Woodlawn Highlights

MRS. GREEN

By Marjorie R. Green

The main cafeteria in the Woodlawn Social Security building on Friday, June 28, was the scene of a retirement luncheon honoring Mrs. Adele Avant.

Some 100 friends, co-workers and relatives gathered to express their affection for Mrs. Avant as she ended 31 years in government service.

Toastmaster for the afternoon was Warren Murray. Heading the list of speakers was the Director of Adjustment Operations, followed by Mrs. Margaret Strickland, Jerome Murphy, Mrs. Margaret O'Meara and Thomas Lopick.

• • •

In addition to receiving many lovely gifts and a $150 money tree, Mrs. Avant was awarded $200 for her outstanding work performances. For the occasion she wore a pink and green sleeveless linen dress with matching pink shoes.

Her radiant, healthy appearance made it difficult for many to understand why she choose to retire at this time.

In answer to this question she explained, "I just want to relax and enjoy life while I am still able to do some of the things that I have always wanted to do and couldn't because of job commitments.' She plans to leave soon on a trip to Mexico. In September she will visit in Atlanta.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

Picnic time is again upon us. That's fine for kids and ants, but what about the poor mothers who find themselves with post-picnic stains and grassy trouser knees to launder?

DRIVE OUT PICNIC STAINS

The answer to those special laundry problems is DRIVE. Why be one of those parents who pray for rain the morning of the family outing?

All you need is a king-sized box of DRIVE in the laundry room, and you won't even mind when the dog chases the squirrels across that cute red-and-white-checkered picnic cloth you spread ever so carefully on the grass.

Remember, too, that on the back of the DRIVE box are six special stain-remover tips to help you take care of a wide variety of stains from ink to vegetable juice.

So why not do something different this summer—enjoy those picnics, quit dreading the aftermath, go ahead and live a little. Spill some lemonade on your Bermuda shorts, and laugh about it! DRIVE will take care of it.

HAVE AN IMPERIAL PICNIC

Want to see the kids' and dad's faces light up when you open the picnic basket? Just pack IMPERIAL Margarine Not only is it fit for a king or queen, but picnic fanciers love it, too. Why not? It's the best-tasting margarine around, and it comes in a soft spread as well as stick form.

You know IMPERIAL Margarine is perfect for cooking—you can even fry with it over a low flame. And have you tried it plain, on a piece of bread, maybe sprinkled with a little sugar? Fantastic! The athletes in the family will love it as a picnic snack; they can even eat with one hand and throw a ball with the other.

Speaking of athletes, if you're anything at all like me, your idea of strenuous exercise is something like leaning over to shut off the alarm clock in the morning. As a result, we have to count our calories very carefully.

What better way than to use DIET IMPERIAL? It contains only half the calories of regular margarine without losing any of the flavor. And, when the picnic's over and the IMPERIAL is gone, you can use those cute little containers to store the leftover deviled eggs!

RELAX WITH DOVE BEAUTY BAR

When the picnic's ended and you've finally made your way home, it's time to give yourself a little special attention.

First you get out your DOVE Beauty Bar. What a treat! Remember that DOVE is not a soap, so it doesn't dry your skin the way ordinary soaps can. It's one-quarter cleansing cream. So it creams your skin while it cleans your face, and helps keep skin looking soft and smooth.

Why spend extra time and money on all those expensive beauty preparations? I personally have never enjoyed creaming my face to the point where I had to hang on for dear life to keep from sliding out of bed. DOVE is the answer. It's such a practical idea. Makes sense to use it, don't you agree?

Here's a bonus beauty hint. Cream your face with DOVE and count to ten before rinsing. While you're counting, make a few faces at yourself in the mirror to exercise your facial muscles. You know, like the movie stars claim they do. We're liable to see 'em next on DOVE TV commercials!

The exercise may not do any good, but the ten seconds' worth of DOVE doesn't dry your skin like soap.

Now for the really special treat. After the kids are tucked in bed for the night, lay out your prettiest nightie, put your favorite album on the stereo and then get into a tub of hot water. Lean back and relax for a few minutes. Now, give the rest of your body the same special attention you just gave your face.

Remember, DOVE comes in a bath-size as well as a complexion-size bar. You have a choice of white or pink, and what a delicate, feminine fragrance! It lathers well, too, even in hard water. No other bar produces creamy lather like DOVE.

Now, don't you feel just marvelous? What a perfectly wonderful day!
