Booker T. Washington High Salutes Retiring Employees

Over 170 relatives, friends and coworkers attended the recent testimonial dinner honoring four retiring employees of Booker T. Washington Junior High School who had given a total of 148 years service to the school.

Honorees were:

Mesdames Mary E. Peck for 19 years of service as school nurse, Beatrice Hall for 40 years a mathematics teacher, and Catherine Royston for 46 years as home economics teacher, and Ernest Brown for 43 years as a physical education teacher.

Mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Mrs. Dorothy J. Barrick. Invocation was given by the Rev. William Peters Jr., Pastor Grace Presbyterian Church.

Tributes to the honorees were paid by William Cooke, Dr. Gilbert Banfield, Mrs. Edna O. Campbell and Mrs. Blanche LeCompte.

Each retiree received a cash gift made into a "money hat" and a plaque for outstanding service to the children of Baltimore City and the State of Maryland.

The highlight of the testimonial was a segment entitled "This Is Your Life" when pictures were shown of each retiree from early childhood to the days of retirement.

Soloist was Mrs. Patelle G. Harris.

Other tributes were paid by Mrs. Ethel T. Payne and Harold A. Seaborne. Remarks came from Dr. Roland Patterson, Mrs. Dorothy L. Barrick and James Hite.

An original poem created especially for the honorees was read by Miss Helen Diggs.

Gifts were presented by Mrs. Betty J. Foy while music was rendered by Miss Jo Ann Oatis.

Benediction was given by the Rev. William Peters Jr.

Miss Blackwell-Mr. Trammell United In Double Ring Ceremony

By Michele L. McRae

In a beautiful traditional wedding ceremony, Miss Jocelyn Elizabeth Blackwell became the wife of Ronald Thomas Trammell in the floral setting of New Shiloh Baptist Church where her father, Joseph S. Blackwell Sr. gave her away in marriage.

The Rev. Harold A. Carter officiated at the impressive rites where over 300 relatives and guests filled the church to witness the wedding nuptials.

Musical selections were rendered by Victor Myrick, organist, who played Until The Twelfth of Never, For Once In My Life, Whither Thou Goeth and I'll Never Walk Alone. Miss Alice Lacey of Philadelphia, Pa., soloist sang the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Janice B. West, the bride's sister, coordinated the wedding. She was lovely in a pea green caftan and matching accessories.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD T. TRAMMELL
(former Miss Jocelyn Blackwell)

What She Wore

The bride was lovely in a white empire gown with a flowing cathedral style train with lace trimming. The dress was complemented by sheer sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Wedding Party

Lovely were other members of the bridal party who were dressed in an array of summer colors with matching accessories.

Wearing lime green gowns with empire waists and white lace trimmings with matching shoes were: Misses, Josette Blackwell, the bride's sister and maid of honor; Misses Angela Ross, Sherrill Spencer, Evelyn Nelson, Gwendolyn Kennedy, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Mrs. Virginia Blackwell, sister of the bride, Wilmington, Del.

Junior bridesmaids, Misses Jeanna Blackwell, sister of the bride and Chrystal Ann Robinson wore light green dotted Swiss gowns with sheer long sleeves.

The bridegroom along with his best man, Warren Reynolds, and ushers Joseph Blackwell, Julian Blackwell, Keith Hunter, James Kennedy, Wilson Palmer and junior ushers Darryll Trammell, and Reggie Reynolds were attired in black cut-a-way tuxedos.

Cute as could be was little Roslyn Nelson, flower girl, dressed in a dark green short dress with puffed sleeves and yellow and green lace around sleeves and neck. She wore green and white tights and shoes to complement her outfit.

Ringbearer was Timothy Blackwell in a dark short pants suit with light green shirt and matching tie. He wore knee-high dark green socks and white shoes to complement his outfit.

Bride's Mother

Fashionably clad in a floor-length light green polyester gown with empire waist, matching embroidered lace, complemented with a full length coat with matching accessories was the bride's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Blackwell.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Nora Trammell, wore dark green velvet A-lined floor length dress with gold slippers and bag to complement.

