TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wearout Allowance Prorated on
40,000 miles	Miles Driven
45 month	$13.00
40 month	10.00
39 month	8.00
36 month	6.00
33 month	4.00
30 month	2.00
24 month	3.00
18 month	2.00

Tread Wear Expectancy offer does not apply to tires used commercially.

Mr. Burman files for divorce

CHARLES B[illegible]MAN

Charles R. Burman, 3800 block N. Rogers Ave., filed Monday to obtain a divorce in Circuit Court from his wife, Mrs. Charles Burman, 700 block Ruscombe Lane.

Court records state the couple was married April 6, 1963 and "In March, 1972, his wife abandoned and deserted him without any just cause or reason. That said desertion and abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted since March, 1972."

Grounds for filing the divorce, according to court records, is stated as adultery.

Burman testified he "just recently discovered that his wife is pregnant and therefore committed a case of adultery."

He told the court he has not lived with her any time since their separation.

According to court records, Mr. Burman asks that he may [illegible] "absolutely and [illegible] be relieved of the [illegible] of supporting any c[illegible] of said pregnancy a[illegible] sult of the aforesaid [illegible]tery."

He also asks that he [illegible] have such other and fu[illegible] relief as the nature o[illegible] cause may require.

Dope worth $7 grand on street level

There are at least 435 bags of heroin in the Property Room at the Police Headquarters.

After a local mother of three children was found guilty of possession of narcotics Wednesday in Criminal Court, the dope worth nearly $7,000 was returned to police officers.

The narcotics was laid out on the trial table as evidence placed before Judge William O'Donnell Wednesday in a case involving Mrs. Glendoria A. Thomas, 23, 700 block Mulberry St.

During the trial it was wrapped in bundles [illegible] and each tied with [illegible] band. After the tri[illegible] taken back to [illegible] quarters.

For her courtroom appearance the young mother wore blue trousers, a red ruffled sweater, her hair neatly styled in corn rows.

Sentence has not been imposed pending results of a probation report.

Detective John Denholm testified that he went to the defendant's home on June 17, 1972 at 3:45 a.m. "Entrance was gained into the apartment by force. I ran into the bedroom. Mrs. Thomas and James Ray were sitting up in bed.

"I told them I was looking for drugs. Mr. Ray said they were in the top dresser draw. There were 435 bags of heroin, $2,194 and 13 needles."

Mrs. Thomas' statement read before the court said, "This was a twice-a-week routine. Robert Taylor

Judge Young ruling boosts city jobs for city people

By MOSES J. NEWSON

That portion of U.S. District Court Judge Joseph H. Young's order in the firemen's discrimination case that dealt with job preference for Baltimore residents, could have a dramatic impact on hiring by other city agencies.

The city's top two officials, Mayor William D. Schaefer and City Council President Walter Orlinsky, reaffirmed in AFRO interviews this week that they support the principle of job preference for city residents.

No city law now requires that eligible city residents be hired before county commuters are put on the tax payroll but the City Council has passed a resolution urging a flexible preference and Mayor Schaefer has instructed department heads to do so when possible.

• • •

Up for consideration now is how effective the flexible arrangement has been and what degree of improvement would accrue from seeking a broader court ruling, passing stiffer city leg-

Lottery sale starts May 15, draw is May 24

May 15 is the date set for the first sale of Maryland State Lottery tickets at 50 cents each at selected agencies.

The first drawing is nine days later, May 24, at Hopkins Plaza, Charles Center at a time to be announced.

Who will get the first $50,000 prize to be awarded each week is the big question. Many citizens plan to purchase "as many tickets as we can."

However, a bigger question is what becomes of the illegal number game worth millions to backers? Will it go down the drain or will it go further underground with greater windings and more winners?

Blount likely one for Central Committee

Senator Clarence Blount is tabbed by reliable sources as the person most likely to get the post as the state's 5th representative to the Democratic National Committee.

The Maryland State Central Committee meets May 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Quality Court Motel, Towson, to select the representative.

• • •

Word is that Governor Mandel's forces are pressing for Blount "to tie up the black portion of the Baltimore 5th District (which elected Blount to the state senate) for his (Mandel's) 1974 election."

Also mentioned by "the powers that be" is Miss Paula Chester, daughter of Baltimore Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas Paul Chester.

The initial State Central Committee meeting in Easton on the Shore a few days ago, could not come up with a candidate. Old timers predict the Towson meeting will succeed. Done away with is the old nominating committee and persons in the running will be named from the floor.

High school students ran City Hall

(AFRO staff photos by Fletcher Roberts)

The 19th session of the Model Youth City Council adjourned Thursday after three days of deliberation and debate on ordinances and resolutions like environmental inspectors, withholding arrest data on job applications and rights of common law marriages.

The Youth Council was represented this year by students of Patterson, Forest Park, Carver and Seton High Schools.

They talked to department heads, observed city meetings first hand and then held a council session in City Council Chambers in City Hall.

• • •

This year's officials, elected by their peers, were: Miss Dian Moore, (Patterson), Council president; Miss Karen Sutton (Carver), mayor; Miss Jane Cyphers (Seton), comptroller; and Miss Nadeen Fallin, (Forest Park), council clerk.

Also, Miss Lillian Denton (Forest Park), pre-legislative session chairwoman; Miss Rita Coward (Carver), chairwoman pro-tem; Robert Bruce (Patterson), parliamentarian; Miss Eartha Fitzhugh (Carver), sergeant-at-arms; and Miss

FUNERAL DIRECTORS PART III

'Missing' death notice investigated by AFRO

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Nearly everyday the AFRO receives a call from a reader who wants to know why the paper didn't carry a death notice of a friend or relative that did appear in the city's two other major newspapers. Due to the increasing number of these complaints, the AFRO has begun this series of investigative reports attempting to uncover the reason for this situation. Here is the third report. It details the case of a 'missing' death notice in the AFRO and lists what the costs are to place a death notice in a city newspaper.

• • •

The nagging problem of city funeral directors failing to report the deaths of black Baltimoreans to this paper still exists.

Surprised friends and relatives continue to question the AFRO about this situation.

The AFRO urges all black families to request and their funeral directors to notify this newspaper when a loved one dies.

The AFRO is also asking for black families to send us copies of their funeral bills. Send these copies to AFRO Investigation, 628 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. 21201.

In answer to the question, "Does it cost money to place a death notice in a newspaper?", the answer is yes.

At the AFRO a notice which has nine lines costs $4.95. This price is cheaper than what it would cost at other newspapers where prices begin at $5.32 and go as high as $6.30 for a death notice the same length. Differences in prices among death notices do vary according to the length; however, the AFRO prices are competitive at every level.

A relative of a man from Northwest Baltimore who died last Saturday called the AFRO Wednesday to ask why a death notice hadn't appeared in the Tuesday edition.

The relative asked, "Well, after all, the viewing isn't until Wednesday and the funeral Thursday; why couldn't you get the notice in Tuesday's paper?"

The relative went on to

CARL SNOWDEN an historic accomplishment

ANNAPOLIS

Streets are named for our leaders

The Annapolis City Council this week ok'd naming of two Eastport Terrace streets for Frederick Douglass and Medgar Evers.

The request was made by the Poor People's Rights Organization for the streets formerly bearing the project's name for address.

Carl Snowden, one of the group's young leaders spoke for the organization to say that the Housing Authority had asked them for a list of 10 names and the authority chose Douglass, the famed diplomat and Evers, the Civil Rights leader.
