Mondawmin in Family holds annual meet

The quiet cool of the Dozen Club located in Glen Burnie was the setting for Mondawmin Family Study Group's annual family picnic on last Sunday afternoon. In spite of the absence caused by the illness of several members of their mates, the group had a grand time.

There was barbecued food galore and all the old fashioned picnic goodies. While the younger set enjoyed the pool and the music in the clubroom or explored the peaceful country side, the older group was content to sit around, eat, relax, chat or play cards.

Present and looking good were the following families and guests: Carolyn and Joe Boston with their children Alex and Carole and guests, Deborah Ward, Clayton James, Ronald Wetherford and Edward Hackett; Vivian Bruce and her children Karen and Michael with Bobby Lockey; Leona and Harry Carpenter with their children Lyn and Harry III and guests Gayle Higginbotham, Travis Emery, Lance Dorsey and Brian Evans.

Also, Ruby and Flan Couch were the charming and attentive hostess and host. (Flan being a member of the Dozen's Club.) Joyce Neal and son, Keith, and guests: Mr. and Mrs. William Neal, their daughters Shawn and Glynis; Rose Tittle and daughter Marvis and Michele Griffin; Barbara and Donald Patterson with son Donald Jr. and guests, Gwen and Wilfred Seaborne and Aberdeen and Henry Jackson, and son Henry Jr., and guest Kevin Kelly. Absent due to illness were Alease Lockley, Naketha Gregory, Anne McKee and Madge Rice.

HOT WEATHER ADVICE

Dr. Carr's hot weather advice is to take advantage of air movement or air conditioning when possible. A cool or air conditioned room or office may prevent a heart attack, or heat exhaustion. His advice includes the following guidelines:

1. Don't work in the hot sun without a hat.
2. Don't wear heavy or tight clothing.
3. Don't overeat, but drink plenty of fluids and take extra salt with your diet. Salt pills or salted crackers will help.

chambers and voted on that bill and then walked back. (applause)

Another thing about Leon Rubenstein, in the legislature in 1939, now remember that's before my time, he had the nerve to fight for ciiiiiiiiiivvvii rggghhiiiiggggggggg ing that time, he had nerve to fight against a bill, we called the, "Jim Crow Law."

"When he was in the City Council, he was interested in the underpaid working man. He introduced the minimum wage ordinance. "He was one of the individuals on that council who concerned himself with the rights of all the people It was also unpopular to be heard from the the area of equal opportunities' legislation of any kind. Leon wasn't afraid to stand up and be counted."

OTHER THERE

Among others of us spied in the audience, Messrs. and Mesdames Paul Chester, A. Paul Moss, Samuel T. Daniels, Charles Michaels;

Also, Allen Quille, Charles Fletcher, Mrs. Gladys Greene, representing the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. She confided, 'Leon and I have been friends for 15 years'. With her was her friend, Mrs. Wilhelmina Bynum.
