were Misses Pam Widgeon, V. Inez Edwards, Xenia Brith, Myra Harris and Mrs. Patricia Flemming.

And, Miss Mary Merritt, Vernell Gardner, Connie Edlow and Mesdames Cecelia Hall, Frances Evans, Ella Smith, Blanche Barnes, Charles Washington was there, too.

One gets to meet interesting folks on a weekend trip. Like, whoever would have thought that another group from Baltimore would be at Holiday Mountain the same day.

Well, there were 37 folks with the Tuesday Associates, Inc. The group stated in Middleton, just five minutes away from Liberty.

The group is headed by Williams R. Jackson. Other members are James Hinmon, Charles J. Fleming, Timothy J. Knighton, Walter R. Dean and James Gordon.

This group of young, gifted and black innovators have pooled their talents to form one of the most unique social groups around town. They have embarked on a program not only to promote travel but also to "encourage exploration of the entire realm of social activities."

They propose to accomplish this goal through the formation of a travel club, sponsoring of dinner shows, plays and various other activities. Past trips included a weekend in New York City for the Morgan-Grambling game, a night at the Latin Casino in Cherry Hill, N.J., a night at the Bolton Hill Dinner Theatre and a Thanksgiving weekend junket to Nassau, Bahamas.

On Feb. 23, the group will travel to N.Y. for another ski weekend. Future trips include tours to Nassau, Spain, Las Vegas and N.J.

Interested in joining them? Call Mr. Jackson at 752-6911, ext. 331 or 488-8915.

(Cuff Note: As for this writer, I don't think skiing is my thing. Suppose I'll stick to pinochle, it's safer.)

Morgan, past president, Church Women United; the Rev. Harold G. Johnson, superintendent of Baltimore Northeast District United Methodist Church, and Mrs. Albert Fischer, national president of Women in Community Service.

Members of the luncheon committee were Mesdames Henry Roeder, Rosearie Sevier, Virginia Brown, William Funk and Atwood Hargrove.

WE WIVES

It was a relaxed afternoon when Mae Dyson and Josephine Brown entertained the We Wives in a luncheon meeting at the Sheraton Inn last week.

The group planned their meetings for the rest of the year, worked to decide their charitable activities.

The group plans to take a box for presentation of Young Audiences presentation of Arthur Mitchell's Dance Theatre of Harlem. Also, plans to support the Arena Players' production of "Sty of the Blind Pig" and the Baltimore Symphony and Isiah Jackson.

Verniece Reynolds, president, presided.

About were Iris Mapp, Bettye Moss, Alice Russell, Roberts Keets, Agnes Reaves, Adelle Foreman, Margaret Armstrong, Priscilla Lansey, Mae Dyson, Ida Peters and Ivy Grenage.

IOTA CHAPTER

"On Target For Instant Involvement—Youth In Today's World" was the theme last Saturday as the sorors of the Iota Chapter Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority paid tribute to their founder, Mrs. Mary K. Norman.

More than 200 persons attended the luncheon held at the Sheraton Baltimore Inn.

Guest speaker at the Founders' Day Celebration was Mrs Thelma Daley, national president of the American School Counselors Assoc., 1971-72, and department chairman of the Baltimore County School System.

For those attending, the program proved informative as well as entertaining.

Soror Barbara M. Bollin gave the history. Soror Arabella P. Rofs presided. Other program participants included the Rev. J. S. McManus of Saint James AUMP Church; Sorors Naomi L. Johnson, co-chairman of Founders' Day; William P. Mason, soloist, Soror Margaret Yates, first anti-basileus of Iota Chapter; the Iota Quartet Ensemble, Soror Ovella Queens, second anti-basileus, Iota Kappiles.

Basileus of the chapter is Soror Thelma D. Addison. Other officers are Sorors Margaret Yates, Ovella Queens, Mary Mitchell, Monereau Williams, Vivian Bennett, Geraldine Smith, Olivia Bates, and Fannie Mathias.

Members of the Founders' Day Committee were Sorors Janet Addison, Olivia Bates, Barbara Bolling, Eunice Brooks, Imogene Douglass, Marie Dewell.

HOWARD U CLUB

It wasn't too long ago when the Howard University Club of Baltimore held its annual gathering at the spacious home of Miss Gwendolyn Biddle.

In addition, planning committee under the leadership of its dynamic president, Roland Ganges, made specific plans for three projects to be sponsored by the Alumni Club this year. Among the plans was submitting the name to represent the Baltimore Chapter, Attorney Charles P. Howard's name appears on the ballot. His achievements extended outside of the Baltimore area. He's a member of the executive committee of the Howard Alumni Federation; president, Howard University Law School National Assoc.; vice-president, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Eastern Region; second vice president, National Bar Association; Silver Beaver Award Winner and is affiliated with many other organizations.

Howardites are requested to mark and return ballots before April 1.

MRS. JACKSON RETIRES

A recently retired city school teacher says she plans to "loaf" and see most of the new movies that come out. She also plans to shop and do little things she hadn't been able to do before.