The bride's godmother, Mrs. Goldie Mason of Philadelphia, Pa., and an aunt, Miss Elizabeth Howard of Baltimore, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Y. Horton of Ohio were all presented with carnation corsages.

Their Reception

The gala reception in honor of the newlyweds was held at the Pimlico Holiday Inn, Baltimore.

The bridal party seated at the head table, were introduced to guests by the directress, Mrs. Janice B. West. Over 300 guests feasted at the buffet style reception at the hall which carried out the bride's color scheme of green and white.

The newlyweds led their guests in the first dance.

The seven-tier cake was decorated with tiny wedding bells and white pearls topped by a traditional bride and bridegroom at the top.

Members of the bride's sorority Zeta Phi Beta, serenaded the happy couple.

Their Guests

The newlyweds were feted at ceremonies by friends and relatives from out-of-town, Cincinnati, Ohio; Philadelphia, Pa.; New York City, Delaware, Severna Park and South Carolina.

Eve of Wedding

On the wedding-eve both families of the bride and groom along with the entire bridal party were feted at a dinner party at the home of the bride's parents.

Hostesses for the affair were Miss Paulette Brock and Mrs. Yvonne Miller.

Their Honeymoon

Arriving for a honeymoon in the hometown of the bridegroom, Cincinnati, Ohio, the newlyweds were again feted at a wedding reception with friends and relatives of the bridegroom at the home of his parents.

About the Couple

A product of Baltimore City public schools, Miss Blackwell is a graduate of Morgan State College and a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

Born and reared in Cincinnati Ohio, the groom a graduate of Towson State College is employed by the Baltimore Gas and Electric Company.

Columbia Capers for and about Women

By Pinnie Ross

It's happening at the Running Brook Neighborhood Center; a workshop sponsored by the Little Theatre Movement, under the direction of dynamic Rutenna Blake, author, director and writer of "Save the Children."

Over 40 children are participating in this two-week workshop. They are being taught creative writing, poetry reading, creative dancing and music. Mrs. Blake's staff includes: Mrs. Betty Walker, a Howard University graduate; Miss Rae Ross, student at Adelphi University; Mrs. Francis Walker, city school teacher; Mrs. Elwina Hunter, former county music teacher.

The National Council of Negro Women is supporting this workshop. Mrs. Vera Wilson, president, Mrs. Ethel Parker, Mrs. Sarah Turner, and Mrs. Minnie Tourra are leading NCNW members supporting this important cultural project.

On Saturday, July 14, the workshop students will take a bus trip to Washington to visit Kennedy Center, Howard University, Adelphi Theater, and the African Art Gallery. The energetic Mrs. Blake's aim is to help broaden the ethnic cultural views of young blacks in Columbia. Mrs. Blake is also directing a social dramatic arts program on Sunday, July 15 on the pavilion at Lake Kittamaqundi in Downtown Columbia. Participating on the program will be Miss Black Teenage Maryland, Miss Edna Hill, along with dancers and singers.

The Morning Star Baptist Church was overflowed with a host of relatives and friends who came to pay their last respects to a fine Christian gentleman, the Rev. Aaron Yancy, sociate pastor of Morning Star Baptist Church, Catonsville, Md.. His attributes were epitomized by his friendly smile which was coupled with a phrase "God Bless you" as he greeted you on the street, in a conversation, personally or on the telephone. The manner in which he extended the greeting made the recipient feel that the late Rev. Yancey truly was extending God's Blessing. He was a graduate of Rittnell College and taught school in his native home of North Carolina.

Prior to going into the field of construction work, he established his own company known as the A. L. Yancey and Sons. He supervised such jobs as the Pentagon and Smithsonian Institution, the development of Fort George G. Meade Army Post, etc.

He leaves to mourn a devoted and charming wife, Mrs. Beatrice Yancey ("B"), two sons, Albert and John, a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ross. The funeral was eulogized by his pastor and very close friend for many years, the Rev. Jentry McDonald.

