Jones-Harris vows said at Fountain Baptist

In a beautiful double ring ceremony Miss Barbara Marlene Jones became the bride of Kenneth Alwin Harris at Fountain Baptist Church recently.

The wedding witnessed by many was performed by the Rev. Mr. Charles Franklin.

Those attending the couple in the ceremony were, Miss Winford Washington as matron of honor and Michael Murdith as bestman.

Pretty Miss Olivia Johnson was flower girl and Claude Greene Jr. acted as ring bearer.

The reception held immediately after services were at the Pistol and Rod Club, 1715 E. Oliver St. The buffet style dinner served was delicious and everyone in attendance enjoyed it.

The new Mrs. Harris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Harris of E. Oliver St. and Mr. Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harris of Use your imagination for "company fare" of plain food. Serve sour cream with nuts on meat or baked potatoes or add chopped nuts to your vegetables. Why not roll scoops of ice cream in nuts? Or slivered nuts in your tossed vegetable salads?

Baltimore Symphony in concert

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra with Music Director Sergiu Comissiona conducting will present a special free concert to aid the Peabody Scholarship Fund, Tuesday, May 29, Lyric Theatre, 8 p.m.

Soloists Beri Senofsky, violinist, and Leon Fleisher, pianist, as well as the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra Association are donating their services.

Leon Fleisher, now Director of the Theater Chamber Players in Washington, D.C. and the Annapolis Symphony, Maryland, also is Professor of Music at the Peabody Institute.

He has studied with Arthur Schnabel and won the Queen Elizabeth of Belgium Prize in 1952. Repeated engagements with major orchestras include the New York Philharmonic, Cleveland, St. Louis, San Francisco, Philadelphia and the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Moore-Mr. Phillips wed at White Stone Baptist

Miss Frances M. Moore became the bridge of Goldie S. Phillips Jr. recently a single ring ceremony held at Whitestone Baptist Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Thompson.

The bride, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Townes, was beautifully attired in a long formal wedding dress of white marquisette over silk. The bodice of the A-lined dress was sprinkled with cultural pearls. She wore white accessories to complement her outfit.

The bridegroom wore traditional tails and was assisted by Earl G. Phillips who was best man.

WEDDING PARTY

Ushers for the wedding were Walter Phillips, Jerome Butler, and Michael Hinton.

Bridesmaids were dressed in long blue A-line empire gowns with baby-doll sleeves.

Looking lovely as they held their white and blue carnations were: Misses Betty Jean Goodman, Arthine Townes and Veronica Phillips all of Baltimore.

The flower girl, Miss Angela Moore, wore a pink gown with lace trimmings. She carried a white basket of carnations.

RECEPTION

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the Alcazar Ballroom with over 200 persons in attendance. The buffet-style dinner of turkey, ham, and other tasty dishes was an additional highlight of the afternoon.

The wedding cake which stood 7-tiers high, was decorated with white frosting, pink roses and green leaves.

THEIR GUESTS

Many out-of-town guests were present from New York, Connecticut, North Carolina and New Jersey.

ABOUT THE COUPLE

The new Mrs. Phillips who is originally from Wilson, N.C. is a graduate of Douglass High School and a student at the Community College of Baltimore.

Mr. Phillips a native of Baltimore is a Baltimore City Police Cadet and a student at the Community College of Baltimore.

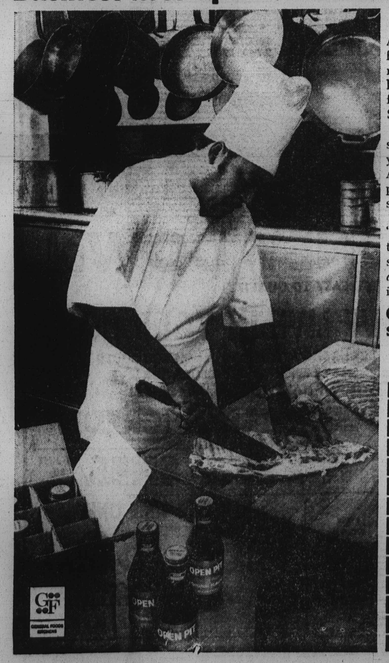
Why one of the most demanding chefs in the business uses Open Pit Barbecue Sauce.



