Church plans women's day

The ladies of Bethel AME Church are having Women's Day on Sunday.

The theme for the day will be "Women's Responsibilities in the Home, Church and the Community in the Post-War Era."

Speaking on the theme at the 11 a.m. services will be Mrs. Agnes Hildebrand Wilson of Sumpter, South Carolina. Mrs. Wilson is the first black president of the South Carolina Teachers' Association.

At 3 p.m. there will be a panel discussion centered around the theme for the day.

Panel members are: Mrs. Edna D. Johnson from the Consumer Education Division of the Urban League; Mrs. Kelly L. Jackson from the United Methodist Church, Baltimore Conference; Mrs. Carolyn Robinson, recently retired lieutenant from the Police Department of Baltimore City and Mrs. Mary Robinson, director of the Martin Luther King Parent and Child Center.

Dr. Agnes Hildebrand Wilson will be the guest speaker at the annual Women's Day service at Bethel AME Church on Sunday.

Dr. Wilson, first black president of the South Carolina Education Association, is the widow of the Rev. T. E. Wilson, a Presbyterian minister.

Her educational training includes: A.B. degree from Allen University; M. Ed. degree from Temple University; The Sorbonne, Paris, diploma in French Language and Civilization; Allen University, honorary degree, Doctor of Humanities; University of Missouri, French, Audio-Lingual Method; Purdue University, ETES (French in Elementary Schools) and Atlanta University, Library Science.

Dr. Wilson, a teacher of French and Journalism, has taught more than 30 years in the public schools of S.C. She has been a visiting professor at Morris College, Sumter, S.C.

Among some of the professional organizations of which Dr. Wilson is a member are: Sumter County Education Association, South Carolina Education Assoc., National Education Assoc., American Assoc. of Teachers of French, Southern Conference on Language Teaching, S.C. Scholastic Broadcasting Assoc., Advisore Council Columbia Scholastic Press Assoc. and Board of Trustees, Barber-Scotia College, Concord, N.C.

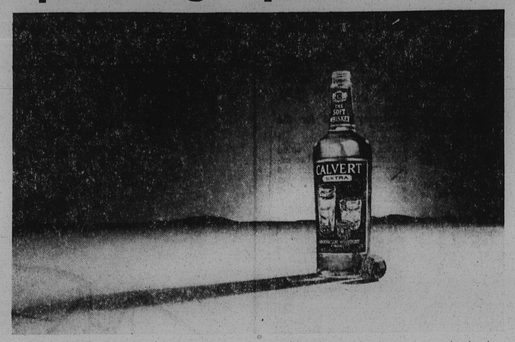
Dr. Wilson devotes much of her time to the S.C. Federation of Women's Club, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Sumter-Shaw Community Concert Association, South Carolina Mental Health Association, Sumter County Unit of the American Cancer Society, YWCA, S.C. Committee on Children and Youth, Executive Committee of State Star Student Program; International Platform Association, National Council of Negro Women and League of Women Voters.

Despite her busy schedule, she still finds time to serve her church. She is the past president of Women of Atlantic Synod of United Presbyterian Church and currently chairman of Division of Planning, Synod of the South, United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Wilson is the sister of the pastor of Bethel AME Church, the Rev. Walter L. Hildebrand.

AMERICAN WHISKEY—A BLEND • 86 PROOF • ©1972 CALVERT DIST. CO., BALTIMORE, MD

You're looking at all the soft whiskies in the world crowded into one photograph.



Back in 1963 we introduced America to something new. Soft whiskey.

In all this time no one has come close to matching that one-of-a-kind taste.

They may be trying, of course. But that means spending years in doing experiments by the thousands. And spending dollars by the millions.

Even then there's no guarantee of success.

If you want a soft whiskey you have a choice. Calvert Extra.

CALVERT EXTRA. THE SOFT WHISKEY.

Model Cities Councils set to raise funds

The six Model Cities Councils, in coordination with the Model Cities Agency are planning an awards banquet, an elaborate black tie affair to be held on Wednesday, April 11th at Martin's West.

With the drastic cuts in the Model Cities funds, the councils are using this means to find lucrative measures to carry on the program. Proceeds of this affair and future fund raising activities will be used for investing. Hopefully, the councils will become self-supporting. William Sykes, CDA director is the co-program director.
