POETS AC TOURNEY CHAMPS — Public School All Stars, sponsored by the Brooks Robinson Sporting Goods firm, captured the title in the Poets AC-Shriners inner city basketball tourney at Civic Center Saturday afternoon. Comprising the squad which downed the Private School All Stars were Tom Dalley, George Luckey, Joe McDaniel, Billy Snowden, Gerald Watson, Chuck Newman, Al Gladden, Lenny Sullivan, Skip Wise, Larry Gibson, Ron Smith and George Pinchback. Also shown is an official of Jerusalem Temple Shriners, who co-sponsored the event.

Ashe nears WCT finals in singles and doubles

DENVER (UPI) — Arthur Ashe couldn't give points away Tuesday as he swept past Denver pro Rich Hillway 6-0 6-0 in the opening round of the $50,000 United Bank of Denver Tennis Classic.

Ashe was n complete control in the win over Hillway, one of three local pros added to the field when three members of the World Championship Tennis Group B tour dropped out.

The victory left Ashe in second place in the Group B standings and with a solid shot at one of the four Group B berths in the WCT finals at Dallas next month. The four leaders on the Group A tour will also be is Dallas.

Later Ashe teamed with Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., to advance in the doubles with a 7-6 6-3 victory over Jeff Borowiak and Haroon Rahim.

The win assured them a berth in the WCT Class B doubles at Montreal the first weekend in May.

Ken Rosewall, who played late Tuesday, is the B leader in singles with 52 points and three straight tour titles. Ashe is second with 35 and Marty Riessen and Roger Taylor are tied for third with 33. Brian Fairlie is also in contention for one of the B berths in fifth place with 31.

Ashe said he never doubted the win and even tried to give Hillway a few points.

"I could tell when we went out to warmup he was going to have problems," said Ashe. "I even tried in the last game to get him on the scoreboard but he wouldn't take advantage of it."

In the last two games of the second set Ashe volleyed with Hillway and gave the Denver pro a chance to drop a light tap over the net, but Hillway was unable to take advantage of the opportunity.

Ashe said the win didn't make him feel secure about his shot at the finals, but, "I do feel better than number three, four or five," he said in referring to the pressures on his close followers.

Court clears Jets' Ed Bell

NEW YORK

Eddie Bell, who harassed New York Jets' opponents every Sunday with his pass receiving, was cleared the other day of charges he had harassed a New York City policeman.

Criminal Court judge Howard Goldfuss adjourned the case after Bell apologized to special events squad patrolman Arthur Esposito.

Esposito stopped Bell earlier this month for a routine check after he spotted the ballplayer driving in Manhattan.

Esposito said Bell refused to produce his license and registration and became abusive.

Blacks comprise 48 pct. of NBA draft hopefuls

Eighty-two blacks were among the 171 players selected in the National Basketball Association draft early this week.

Of that number, nine were first-round picks and four were members of the U.S. Olympic team which lost the controversial final to Russia in Munich.

Included in the lot also were six All-American picks for the 1972-73 season, and five products of predominately-black colleges.

Chosen on the first round were: Dwight Jones of Houston, by the Atlanta Hawks; Jim Brewer of Minnesota, by the Cleveland Cavaliers; Ed Ratleff of Long Beach (Calif.) State, by the Houston Rockets; Mike Bantom of St. Joseph's by the Phoenix Suns; Ron Behagen of Minnesota, by the Kansas City-Omaha Kings; Dwight Lamar of Southwestern Louisiana, by the Detroit Pistons; Mel Davis of St. John's by the New York Knicks; Kermit Washington of American University, by the Lakers, and Steve Downing of Indiana, by the Boston Celtics.

Dwight Lamar Pistons' first pick

The five black-college hopefuls are: William Harris of A and T State University, Caldwell Jones of Albany State College, James Floyd of Shaw University, Lawrence Lilly of Alabama State, and Sandy Smith of Winston-Salem State.

Harris was drafted in the second round by the Seattle Supersonics. Jones was taken in the fifth round by the Philadelphia 76ers, and Floyd in the same round by the Milwaukee Bucks.

The New York Knicks chose Lilly on their sixth turn, and the Detroit Pistons selected Smith on their tenth . . . SAM LACY.

The Capital (nee Baltimore) Bullets took Dickie Kelly, a one-time standout at Baltimore's Dunbar High School, as their tenth pick.

Kelly is currently pursuing a delayed college career at Bay College.

The Bullets also selected Aaron Stewart of University of Richmond, who still has one year of college eligibility.

Jones, Brewer, Ratleff and Bantom were on the U.S. Olympic team at Munich.

Among last year's All-America selections were Jones, Brewer, Ratleff, Lamar Washington and John Brown of Missouri, taken in the second round by Atlanta.

COLOR IN THE NBA:

Bob McAdoo is unanimous pick on all-black, all-rookie 5

NEW YORK — Bob McAdoo of the Buffalo Braves, who was a cinch cut choice as the National Basketball Association Rookie of the Year for 1972-73, scored another honor Thursday.

He was the only unanimous choice of the 17 NBA coaches to the All-Rookie Team.

The 10th annual squad, an all-black unit, also included Lloyd Neal of Portland, who received 16 votes; Fred Boyd of Philadelphia, who had 12; Dwight Davis of Cleveland who had 11 votes; and Jim Price of Los Angeles, with seven.

McAdoo follows in the footsteps of teammate Elmore Smith, the Braves' center who was the only unanimous choice a year ago. McAdoo, a 6-10 forward from North Carolina, under pressure.

finished with a flourish — 30, 39 and 45 points. His rebounding and shot blocking improved greatly in the final 51 games. He finished with an 18.0 scoring average, 728 rebounds and 216 blocked shots.

Neal, the third-round draft pick from Tennessee State, won the Trail Blazers' starting center position. He finished second in the Rookie of the Year voting, also. The 6-7 performer averaged 13.4 points and led Portland in rebounding with 957 in 82 games.

Philadelphia expects big things in the future from Boyd, their No. 1 pick from Oregon State. The 6-2 guard was second on the club in assists and impressed rival players with his poise.

Coach Bill Fitch wanted a strong, rebounding forward in the 1972 draft. He chose Davis, who won a starting position, played 2151 minutes, was second on the club in rebounding and shows fine future potential.

Price, the former star guard at Louisville, won a spot on the All-Rookie Team because of his fine performance coming off the Lakers' bench. He played just 828 minutes in 59 games but the Lakers expect big things from him in the future.

The second All-Rookie Team consisted of Ollie Johnson of Portland, Steve Bracey of Atlanta, Corky Calhoun of Phoenix, Chris Ford of Detroit and a tie between Ron Riley of Kansas City-Omaha and Charlie Johnson of Golden State.

Honorable mention went to John Gianelli of New York, Rod Stallworth of Seattle, Kevin Porter of Baltimore and Paul Westphal of Boston.