Robert Shurn is his own man. After seventeen years as a professional chef in leading Chicago restaurants, he knows what he likes. And he likes the outdoor flavor of Open Pit* Barbecue Sauce.

"I've tried other barbecue sauces, but this is about the best you can use." And use it he does. About four gallons a week—on pork, chicken, beef and on his special rib tips.

Mr. Shurn sums it up this way: "People ask me what I put on these ribs. I tell them barbecue sauce. And they say, it's not just any barbecue sauce. And I say, no it's not. It's Open Pit."

Open Pit. The name itself says outdoor flavor.

Mrs. Mary Jones home from hospital operation

By GEORGIANA MOODY

Mrs. Mary Jones has recently returned home from the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital where she underwent a very delicate operation on both eyes.

Mrs. Jones, a courageous faithful lady, is known at the Timothy Baptist Church as Mother Jones because she is the Mother of the Church. She is very active in several organizations at Timothy. She is the oldest deaconess (81 yrs.), member of the Gospel Chorus and she continues to serve with the Flower Circle.

Mother Jones doesn't just serve in her church, she works in the community also. Some of her greatest work is done through the Harlem Park Neighborhood Club.

Mother Jones has three living children who feel that she is the greatest and sweetest Mother of all who has done all that is required of Mothers.

Ulysses the oldest son is an Athletic Director at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., daughter Mildred has been with Hutzler Brothers downtown store for 28 years and son, Walter is the only black Supervisor with Acme Food Markets.

Despite her age Mother Jones continues to reach out to a suffering world, caring for the sick, counseling the poor in health and laboring for a better and more beautiful community in which to live.

The Day Care Mothers of The Lafayette Group, gave their annual social affair recently at the Sheraton Baltimore Inn. This was a double affair for the ladies, they were honored with a lovely dinner party, and also the crowning of the Day Care Mother of the Lafayette Group for the year of 1973.

Mrs. Louise Cotton was chosen the Day Care Mother of the Year. She has been a day care mother for nearly 10 years, of which she has served as treasurer for two years.

In addition to being a Day Care Mother, Mrs. Cotton is active in the following organizations: The Elizabeth Blair Palace, Treasurer of the Annie Handy Handicap Club since 1946, a member of the Reed Gospel Singers for 24 years, The Supreme Queen of Queens Council No. 1, and a member of Armetta Riddle Tent No. 700.

Mrs. Cotton is a member of The Foundation Baptist Church, where she sings on the Gospel Choirs, and is also a member of the Nurses Unit and The Flower Circle. She was crowned the Day Care Mother of 1973 by Mrs. Rebecca Walton, who was chosen Day Care Mother of 1972.

Leadenhall Baptist Church annually selects and honors a "Mother of the Year," who is picked for her outstanding devotion and service to her family, community and to the church.

Mrs. Clara G. Parker was recipient of these honors for 1973. Honors were bestored on her during last Sunday morning services.

Later, her family entertained her at a dinner party.

Mrs. Parker is a registered nurse, working with the Visiting Nurses Association in Baltimore City.

As a nurse in the community she has a chance to administer her services in many ways. She works with the heart, soul and body healing broken wounds. Keep up the good works Clara, serving as an "Angel of Mercy."

Dinner guests included Mesdames: Marjorie Harried Phillis, Florence Kess Mathews, Tamar and Cara Pegram, Mae Bannister and Elsie Bowser, Carrie Young and Clara Gordon, Carolyn and Linda Gordon.

Also, Messrs. and Mesdames Oberlin Perry, Waverly Wiggins, Harvey Gordon, Leon Parker, Harvey E. Gordon Sr., William Hutchinson, and Louis Parker, husband and honoree and Floyd Simmons and family.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

"You learn something new every day" may sound trite and overused to many, but it never seems to fail that you gain a bit of new knowledge when you least expect it.

LUX LIQUID HELPS THE SALE

While in San Diego recently, I accompanied my son and husband on a house-hunting expedition. It was a very pleasant experience. The home Rickey finally decided upon is just right for him and his new wife, although I was a bit concerned because the kitchen did not include an automatic dishwasher. "Who needs a dishwasher?" asked the woman from whom Rickey purchased the house. "I use LUX LIQUID."