G.A.P., Group Acting Positively, a group in Columbia whose goal is to promote activities for black county children. This group was the sponsor of the Martin Luther King breakfast, sent five children to camp this summer. GAP will be sponsoring "Inner City," a Broadway musical which will be appearing at Wilde Lake High School July 13 through 15. There will be a 3 p.m. matinee performance on Sunday, July 15. Adult tickets are $3, for additional information call 730-6167.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I daily examine myself on three points: In planning for others, have I failed to be conscientious? In my dealing with friends have I failed to practice what I have taught? — Confucius

Woodlawn HIGHlights

MRS. GREEN

When promotional lists are announced in the Social Security Administration, the question is often asked, "What did she or he do to merit such an award?"

This was not so in the case of Doris Marie Huff, Disability Inquiries Specialist in the Bureau of Disability Insurance. Recognition was long overdue for this mother of four children.

She was notified last week that she would receive one of the vacant GS-11 positions in the critical case staff.

SSA employees who know Mrs. Huff are aware of the hard work and dedication that she has consistently displayed over the past three years. Her husband, Lawrence, is also a SSA employee.

Their two oldest children, Lauren, 14, and Doris, 12, are students at Calverton Junior High School. David, 10 and six year old Laurita attend Alexander Hamilton Elementary.

Because she is always eager to aid those in need, Mrs. Huff is especially interested in working with projects involving underprivileged children.

In addition to her outside activities and family involvement she finds time to teach Sunday School at Belvedere Baptist Church where the Rev. Frank Downing is pastor.

Members of the Coverage Adjudication Section in the Bureau of Data Processing sponsored a retirement party at Martin's West Banquet Hall on June 27 in honor of nine co-workers.

Those honorees taking advantage of the 6.1 per cent cost of living increase in retirement income were: Mrs. Marion Lincoln, Miss Evelyn Bradford, Mrs. Mary Meyers.

And Messrs: Wesley Bernhard, John Windfelder, Henry Shepherd, Chester Winnckowski, Robert Kendall and Joe Miller.

Some 180 relatives and friends joined in the festivities. Branch chief, Lawrence Nelson, was in charge of the introductions and presentation of retirement certificates. Gifts were presented each of the retirees by Gerald Schantz.

Committee members who planned the songs and surprise skits that highlighted the evening were: Mesdames Pat Meshner, Mamie Harris, Mary Viall, Macel Sarm; Misses Marta Murray, Julia Ransome and Marie Overby, and Messrs. Joseph Jenson and William Fisher.

Unable to attend the party was Charles Dengler who retired on June 29 after 33 years of government service.

'You're Never Too Old'; Miss King-Mr. Dunton

The Rev. Ward Yerby officiated in the double ring ceremony Sunday when the lovely Miss Wilhelmina King and Charles Dunton became man and wife.

The wedding which took place at the home of the bride was decorated in the colors of pink and white while friends and relatives filled the room.

Dressed in a pink polyester midi-length gown, Miss King carried a bouquet of pink and white pompons.

Her maid of honor, Miss Jeanette Johnson wore a pink and white short polyester knit dress [illegible] to match.

The bridegroom and his best man, Joseph Trayham wore traditional black tuxedos with white shirts and bow ties to complement.

The couple both over three scores will reside on N. Broadway.

SILVER ANSIVERSARY

The month of June was surely a festive month for the Christian Memorial Church, which celebrated its 25th anniversary of the church and the pastor, the Rev. Frank Brown.

It all began on the first Sunday with the church beautifully decorated with flowers that looked like an indoor garden, and the choirs in white robes and silver stoles.

There were a number of services that day and an anniversary dinner in the main ballroom of the Holiday Inn downtown, where the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were presented $1,000 from the church by the assistant pastor, Elder Roosevelt Sudderth. Formal wear of all styles and colors were on parade by the 100 guests.

The festive occasion climaxed with a surprise honorary service for the pastor. The Browns were seated on the stage of the latest addition to the main building, under two silver arches and surrounded by flowers. The stage was covered in white and some of the children of the church were seated around their feet.

The ladies of the church were attired in their finest gowns and surely what's "in" for summer had to have been seen there. The first lady was lovely in a soft yellow gown accented by silver accessories.