The lady is Mrs. Carrie Dorsey Jackson, mathematics teacher for some 33 years in the day, evening and summer schools.

During her service in the school system, she was chairman of the mathematics department at Harvey Johnson and Carey Hill Junior High Schools and was a regular teacher at Dunbar, Lombard and Pimlico, her last assignment.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Morgan and also studied at the University of Pa., New York University and Loyola College.

She is a member of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., having served as anti-basileus, grammateus and on several committees. She has received numerous commendations for excellence in attendance, length of membership and service since 1926. In addition, she holds membership in two travelling groups, the Nomads, Inc. and the Globetrotters, and two social clubs, the Smartt Sett and Just Friends. And, she represents the 3300 block Liberty Heights Ave. in the Denison Rd. Area Association.

Mrs. Dorsey is married to Algernon M. Jackson and is the mother of two. Mrs. Peggy James Washington and Wilbert A. James. She spends much of her spare hours with her grandchildren, Billy Mike and L'Tanya.

PHI DELTA KAPPA

Gamma Chapter, of the sorority has expanded its work to include another project for young children.

The children's Guild Inc., a pioneer in the study of early childhood education, was founded 18 years ago by Dr. Matilee Debuskey and Mrs. Leon Grinsley.

Its main purpose is to identify developmental problems in very young children before they reach public school age. It has a highly trained staff for the 102 children who attend the school. A satellite school has been set up in Towson and another is soon to open in the Windsor Hill Area.

Dr. Debuskey gave an interesting and informative lecture. He pointed out that it is not enough to identify a child's problem without trying to give some help for the behavorial disordered jus as some as possible. He added, "You must intervine if you identify." His goal is to get all people who work with very young children interested in helping the whole child and to identify those who deviate from the normal pattern very early in life.

Sorority members were greeted by the director, Mrs. Frederica Bardwell, and a trained staff who told interesting facts about the school. (There is a waiting list of over 35 per cent of the school population.)

Members of the staff include—Mesdames Phyllis Tillery, educational counselor; Dorothy Grinsberg, principal; Myra Breskow, assistant principal in developmental disability and Lillian Drumwright, kindergarten teacher.

Sorors who shared this rich experience included the Basileus, Mrs. Lucille Johnson and Mesdames Dolores L. Winston, Mildred W. Harriday, Margaret T. Dunlop, Mildred K. Barkley, Fannie W. Lawson.

Also, sorors Thelma C. Rice, Emma L. Davis, Ethel Hunter, Ellen Russell, Willie Mae Stanley, Ethel A. Clarke, Valeria L. McNeill, Wilhelmina R. Duvall, Elizabeth Young, Gladys E. Wallace, Rose J. Gallop, Leana Terell.

And sorors Anne E. Larkins, Jeanette Johnson, Asalee J. Partee, Lois J. Kyler, Dorothy B. Cherry, Marjorie E. Hunt, Virgie M. Walls, Dorothy F. Bennett, Ardena S. Dixon and Nellie H. Bowie.

WOMAN POWER

Information which citizens need on vital urban issues including housing development, mass transportation and express-ways will be presented at a [illegible] Woman Power, Inc. is sponsoring this Saturday.

The event is slated for 11 a.m. at Waters AME Church, 417 N. Alsquith St.

SPEAKERS

Three principal speakers will be M. Jay Brodie, deputy commissioner of the Department of Housing and Community Development, discussing "Total Housing Development of Baltimore;" Stewart Smith, community relations officer for the Mass transit Administration, discussing "Mass Transit — Phase I;" and George Jude, chairman of the Planning Commission of Baltimore, discussing "Expressways for Baltimore City."

All three talks will be illustrated with slides or maps. The session will last until 2 p.m., but with intermissions so that the public may attend all or parts of it. Light refreshments will be served.

"For some time, experts have been telling us that cities are dying" noted Councilwoman Victorine Adams, who is research director of Woman Power. Too often these experts refuse to recognize that cities are made up of people, not statistics. And while Baltimore has its share of problems, many people do not believe it is dying and are working to breathe new life into the city.

"It is with this desire to create awareness and bring vital information to the community that Woman Power, Inc. is sponsoring this series," Mrs. Adams continued. She added she hopes the entire community — by no means limited to blacks or women — will attend the workshop.

For information, contact Carl Pistilli at CTA office, 889-1934, or send pictures and resumes to CTA, 225 25th St., 21211.

Coppin professor: Education must escalate the individual

Dr. Lillian Dabney Dearing, professor of education at Coppin State College has taught there for 22 years. She is "dedicated." Her classes are alive, and speak with current concepts, coupled to concrete educational possibilities.

The petite, fashionable Ph.D., believes education is not educatio unless it escalates the individual — academically and economically.

Dr. Dearing credits Howard University for her B.A. and M.S. Degrees, graduating Magna Cum Laud [illegible] scholarship her to receive Graduate fellowship that led to her Master's Degree.

At the Catholic University Graduate School, Dr. Dearing received her Ph.D. with honors, majoring in education and minoring in psychology and guidance.

