ordered the city to enter into a "friendly suit" and agreed to pay for the Blazers' attorney.

The suit claims the general atmosphere of the Fire Department for a long time headed by Irish Catholics, and the nature of the Civil Service tests prevented black men equal entry into the Department and equal opportunity for promotion.

As damages, the suit seeks about $1 million to former and active black firemen for suffering under the alleged racism and wants 17 new officer posts created in Dec., 1971, and April, 1972, to be filled with black men.

The Fire Department has been prevented by temporary injunction to fill the one new deputy chief job, five new battalion chiefs posts and ten lieutenant positions until the case is settled.

Lawyers for the Blazers are Kenneth Johnson and Jeffrey Mintz, while City Solicitor George Russell and his assistant, Douglass Owens, are defending the city.

Another witness, Dr. Barbara D. Lyles, assistant professor of education at Howard University, told about her experiences as a member of the Fire Board Study Panel.

Recalling that the Panel came about as a suggestion of the Rev. Mr. Bascom, she remarked the Panel lost the support of the Fire Board after Mayor Schaefer replaced the former Board in Jan., 1972.

The new Board headed by Howard Owen, she told the court, "never gave us its support" and the Panel held its last meeting in May, 1972, having rewritten the entry-level exam but not the promotion tests.

Dr. Lyle stated the old entrance test (used last in 1970) was "unduly difficult and disproportionate" the knowledge of the average high school student.

The Panel, she reported, first decided to do away with the exam's penmanship part that required applicants to write down legibly sentences dictated to them.

That part was removed, she added, because "kids don't remond well to questions asked orally under pressure."

Dr. Lyle commented the Panel replaced the writing part with an agility test.

On the general knowledge part of the test, she testified, "What we were doing was ruling out the most glaring cultural and intellectual biases of the test."

maintenance operations throughout the State and for the administrative direction of policy development for public assistance, medical assistance, food stamps and special programs including support systems, civil defense and emergency welfare services. Panaggio has served the Social Services Administration since 1965 as Chief of Administrative Services.

The appointment of Panaggio will provide, for the first time, a direct line of responsibility to the Secretary of Employment and Social Services for public assistance eligibility determination within the State. Secretary of Employment and Social Services David T. Mason has stated the creation of this position is one of several steps being planned to assist in the elimination of fraud from the public assistace system in Maryland.

Warfield, 48, has been with the Administration since 1965 as State Coordinator for the Baltimore City Social Services Department.

In his new position he will have direct responsibility for the divisions of field supervision, program and policy development and special programs and for all social services including single parents, protective, foster care, adoption and vocational rehabilitation services among other things.

Korean vet found slain in kitchen

Clifton Jerome Carter, 29, 1700 block W. Lexington St., was buried in the Western Star Cemetery at 1 p.m. today (Friday) following funeral services at the Morton and Dyett Funeral Home.

Police records show the Korean veteran was found dead of stab wounds in his kitchen Monday night. He was pronounced dead at 11:30 p.m.

Homicide detectives told the AFRO Wednesday they are looking for an unidentified man who was heard struggling with the deceased minutes before his father found him lying face up in a pool of blood.

Police report Agnes Carter, the victim's sister said she heard her brother enter the house at about 11:15 p.m. A minute later she heard a commotion in the kitchen which lasted for about a minute.

During what she thought to be a "scuffle" she did not hear any voices. She told police after the noise had ceased she went to the kitchen and found Mr. Carter lying face down in a pool of blood.

Police report a search of the kitchen for the murder weapon yielded no result.

Mr. Carter attended city public schools and later served two years with the U.S. Armed Forces in the Korean War. He returned home in August 1968.

Mr. Carter, disabled as a result of a car accident, loved sports. As a student, he played for Douglass High School football team.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Carter; six sisters, Mrs. Delores Kelly, Mrs. Marie Worsell, Misses Agnes, Ann, Stella and Carolyn Carter; three brothers, William, Ralph and James Carter; and two aunts, Mrs. Agnes Jones and Mrs. Louise Brown.

for 16 years. His decision to venture out on his own was primarily due to the influence of religion in his life.

"I'm a member of the Bahai religion," said Martin, "it's a religion which emphasizes the spiritual unity of mankind.

"After I became a member of Bahai," Martin continued" I became turned on to mankind. I became more aware of people, and at the same time developed tremendous faith in myself. That's when I decided to get into my own business."

Faith, in conjunction with an intelligent approach to business has been the driving force behind Martin's success.

"Whatever profits I make from my sales," Martin explains, "I put back into my business. See, that's where a lot of cats make their mistake. At the end of each week they say "wow! I made $1,000 and they go out and blow it.

"They don't realize, that by the time they pay all their bills, they might have $100 left."

Martin feels that the Lafayette Market is an excellent starting point for any black businessman, and that it has some advantages over the Lexington Market.

"At Lafayette," says Martin, "the rent, and the overhead are cheaper than the Lexington's. We have larger and cheaper parking facilities, and for the most part, we carry the same goods."

On an average, Martin works anywhere from 65 to 70 hours a week. This includes 10 hours Monday thru Thursday, 11 hours on Friday; and an additional 12 hours on Saturday.

According to Martin, the Lafayette Market is just a starting point. In the near future, he hopes to expand into manufacturing, preferably metal goods, because he feels that "the black man's future is in manufacturing and business."

IRON-ENRICHED MILK PROJECT

This month the Model Cities Agency proudly salutes the Iron-Enriched Milk Program as its Project of the Month.