Special guest speakers included the Rev. Lindsay Pitts and the Rev. Vernon Dobson. Also, Mrs. Patricia B. Holmes, the Rev. Mr. Brown's niece from Macon, Ga.

Some of his favorite selections were rendered as he was honored with a silver plaque of appreciation for 25 years of devoted service and a silver plated mug.

Representatives from each organization of the church also spoke in honor of the accomplishments Reverend Brown has made over the years.

He is the founder of the Christian Church which grew out of a prayer hour held in his home in the 200 block of Striker St. in 1933.

In 1948, the church became incorporated and moved to its present location at North Ave. and Payson St.

Since that time, the Rev. Mr. Brown has continued to stand before his congregation and community as a stately lighthouse sending forth a comforting light as a message of hope in darkness.

MINISTERS WIVES

The June meeting of the Interdenominational Ministers Wives Alliance of Baltimore and Vicinity was held on the lawn of St. Mark's Institutional Baptist Church where the Rev. Spencer Dobson is pastor. Mrs. Estelle Dobson served as hostess.

The Worship Service, written by the late Sister Vastied Stokes was reverently carried out by Sister Marvine Smith. The meditation was given by Sister Doreatha Jordan.

The business meeting was held with President Mary K. Revels presiding.

New members: Sisters Anna Gilchrist and Dorothy Johnson were welcomed. Sisters Ellen Wilkerson and Rossye Moore were unable to attend due to sickness.

Congratulations and honors were presented to Sister Louvenia Swinson, a recent graduate of the Community College and Sister Mary Harrington, newly appointed president of the Baptist Convention. The slate of new officers for 1973-1974 was presented by Sister Ethel Burgess, assistant chairman of the Nominating Committee, Sister Doreatha Jordan is chairman.

The Scholarship Fund reported that a $200 scholarship was awarded to Dunbar High School and a $100 scholarship to Douglass High from the group.

The ladies who were attired in a rainbow of long dresses retired to the dining hall where Group VI entertained for the remainder of the evening.

Present were: Sisters Goldie Kitchen, Elva H. McDougald, Althea Fancher, Anna Gilchrist, Esther L. Edwards, Mary Harrington, Anna M. Jordan, Ida Williams, Dorothy Hunter, Jerolyn J. Stewart, Myrtle Johnson, Ethel Burgess, Pauline Logan, Kathryn Brown, Myrtle Loftons, Marie E. Taylor, Pauline Redd, Bertha Winston.

Also, Sisters Euther Taylor, Dorothy Johnson, Leola M. O'Neal, Louvenia Swinson, Marie Dawkins, Roberta Williams, Emery Boddie, Mary Revels, Florence Queen, Irene Johnson, Mary Brown, Robertine Clifford, Kathryn Brion, Catherine Dixon, Sarah Fleming.

And, Sisters Pearl Williams, Theophra Silvers, Bertie Lemon, and Doreatha C. Jordan. The Reverends and Mrs. Ernest P. Clark, Spencer Dobson and Kelly L. Jackson.

Auto Service Blessed

What better way to start into business ownership than to put the business into the hands of the Lord!

That's just what Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Darden did on June 30 when they held a dedication service for their business, C and L Auto Repair Service at 5905 Liberty Rd. The Rev. J. Marion Bradley of Berean Baptist Church officiated at the dedication. Family and friends attended the ceremony.

Beauty tips

This year, to give your family a little something extra, take along chilled baby powder and baby oil when you go to the beach or the pool.

Hot, chafed skin that's been exposed to water, sand and heat will appreciate a liberal dusting of super-absorbent, cool, refreshing powder everytime. The pure talc will ease anad comfort over-heated skin and give renewed energy to the tiniest member of your family, as well as to the biggest.

For after-tanning take along a convenient plastic bottle of baby oil into which you've mixed the juice of fresh lemon. Chill overnight or in a cooler that you take along with you. The baby oil softens and gently buffs skin that's been exposed to the sun and it will help your skin stay soft and beautiful longer. The chilled oil soothes your family's skin and the tangy scent of lemon will perk up even the most tired spirit.