Recently, Dr. Dearing served on the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) as an Elementary Education Evaluation Specialist, in the re-accreditation of the University of Akron, Ohio, and was commended for her excellent evaluative report by Paul G. Bulger, chairman of the Akron NCATE Accrediting Committee.

Dr. Dearing has also served on the Middle States Evaluation Team, which is the Regional Accrediting Agency for most of the colleges and universities on the East Coast.

Florida A and M State University in Tallahassee, Fla. noticed Dr. Dearing's academic achievements, and for three summers she served in its Graduate School of Education as a visiting professor.

Dr. Dearing's dedication is demonstrated through her donations of books and periodicals from her private collection to the college library, and also through her years of service to Coppin: 14 years director of student teaching; seven years director of testing, and three previous terms as chairman of the Division of Education.

DR. LILLIAN D. DEARING
Coppin State professor for 22 years

Her philosophy: "If I can inspire a student to become an 'activist' — on his own behalf,' his educational escalation will provide the academic and economic staples for his survival."

Mrs. Evelyn Skinner enjoys helping youths

"I love helping the young people. They're always so grateful to get the chance to earn money for schooling."

Helping others to help themselves is a second job for Mrs. Evelyn K. Skinner.

Mrs. Skinner, a personnel clerk with the Recruitment and Placement Branch of the Civilian Personnel Division at Aberdeen Proving Ground, has 24 years of federal service, the last 12 of which has been APG.

Mrs. Skinner played a key role in the hiring of 24 disadvantaged youths under the APG Summer Employment Program. She became deeply involved in the screening process to determine the most suitable assignments for the summer employees. She also coordinated and compiled records and performed a variety of administrative tasks in the support of counseling activities.

MRS. EVELYN K. SKINNER
"I love helping young people"

Mrs. Skinner has been active in the Youth Employment Program for five years. She is already making preparations for the placement of hundreds more for this summer.

In addition to these efforts, she handles numerous travel orders and vouchers of incoming employees. It was her high degree of daily dedication, along with her excellent character and concern for others that recently earned her a $200 special service award.

Evelyn, her three sisters Vivian, Doris, and Mary Ruth, and brother, Paul, have joined together to create the Family Affair Club. This small and rather intimate club is composed of her close relatives and several close friends. The club is the means Grouga which she carries out her good works during off-duty hours.

Every year, the Family Affair Club donates a Christmas basket and $30 to a needy family in the Baltimore area. This project is financed through the group's sinking fund, the money in which, comes directly out of the members pockets.

In addition to community involvement, summer weekends find the group camping at the family's country home in the rural section of Howard County.

"I love to read. The best selling fictions are my favorite." If you ever want to find out what the best book is on the market, just ask Mrs. Skinner.

A real Orioles fan, she even takes her vacation in the fall just in case the World Series is in her hometown of Baltimore. Brooks Robinson tops her list of favorites, which include John "Boog" Powell, Paul Blair, Bobby Grich and former Oriole star, Frank Robinson.

If the Orioles don't make it into the Series this year she will likely vacation in Europe, visiting friends in Germany.

Mrs. Skinner is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey (Mary Ruth) Key.

Evelyn who resides in the 2400 block W. Coldspring Lane, is a graduate of St. Francis Academy and the Cortez Peters Business Schools.

She is a longtime member of the St. Peter Claver Catholic Church.

SOUTH BALTIMORE NOTES

Pastor's anniversary at Bethlehem AME

By
WALTER W. E. HILL

The Pastors Aid of Star of Bethlehem AME Church observed the third anniversary of their pastor, the Rev. Roland Howard.

This observance marks a first in the history of the church and was held on Sunday past.

Guest speaker was the Rev. Sister Sarah Eloise Johnson and her 30-voice choir, The Voices of Friendship.

The Choir loft was occupied by the young adult choir of the church.

The message delivered by the Rev. Sister Johnson was taken from Ephesians 6:13-14 "Having done all to stand."

She beautifully portrayed the Rev. Mr. Howards progress and advancement through all his trials and tribulations and stumbling blocks and how he still emerged on top.

Mrs. Venie West is president of the society.

Mrs. Charlotte Hill, chairman of stewart board, presided.

Mrs. Amie Price read the history and Mrs. Mamie Hill presented the token of appreciation.

The musical renditions by both choirs was something to hear.

Other participants were by Mrs. Mabel Fletcher who organized the Pastors Aid.

The benediction followed the response by the Rev. Mr. Howard and a couple of selection sung by the Voices of Friendship.

The community of Mt. Winans has not been all together forsaken by the most recent freezes.

We were assured that progress will begin to pick up both in commercial and home building.

Get well wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. Sadie Blocker during her recent illness.

The Home Makers Club of which Mrs. Frances Sigale is president met at the home of Mrs. Mamie V. Hill.

The Roller Skating groups are increasing and still doing their thing both at the North Point Boulevard and Painters Mill Skating Arena.

Won't you join them?
