millions in premium dollars have been collected for these companies from black policyholders. Many persons have been employed and trained at Koger & Sons and now serve with distinction as agents, brokers claim adjusters, clerks, marketeers and underwriters.

Best of all, my policyholders have been justly paid for their losses by the companies and continue to be advised by us in placing their business. Additionally we have served as their champions fighting for fair rates agency appointments and a non-discriminatory practices of races and residence. Our crusades before the State insurance Commission, the press on radio and T.V., and before various city, state and federal Finally to perpetuate our expertise, ideals and service to policyholders and companies. We have transferred the ownership of our agency to Mr. Mel de Rutledge, promising young insurance administrator and an astute Morgan State College Faculty member. Mr. Rutledge is also Chief Executive of de Rutledge & Associates, a consulting and financial planning firm, specializing in pensions profit sharing, executive compensation and group insurance.

The combined Agencies will perhaps make his the largest black owned Agency in the Mid Atlantic regions. It will certainly be the most influential in terms of key clients and trained employees. We will be retained in an advisory and technical capacity.

We are grateful to our customers and our companies and fellow businessmen. We thank all of you.

In the future, we expect to spend more time in promoting Earl Koger Co. and black history books and games for children: Black Mother Goose, Legend of Jocko, Black Heroes, etc.

Sincerely,
Earl Koger Sr.

threaten and told not to come to court to testify."

Young Harris was a second year student at Hampton Institute and was home on vacation when he was killed.

At the conclusion of the trial Thursday afternoon, the jury found Thomas Wilson, 21, 2630 block Forest Park Ave., guilty of second degree murder in the shooting death of Arthur Harris, 20, 3200 block Burleith Ave. Sentence was withheld pending a motion for a new trial.

Records placed before the court state that Wilson and the victim had been arguing before the incident. Records claim that Wilson went home and got a gun. He later returned to the scene of Forest Park Ave. and began arguing again with Harris.

As the defendant started to walk away, his mother stated "he has a gun." Witnesses then turned around and shot the victim, according to records.

Harris, who has been free on bail since July 12, took the stand Wednesday in his own defense. He told the jury:

"I was coming from my grandmother's house. I parked my car and noticed some of the boys on the corner. I walked up to the corner to speak to them

"Bunky approached me and said he was robbed today. He said if you don't wipe that smile off your face I will kill you. I then went home and got my gun to show Bunky I had a gun. We started to argue and my mother said come on home.

"I started home and my mother said look out he has a gun. I turned around, he had a gun and I shot Bunky had threatend me before. I found out two days later from my mother Bunky was dead.

"I went home only to show him I had a gun. He had been bothering me and teasing me. I got upset and excited I could not believe it when I heard a boom. I was afraid so I ran. I told Bunky it was all over with. I had my hand on the trigger I pulled the trigger and turned around and ran. I did not want to shoot him. All my life he has been teasing me."

Mrs. Ruth Wilson, mother of the defendant told the jury "It was an old gun that my husband used for hunting. The gun was kept in my bedroom for 15 years. It has never been fired or taken out of the house.

"They were arguing in the middle of the street on Forest Park Ave. My son gave himself up. He walked into the police station. My son traveled by himself."

In closing arguments to the jury, Michael Mitchell, prosecutor, told the jury "The defendant came up the street and got in an argument with Arthur Mr. Wilson then walked some 90 feet to his house. He walked back down the street some 90 feet. Just because they had an argument that does not mean he has to take his life.

"Arthur was a second year student at Hampton Institute. You are here today representing the city of Baltimore and the state of Maryland. After you deliberate, the state is asking you to return with a verdict of first degree."

Leonard Freedman, the defendant's attorney told the jury "Thomas Wilson Jr. is 21. He left school in the 10th grade. He was not working at the time of this incident. One time in California he was charged with breaking and entering but he was placed on probation.

"What caused this young man to fire that gun? You will recall one of the state witnesses said Mr. Harris had a angry look on his face. This young man should not have gone in that house and got that shotgun. After the second argument Tommy said I have had it. He turned around to go home.

"If the other young man had not pulled out a pistol this would not have happened. He did a very dumb thing in that house getting that gun. He did a very smart thing when he said, look I have had it and turned around to go home.

He was acting in self defense. I ask you for a verdict of not guilty."

This leaves 16 deputy whip vacancies remaining to be filled and the chance Mitchell might land one.

In recommending Mitchell for appointment as Deputy Whip, Cong. Stokes, chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus said, "There was not a single dissent in the caucus. Cong. Mitchell has a firm grasp of the legislative process, his record of attendance on the floor is excellent, and when he speaks on the floor he is listened to with respect by his colleagues. He is our man for the spot."

The Caucus recommendation must be approved by the Democratic leadership of the House.

Boswell also assailed the selections, claiming that black people have again been placed "lowest on the totem pole."

She argued the black member should have been given a longer appointment because "in essence the majority of the money for the lottery will be coming from the black community."

"I feel strongly," she declared, "that every black person in Maryland should write the Governor to let him know of our disappointment."

The other Lottery Commission selections were: George P. Mahoney and Morgan W. Wayson, Jr. (four years each); Edward C. Wilson of Brookeville (three years); and John M. Martin, Sr. (two years).

The members of the black Senate delegation are Robert L. Dalton (D. 2nd), Clarence W. Blount (D.5th), Clarence M. Mitchell III (D. 4th) and Verda Welcome (D. 4th)

City representatives in the House include: James A. Scott, Jr. (D. 2nd), Joseph A. Chester (D. 2nd), John W. Douglass (D. 2nd), Hildegardeir Boswell (D. 4th), Troy Brewer (D. 4h), Frank M. Conaway (D. 4th), Isaiah Dixon, Jr. (D. 4h), and Calvin A. Douglass (D. 4th).

Also, Lena K. Lee (D.4th), Lloyal Randolph (D. 4th), Walter Dean, Jr. (D. 6th), Kenneth L. Webster (D. 5th).

The other two black delegates are Arthur A. King (D. Prince George's) and Doris T. Allen (D. Anne Arundel).
