Graves, former inmate, airs prison reform ideas

By BLAINE TAYLOR

Edmund K. Graves, 33, 2400 block Lakeview Ave., is a former inmate of Patuxent Institution, and has several ideas on prison reform drawn from his personal experiences.

"To begin with," he told the AFRO, "there should be a respectable arrest by competent officers," and he recommends changes the names of police station houses to "Legal Detention Centers."

He feels the pre-trial procedure should include "A legal advisor for every prisoner, the establishment of a bail-bond system adjusted to each person's income, the balance of which is to be obtained from the tax system."

* * *

In addition there should be "A clean and comfortable detention room, with a telephone, plus a community relations area for the arrested person to air grievances."

Once an inmate has arrived at the prison, states Graves, "There should be no more cramped, toileted, double-bunked cells, but rooms with baths and toilet facilities.

"The cells should have windows and doors that can be opened and closed by the inmates themselves, and there should be inmate-operated buses to carry relatives to and from jail."

* * *

Graves wants to see an educational program set up that would give inmates "Ethnic history, literature, art, music, debating, languages and sports."

Inmates should receive pay for their work in prison, he asserts, and jobs immediately upon release ought to be provided to keep inmates off the streets and out of trouble.

While in prison, sports competition by teams should be encouraged among inmates, as Graves thinks this is good for morale.

"The teams should be mobile, thus allowing them to compete not only with other penal institutions, but also with schools and colleges." Graves told the AFRO.

"Well-staffed social services should exist in prison," he added, "and also people to help prisoners with parole and drawing up various documents.

"Open house dates should be scheduled so that the public can come into the prisons and converse freely with the inmates."

AT SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Fallstaff, reorganization, bus refueling discussed

By BLAINE TAYLOR

Several major issues were discussed at last night's (Thursday) meeting of the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners, including the Fallstaff middle school controversy, school Superintendent Dr. Roland N. Patterson's long-awaited reorganization or decentralization plan and refueling of school buses.

In addition, Elementary School No. 200, 2516 W. Lombard St., was renamed for the late and famous ball player who broke the color bar in major league baseball, Jackie Robinson.

The new Jackie Robinson Elementary School also had the name of its auditorium changed, to Shipley Hill Auditorium.

Highlight of the evening was the appearance of two eloquent speakers opposed to the conversion of Fallstaff Elementary, 3301 Fallstaff Rd., as a middle school as long as other schools in northwest Baltimore are excluded from sharing in the concept.

* * *

Speakers were Mrs. Grace A. Hines, vice president of the Greenspring Junior High School PTA, 4701 Greenspring Ave., and Mrs. Ernestine Jefferson, an aide at Arlington Elementary, 3705 Rogers Ave.

Said Mrs. Hines: "We want a decision from the school board by September, 1973 on middle schools for all of Baltimore for the school year 1974-75.

"Cannot tax monies be used for these rather than just for Fallstaff?

"We are tired of overpopulation in our schools, and class sizes of 35-40 are already too large."

Mrs. Hines cited Pimlico Junior High as an example, stating that it is designed for a capacity of 2,325 students, but now has 2,529, with more on the way in the future.

Calling for full utilization of Greenspring, Mrs. Hines asserted the school now has 731 pupils, and should be brought up to its capacity of 2,000.

"We want enrollment at Greenspring and Pimlico controlled," she concluded. and Dr. Patterson responded that the matter would be worked on.

Mrs. Jefferson stated that overcrowding has hit Arlington Elementary, too, claiming that 1,600 students attend the school, designed only for 1,300.

She told the board that the solution would be to add Arlington to the two designated "feeder schools" for the Fallstaff project: Mt. Washington and Cross Country elementaries.

* * *

Both Mrs. Jefferson and Mrs. Hines are affiliated with Mrs. Joan N. Parker, spokeswoman for Concerned Citizens of Northwest Baltimore, an opposition group to the Fallstaff plan as presently constituted.

Mrs. Parker's organization wants other schools included in the Fallstaff design, as well as other middle schools created in the area, such as Pimlico and Greenspring, a proposal now under study by the board.

* * *

The reorganization plan battle was led by John Waters, president of the Public School Administrators and Supervisors Association (PSASA), a union representing 800 members.

The union, acting on widespread rumors that Dr. Patterson plans to demote some 75 administrators, issued a lengthy statement.

He told board members, "We shall insist on being heard in all phases of reorganization because we're vital to this school system."

Dr. Patterson informed the board that PSASA has been kept informed.

Dr. Elaine Davis, educational assistant to Dr. Patterson and the official in charge of reorganization, made the following statement:

"Reorganization of the Baltimore City Public Schools has been under constant and concentrated study by the staff, community and the Board of School Commissioners since its introduction and unanimous approval by the board Aug. 10, 1972.

"The process of selecting people for positions is now under study but is yet undecided.

"The board expects to have arrived at its decision by the next regular meeting.

"There are currently 446 administrative and supervisory positions impacted by reorganization.

"Of these, 262 positions will be changed in function.

"Not affected are 413 school-based positions which include 200 principals, 158 assistant principals and 55 special assistants.

"Under reorganization, there are no positions substantially comparable in authority and function to approximately 125 of the current positions, Supervisory II, and up.

"Therefore it is probable that the persons holding these positions will be asked to apply for the upper level positions nearest in authority and function under reorganization and that they will be given preference by the superintendent and the Board of School Commissioners in filling these positions.

"With respect to the approximately 150 current positions below supervisory II, it is most probable that the persons holding these positions will be redeployed to the position under reorganization that is most comparable unless the superintendent and the Board of School Commissioners in individual cases determine that a particular person does not meet the applicable qualifications for the new position."

