PUBLIC NOTICE
The following notice of the submission of the Maryland Occupational Safety and Health Plan to the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health, as published in the Federal Register on January 22, 1973, is published herewith by the Division of Labor and Industry of the State of Maryland in accordance with Section 18 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 667) and Section 11 of Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations:

MARYLAND DEVELOPMENT PLAN
State Occupational Safety and Health Standards; Notice of Submission of Plan and Availability for Public Comment
1. Submission and description of plan. Pursuant to section 18 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 667) and section 1902.11 of Title 29 Code of Federal Regulations, notice is hereby given that an Occupational Safety and Health Plan for the State of Maryland has been submitted to the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health. The Assistant Secretary has preliminarily reviewed the plan, and hereby gives notice that the question of approval of the plan is in issue before him.
The plan identifies the Division of Labor and Industry in the Department of Licensing and Regulation as the State agency designed by the Governor of the State to administer the plan throughout the State. It defines the covered occupational safety and health issues as defined by the Secretary of Labor in 29 CFR 1902.3(c)-(j). It provides a description of personnel employed under the merit system, the coverage of employees of political subdivisions; and procedures for the prompt restraint or elimination of imminent danger situations.
The plan includes proposed draft legislation to be considered by the Maryland Legislature during its January session. Under the legislation the Division of Labor and Industry will have full authority to enforce and administer laws respecting safety and health of employees in all workplaces of the State with the exemption of employees of the United States, or where there is occupational safety and health protection of employees under the Commissioner of Maryland Department of Licensing and Regulation's approved program assistant for Urban Rural School Development Program, the Rev. Mr. Branford is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Jean B. Byrd, interviewer for the Department of Social Services, both of Baltimore.

Also one son, Harvey Branford, a contractor of Davidsville, Md.; a stepson, the Rev. James E. Hodges, associate minister of Payne A.M.E. Church, Baltimore; two brothers, John and Mansfield Branford of Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Alice Shelton, of Baltimore, and 15 grandchildren.

Rev. Branford dies 19 days after his wife is buried

Funeral services for Rev. J.E. Branford, 83, 1317 W. Mulberry St., were held Thursday at the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church where he had been associate minister for 33 years. Burial followed at the Arbutus Memorial Park.

The Rev. Mr. Branford, who had suffered with a heart ailment for three years, died Sunday at the 3400 block Forest Park Ave. home of his daughter, Mrs. Bernice Lewis.

He had been confined to University Hospital for several weeks and was unable to attend the funeral of his wife, Mrs. Leanna Lincoln Hodges Branford.

Mrs. Branford died on Jan. 2 in Provident Hospital where she had been confined for a month and treated for a heart ailment.

Born in Chesterfield, Md., the Rev. Mr. Branford studied at the Maryland Baptist Center and School of Religion prior to his appointment as associate minister of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church.

He has employed at the American Smelting and Refining Company as a foreman for 42 years until his retirement in the 1960's.

The Rev. Mr. Branford first married Ruth Smith in 1943.

In addition to his daughter, Mrs. Bernice Lewis, employees under the following Federal laws: the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, 42 U.S.C. 2021; THE Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, 30 U.S.C. 901; the Federal Metal and Nonmetallic Mine Safety Act, 30 U.S.C. 721; and the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, 33 U.S.C. 901.

The legislation further proposes to bring the plan into conformity with the requirements of 29 CFR Part 1902 in areas such as procedures for variances and the protection of employees from hazards; and procedures for the development and promulgation of standards, including emergency temporary standards; and protection of employees against new and unforeseen hazards.

The legislation is also intended to issue inspections in response to complaints; give employer and employee representatives an opportunity to accompany inspectors in order to aid inspections; notification of employees as to their representatives when no compliance action is taken as a result of alleged violations, including informal review; notification of employees of their protections and obligations; protection of employees against discharge or discrimination in terms and conditions of employment; adequate safeguards to protect trade secrets, provision for prompt notice to employers and employees of alleged violations of standards and abatement requirements; a system of sanctions against employers for violations of standards; and employer right of review and employee participation in review proceedings.

