In December 1993, the Governor formed the Chemical Demilitarization Citizens' Advisory Commission in accordance with the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1993 (P.L. 102-484, Subtitle G., sec. 172). The Commission advises the U.S. Congress and the U.S. Army of any concerns of citizens or State government about the federal program for disposal of lethal chemical agents and munitions stored in Maryland. The deadline for elimination of the U.S. chemical weapons stockpile is December 31, 2004.

Appointed by the Governor, the Commission consists of nine members who serve two-year terms.

Annual Report to Governor & General Assembly.

The Chesapeake Bay Trust was created as a non-profit organization by the General Assembly in 1985 (Chapter 789, Acts of 1985). The Trust's mandate is to promote public awareness and participation in restoring and protecting the water quality and the aquatic and land resources of Chesapeake Bay.

To accomplish its mission, the Trust seeks contributions from the business community and private citizens and distributes that financial support to groups undertaking projects to help the Bay. Grant recipients are nonprofit organizations, civic and community groups, schools, and local public agencies that have conducted stream cleanups, tree and marsh grass plantings, erosion control projects, water quality studies, and habitat restorations. The Trust also has supported enhancement of environmental education centers and development of educational materials to inform people of all ages about the Bay.

In addition to donations from businesses and private citizens, the Trust receives the proceeds from sales of the commemorative Chesapeake Bay license plate, as well as a portion of gifts to the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund via the tax check-off on the Maryland State income tax return. The tax check-off, created in 1989, enables Marylanders to contribute for Bay cleanup and programs that aid endangered species.

Although established as an instrumentality of the State, the Trust operates with independent financial and policy-making status. It is not subject to the legislative appropriation process and receives no public tax dollars. The Trust is governed by a nineteen-member Board of Trustees. The Governor appoints fourteen of its members to four-year terms. Five members serve ex officio (Code Natural Resources Article, secs. 8-1901 through 8-1910).