In 1969, the Model Cities Agency, in conjunction with the Baltimore City Health Department, created the Iron-Enriched Milk Program. The purpose of this program is to correct the nutritionally deficient state of low-income infants in the Model Neighborhood Area through free distribution of iron enriched milk formula. The project provides this milk formula to infants in the Model Cities Area from birth to age nine months. Distribution of the milk is by commercial carrier directly to the mothers of the infants at intervals of 21 days. Approximately 2,500 infants are receiving this milk at any given time. Additionally, help is being given to new mothers by trained Nutrition Leaders in the area of nutrition education and infant care. During this year of operation 3,600 infants were registered in the program. Of this number, 3,200 infants completed the program and were discharged. Additionally, nutrition leaders conduct 12,000 home visits and a total of 40,000 cases of milk have been distributed to Model Cities mother with infants. The Milk Program works in conjunction with community well baby clinics and hospitals to identify potential participants for the program and to keep abreast of health conditions of those served. Mrs. Donna Becker, former director and Mrs. Elizabeth Luiz, acting director of the project and the entire staff have demonstrated a strong commitment towards delivering health services to our Model Neighborhood infants. The Iron-Enriched Milk Program has been and continues to be very successful in alleviating some of the health problems prevalent in Model Neighborhood infants. The Model Cities Agency and its community residents wish to extend their sincere thanks for a job being well done!

BOURNE — In loving memory of my dear son, THEODORE HOWARD BOURNE, who passed away February 3, 1969:

My Soldier Son

When first I held you in my arms,
You were so sweet and small
I felt that babyhood must be
The sweetest time of all.
And when you took your first big step,
Guided by me all the way,
I knew I carried in my heart,
A love so safe, so sure to stay.
The years rolled on, and tall you grew . . .
To match your daddy's height,
And then we knew you had a job . . .
To leave us and to fight!
Your uniform, your cheeks of tan,
You standing straight and tall,
T'was then we realized, dear son,
There is no sweetest time of all.
Each day from babyhood to man,
We treasure as a dream.
And, when God called you from Your fight, it wasn't fair, it seemed,
But God is master of us all.
He needed our dear one.
Your will be done, Almighty One,
You, too, have lost a Son

MOTHER and FAMILY.

BLANDON — In memory of PFC GILBERT BLANDON, who passed away in Vietnam on February 8, 1970:

GILBERT, my boy, you are always in my thoughts:
No matter where I go, you are always in my heart, dear son.
Because I loved you so.

Mother — RUTH BLANDON and FAMILY.

COBBY — In loving memory of my dear husband, JAMES COBBY, who passed away February 1, 1972:

Today my heart is heavy,
My thoughts are all of time.
Oh, how I miss you, JAMES dear,
None but God in Heaven can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no, it isn't true.
For one long year has passed, dear,
And my heart still aches for you.

Loving Wife, MAMIE

DAVIS — In loving memory of my dear wife, JOSEPHINE DAVIS, who passed away February 2, 1970:

We walked together, you and I, in sorrow and in joy.

Our glad reunion in the sky — for all eternity!

Husband, REV. WILLIAM B. DAVIS.

FLOYD — In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, REV. GEORGE C. FLOYD who passed away February 2, 1970:

Gone is the face we loved so dear

But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here
And who, though absent, is just as dear.

Wife — MARGUERITE

GAINES — In loving memory of our dear sister, CORA B. GAINES, who passed away February 4, 1972:

If we had seen you to the last

We did not know the pain you had,
We did not see you die,
We only know you went far away
And never said goodbye.

Brothers: ROBERT, SAMUEL T. and ALLEN.

GILL — In loving memory of our dear mother, LOUISE GILL, who passed away February 1, 1959:

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile.
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some others bright.
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do.
No thought of self, but of "the other"
We know He said: "Well done, dear mother."

STEVENSON — In loving memory of my dear husband, BURNELL STEVENSON, who passed away February 2, 1968:

When one you care for has departed,
And you sit alone and broken hearted,
There's something in a kindred mind
That always leaves a sense behind
Of true companionship, I know
The pain it was to see you go,
Yet memory softens everything—
The grave its victory — death its sting.
I, who loved you, sadly miss you,
I, who held you very dear.
And in lonely hours of thinking
Often feel your presence near.
Though God has taken you away
You are with me every day.

Loving Wife, MAMIE STEVENSON

I've missed the sound of your footsteps
And your voice since you have gone,

But some nights my heart is sore,
As I think of the dear one God took away
To His distant and golden shore.

WHITE — In loving memory of my beloved mother, ALICE WHITE, who departed this life February 1, 1971:

When days are dark and lonely
And everything goes wrong
I seem to hear you whisper
"Cheer up and carry on."
Each time I look at your picture
It seems to smile and say
"Don't grieve, I'm only sleeping
We'll meet again some day.
The joys we shared together,
Are the memories I hold dear.
And the precious love you gave me
Keeps you forever near.
You left a beautiful memory,

And to me who lost and loved you,
Your memory will never grow old.

Card Of Thanks

ALEXANDER A. SMITH JR.
Thank You

Perhaps you sang a lovely song,
Or sat quietly in a chair;
Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers,
If so, we saw them there.
Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words,
As any friend could say
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day
Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,
Or maybe furnished a car.
Perhaps you rendered a service unseen
Near at hand or from afar.
Whatever you did to console the heart
We thank you whatever the part.