Included in the plan is a statement of the Governor's support for the proposed legislation and a statement of legal opinion that it will meet the requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970; and is consistent with the Constitution and laws of Maryland. 6 city policemen among 26 arrested in gambling probe

By BLAINE TAYLOR

Behind locked doors and amid great prior secrecy, Baltimore City Police Commissioner Donald Pomerleau today (Friday) announced the 8 a.m. arrest of 26 persons involved in "A substantial gambling operation."

Arrested were six active duty policemen, two former city officers and 18 civilians.

All of the policemen arrested were white, except Vernon E. Townsend.

The arrests came as a conclusion, the commissioner said, of a nine-month investigation conducted by the police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Federal Strike Force in cooperation with the U.S. attorney for the District of Maryland, George Beall.

The announcement was made in the commissioner's conference room on the eighth floor of the new Police Department Headquarters downtown, and once reporters were inside, the doors were locked until the special press conference was over.

Seated beside Mr. Pomerleau as he spoke was Gov. Mandel, Baltimore FBI head Thomas Farrow and all of the commissioner's three deputy commissioners and four chiefs.

According to Mr. Pomerleau, the investigation began in April, 1972, after he had been given information by members of the police force that certain officers had been corrupted.

After determining that the activities of the accused policemen and their "corrupters" was a violation of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970, Mr. Pomerleau stated that he informed the governor and Mayor Schaefer, and then asked the FBI and U.S. Attorney's office to enter the investigation.

Asked if wiretapping had been used in the investigation, Gov. Mandel told the AFRO "All methods of surveillance were employed."

Mr. Pomerleau stated that "There is no connection between this case and that of the 'missing heroin,' although this is an ongoing investigation and there will be more arrests of more police officers.

"Now that we have some people on the hook, it'll be interesting to see where this thing goes", he added

Asked if the arrests could lead to the implication of higher-ups in the department, Pomerleau said "I will not be a party to the tainting and spreading of innuendo about other police officers, but if we find anything we will take action and the press will be notified."

The reason for the strict security and secrecy, the governor said, "Is that if anyone had conspired it would be gotten out all over the city in hours."

Was anyone in the department given immunity for supplying information?

"No," said the commissioner.

Mr. Farrow stated that the FBI made the arrests, and that "The people are in custody and they will be brought before Federal magistrates this afternoon."

Meanwhile, Mr. Beall's office announced that a special Federal grand jury here yesterday (Thursday) returned three criminal indictments against the persons arrested.

to persuade the Mayor's office to propose a supplemental budget ordinance of about $850,000 to City Council for school supplies.

She claimed in many schools PTA's and dropped into their treasury to supply schools with needed materials, and youngsters not infrequently carry home bills for scissors, glue, paper and books.

City Council just Tuesday approved a $723,000 supplemental grant to the Department of Education, but a school system spokesman told the AFRO that was state and federal money for the lunch program.

He also reported a number of people in the system are looking into material and supply availability so schools with more can lend to schools with less.

He emphasized School Superintendent Dr. Roland N. Patterson insists his department "try to live within the present budget restrictions."

Last week, Finance Director Charles Benton revealed jail guards ran up $43,000 in overtime last year (the two pay periods (a rate of over $1 million a year).

The jail is currently budgeted to spend $85 per inmate a day on food, but actually is spending over $1.70.

"It does not enhance public confidence in law enforcement, to have police investigate police or, for that matter, to have prosecutors investigate prosecutors.

"This is not to say that the police should not be able to conduct their own internal investigation, but such investigations should be conducted concurrently with the prosecutor's investigation."

His reaction to Pomeleau's yanking the two officers from his office is to request the Board of Estimates for funds for him to hire investigators for his staff "at the conclusion of the Special Grand Jury's investigation of organized narcotic's traffic."
