Pastel colorings are advanced in the spring collection of Leo Narducci. He likes the light solids with his neo-Greek classics in loubleknit jersey.

In that segment of his collection, culottes, long and short dresses are showered with all-over pleating and bodice criss-crossing.

• • •

Colors in designer Adele Simpson's spring collection range from mays combined with yellow and white, champagne by day, as well as vital colors such as pink, green, blue to lots of white with black for evening.

• • •

An important group in the Calvin Klein collection for spring is made of imported rain-treated poplin. The styles include raincoats, shirtjackets, battle-jackets with elasticized waists, and a stylized baseball jacket. In natural colors, the creations are unlined and double-stitched.

• • •

Originala's suits for spring go the two-faced route, negating the need for a lining, thus keeping them light in weight. Short jackets, soft and barely fitted, are worn with wrapped or flared skirts, while topping pants is the long shirt-tail jacket. The two-faced fabrics are solid on both sides.

Susie says . . .

If your diamond is to "flash fire" you must keep it clean. Diamond-cleaning preparations are sold by jewelers. A synthetic detergent or soap and water, plus a little ammonia, also will make a diamond come clean. Use a little brush to get into the small places. Rinse. Dry with soft tissue.

• • •

Valuable art objects are best cleaned by experts. This goes for oil paintings, finely bound books, gilded statuettes.

• • •

Arnel is the trade name for Celanese triacetate fiber. Arnel is quick drying and colorfast. It is heat resistant and shuns wrinkles. It holds pleats and creases.

• • •

Bonded fabrics consist of two or more joined layers of material, at least one of which is a textile.

• • •

Odors from kerosene, naphthalene flakes and camphor repel ants.

• • •

Use a silent butler during parties. This is a handy gadget that looks like a little dustpan with a lid. Into it go the contents of ashtrays for quick cleanup.

ABOUT US TEENS

BY ANGIE THORNTON

By ANGIE THORNTON

After 12 years of fighting in an unknown land, those courageous young men come marching home. They are happy and so are we, that finally peace is ours.

As these young men come home, what will be here to greet them? There will be no ticker tape parades, no glory or honor such as that given to the W.W.I. or W.W. II veterans. Instead, these Vietnam veterans come home to no jobs, or with drug habits.

These veterans come home to hate, killings and perhaps a place that reminds them of Vietnam. This may sound harsh, but isn't it the truth? Don't you think they'll wonder when they get here, which place is worse?

To make it a little better let's make an all-out effort to welcome these young men coming home.

Before leaving for another Tuesday, here are excerpts from a poem written by a young man named Reggie Wells, an inmate at the Maryland Correctional Training Center in Hagerstown, Md. It is called, 'Retrospecting' (reviewing the past).

Abducted, dehumanized, enslaved, emasculated, enervated, prevalently devitalized, raned unmasculated, endurance!

Relentlessly prostrated, disembodied, victimized, ineffably indoctrinated, shamefully stigmatized. Rebellious! a few . . .

Obviously terrorized, revolts activated, most privatized, despondently slaughtered . . . Tolerant! Supernatly emasculated, continuously disenfranchised, disrobed'ed, nefariously disposed discontented!

Tortured, brutalized, legally intimidated, impoverished, vandalized, lynched, mutilated. Resistant!

Advancement antiquated, organization patronized, many participated, voting devised. Active!

Hope recognized, protest stimulated, attitudes radicalized, leaders assassinated. Riotous!

Riots escalated, masses humiliated, gravely exercised, army mobilized. Determined!

Awareness internationalized, people placated, solution confined, conditions perpetuated. Now!!