I remarked that I had been a LUX LIQUID user for years and mentioned that as we were examining various homes we noticed a great many bottles of LUX LIQUID on the counters next to the sinks.

"I'm not surprised," she said. "I have tried many liquid detergents, but I was never really satisfied until I switched to LUX LIQUID. Besides doing a fantastic job on my dishes, it is kind to my hands. So much so that even my husband has remarked about how young looking they are.

"A little LUX LIQUID can mean a lot of attention," she said with a wink. "LUX LIQUID is so effective in the dishpan that I don't have to soak even my grimiest pots and pans as much as I used to. I have almost as much free time as I would if I owned a dishwasher, and my hands are soft and pretty to boot."

"I'm glad you have given me these hints," said Rickey. "I don't want that diamond I gave Carolyn to be dulled by a harsh detergent. And she won't have an excuse for not washing dishes. That's one thing we agreed on before we decided to marry —that I would not do dishes since my mother made me do so many before I left for college."

WISK FOR "EXTRA TIME"

The owner of the home also attributed her extra time to the fact that she didn't have to spend long hours in the laundry room worrying about getting the stains out of her husband's shirts. She uses WISK.

"All I have to do," she stated, "is rub a little WISK into the soiled areas and pour the extra WISK with the clothes into the washer. The rest takes care of itself!

"It's especially good for 'ring around the collar,' and believe me, he has them," she stated in her calm Australian voice.

"I use WISK for my entire wash, not just for my husband's shirts. It works perfectly in any water temperature, and it's not damaging to fabrics as many harsh detergents and chlorine bleaches can be."

I told her that I had been a WISK user for years and that I especially liked the way it worked on permanent-press fabrics. You just can't beat WISK for solving those laundry-day problems.

PEPSODENT FOR A BEAUTIFUL SMILE

While Rickey and his dad were looking around and inspecting the house, I chatted with the petite housewife, who had everything sparkling bright.

She was an extremely personable woman, very attractive, and had a beautiful smile. Being basically inquisitive, I managed to lead the conversation around to dental products so that I could discover her secret.

It was no surprise to me to find that she was using a product that I have recommended for years, PEPSODENT toothpaste.

She explained that because of the public contact her husband's job required, it was necessary for her to look well at all times. She felt that an attractive smile was most important of all.

"I spent all kinds of money on fads, but I was never satisfied until I switched to PEPSODENT. It's always important as a businessman's wife for my teeth to be nice and white. Teeth that are their whitest are made so by using PEPSODENT," she said, and I agreed.

PEPSODENT has an extremely low abrasion level—lower than any leading brand. This is an important consideration when buying toothpaste. But the main reason I always recommend PEPSODENT is that it keeps your teeth sparkling white as possible.

LIFEBUOY FOR RELIABLE PROTECTION

After settling the house transactions, Richard and I took Rickey back to his ship. It was a great thrill for me to meet so many of his Navy buddies that I had been hearing about for so long.

Naturally, they began teasing Rickey, trying to put him on the spot in front of his dad and me. I didn't think they'd ever let him off the hook.

One thing they did tell me that I know was no exaggeration was that Rickey would settle for nothing but the best, and his choice of a house was an indication of that.

They agreed wholeheartedly and went on to say that Rickey had even chided them about using deodorant soap that was not the best. Eventually, Rickey won out, and now they all use LIFEBUOY.

"It has long-lasting deodorant protection that won't let you down—something to remember for those long liberties," laughed one of the boys.

Rickey said that he really appreciated LIFEBUOY's effectiveness when his fiancée visited her future home and they went to Tijuana one weekend.

"It's even hotter there than in San Diego," he said, "and you know what that means! LIFEBUOY was really an asset on that trip."

"We can believe that," said his Navy buddies, and Rickey added, "It's the most effective deodorant soap you can buy."

We left Rickey in the midst of his buddies, dissertating on the fine qualities of LIFEBUOY (and girls), while bearing the brunt of much teasing and horseplay.