* * *

In other action, Dr. Patterson bemoaned the fact that the school system's bus refueling station at Pratt and Light Sts. was padlocked last week by Mayor Schaefer's order, bowing to community pressure.

Stating that "The mayor didn't order this personally," Dr. Patterson added that he thought it unfortunate that the school system couldn't use the city's central garage, but had to refuel at a Monroe St. location, costing the city an extra $125 per day.

* * *

Commissioner Larry Gibson denounced what he called "A budget that is really a horror story," stating that the city Department of Finance is recommending a budget that is really a $5 million cutback from last year's figure.

"To keep the program going we need $12 million, of which $7 million is for the normal salary increments, not an increase in purchasing power.

"We need $12 million, but as recommended by the Department of Finance we're only going to get $7 million.

"We need $6 million to reduce class sizes alone and $3 million for special education classes, which the state has mandated us to do."

Next Gibson charged "For the first time in many years the Board of Estimates is holding its hearing on the budget at 10 a.m. on a Monday (Apr. 16), rather than in the evening, as is traditional.

"I charge that this is being done so that there will be a minimum of public scrutiny on the budget, so citizens won't be allowed to participate."

* * *

Student Corwin Jennings of Lake Clifton Senior High was congratulated by the superintendent for winning fourth place in a city-wide "Hire the Skilled Handicapped" art poster contest.

Dr. Robert Lloyd gave the board a progress report on suspensions in the school system, stating "As a rule, 45 are suspended in September and this reaches a high of about 85, and this isn't bad out of 188,000 students."

Dr. Lloyd added that the lag between the time a student is suspended and when he is able to return to school has been reduced from 10 days to five.

Five architects were selected by the 25th St. staff for the addition and renovation of school no. 228, John Ruhrah Elementary, 701-725 S. Rappolla St., among them being the name of one black firm.

This led Commissioner Elizabeth Murpry Moss to ask for a report at the next meeting to determine what staff member decides on the names of the architects submitted, as well as what kind of input can the community have in the selection.

Present were board chairman Dr. John Walton, and Commissioners Elizabeth Murphy Moss, Kalman R. "Buzzy" Hettleman, Larry Gibson, James M. Griffin, Dr. W. Eugene Scott and Mrs. Mr. Richmond Farring.

Also present were Student Commissioners Miss Arlene Jenkins and Eric Douglass.

Commissioner Robert J. Thieblot has resigned from the board, effective April 1.

Commissioner Hettleman introduced a resolution commending Thieblot for his dedicated service on the board since his appointment in March, 1971.

Will most savings and loan associations back the claim that they are indeed LOAN associations when it comes to the inner city? Not likely. (But we don't hold it against them.)

Some think of the inner city as a disaster area. Others seem to be waiting for a magic wand that will create a model city.

No way.

None of these attitudes change the needs or the realities of inner city.

And you know that.

The inner city is a place where lots of valuable people live and want to live. And for some reason, a lot of S&Ls consider inner city loans a risky investment.

We don't.

98% of our loans have gone into the inner city. They are sound investments.

But to make more loans, we need more savings.

We offer the same high dividends as other S&Ls.

And depositors' accounts are insured up to $30,000 by the Maryland Savings-Share Insurance Corporation.

The difference between us and them is you.

Why do you save where you can't get a loan?

BROWN — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father and grandfather, WAYMAN J. BROWN, who passed away April 16, 1972:
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief, and shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died,
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best
Oh, God, grant you eternal rest.
Loving Wife, AMY—
CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN.

COTTMAN — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, GUY LANE COTTMAN, who passed away April 16, 1967:
Do not ask us if we miss him;
There's such a vacant place.
Oft we think we hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near us,
Though he left us six years ago.

MORGAN — In loving memory of my dear husband, CHARLES MORGAN, who passed away April 3, 1962:
When one you care for has departed,
And you sit alone and broken hearted,
There's something in a kindred mind
That always leaves a sense behind
Of true companionship, I know
The pain it was to see you go.
Yet memory softens everything—
The grave its victory—death its sting.
I, who loved you, sadly miss you,
I, who held you very dear,
And in lonely hours of thinking
Often feel your presence near
Though God has taken you away
You are with me every day.
Loving Wife, AGNES MORGAN

SYDNOR — In memory of my dear husband and our father, STANLEY P. SYDNOR, who passed away, April 15, 1970:

Loving Wife—JUANITA, AND CHILDREN.

SPRIGGS — In loving memory of my husband JAMES MIDDOCK SPRIGGS, who passed away April 12, 1972:
God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;

His weary hours, his days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
His ever-patient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
Loving Wife—JOSEPHINE

SPIGNER — In loving memory of my husband, EDMOND SPIGNER, who passed away April 12, 1968:
We walked together, you and I,

A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled!
Some may think you are forgotten
Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
Daughter, OLIVIA SUSAN HAMLETT AND FAMILY.

WILDER—In loving memory of my dear son and our brother, JERRY F. WILDER, who passed away April 10, 1972:
"JUST AWAY"
He would not want the ones he loved,
To grieve for him today;
We must not say that he is dead,
For he is just away.
Away upon a journey, to a land that's
Bright and fair,
And tho we all do miss him here,
We know he is happy There.
And memories of him will bring new comfort every day,
As we recall he is not dead for he is just away.
Keep him Jesus in Thy Keeping,
Till we reach that Heavenly Shore;
Then Oh Master let us have him,
To love and keep him as before.
