Snake plant in bloom, a rarity

Ever seen a snake plant in bloom? Probably not.

Mrs. Addie Boone of 151 Albemarle St. modestly explains her amazing horticultural gift as "an inheritance from my mother."

Her "love of flowers," she said, "started with her mother back in the days of North Carolina."

"I like all beautiful things, beautiful flowers, a beautiful house," added the 1972 Garden of the Year award winner.

The certificate is presented annually by the Department of Housing and Community Development to the resident of a housing project planting and maintaining the most beautiful garden.

Mrs. Boone is married and the mother of four daughters, Evelyn, 16, Wanda, 13, Robin, 12 and Gladys, 9, and one son, Winslow, 15.

Her husband, Herman, is a professional painter.

MRS. ADDIE BOONE displays her unusual blossoming snake plant which she reports was given her on her birthday by a mother-in-law.

went on to occasional solo performances at PTA meetings and weddings.

Throughout high school, she also began playing several instruments for the school band. She remained active musically and developed her rich, contralto voice.

In 1967, Mrs. Slater entered Onondaga College in Syracuse, N.Y. as a voice major, but left after a semester to appear with various groups in the Buffalo area.

brother, Clint, who was then a member of the Army Chorus in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Slater joined him and began singing with the "N.J. Orange," a "Fifth Dimension" type group.

When they broke up, she returned to Buffalo and sang in a supper club. In 1970, she married Steve Slater, a former college classmate and a Navy musician stationed in Norfolk, Va.

In Philadelphia, where Mr. Slater was then transferred, she made guest appearances with the Navy Band.

After an audition with the U.S. Naval Academy Band in Annapolis in 1972, both she and her husband were accepted, she as a vocalist and he as a trombonist.

Reaction from the Annapolis audience has since been overwhelming.

Mrs. Brown further added, "This is the strangest thing I've heard. I'm so full because like her I live by myself."

Weeping, Mrs. Brown told this reporter, "That woman had a way with her, she was so difficult to know but so kind when you know her." She stated she had not seen much of her friend the past six months.

But Mrs. Brown who is disabled further added: "Of all the people in this block she was most friendly and the most decent. One curious thing about her; she never said much about herself. Never mentioned a family or friends."

Confirming Mrs. Randolph's secretiveness later, a woman claiming she is a cousin told the AFRO, "Nobody really knew her."

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, 22 N. Caroline St., the cousin, revealed, "She kept much to herself. She visited nobody. If I went to see her she never let me in. I stand by the door." She said she visited her twice or thrice.

"Nobody was close to her. [illegible] don't know a thing about [illegible]r life," Mrs. Evans [illegible]d in answer to a question whether Mrs. Randolph was widowed.

Homicide police report they found the dead woman bent on one knee with the other foot under her right thigh. They found blood stains on the walls, her dress, left arm and on some clothes.

A neighbor told police he observed a man and a woman driving away from the apartment after they discovered the body. He said the couple, known to have visited the dead woman several times, called her several times without a reply so they forced the door open.

The visitors are described as a man and a woman. The man is in his 40's, 6 feet tall and weighs about 260 lbs. He wearing a yellow shirt and black pants. The woman is about 23, 5 ft. 5 ins. tall and wearing red pants and a white blouse.

Another neighbor reports seeing two men running across rooftops of the block's rowhouses early Tuesday. Police found glassware and other items from rooftops, but are not sure if they came from Mrs. Randolph's home.

The body of Mrs. Randolph remains at the city morgue and is expected to be picked up by relatives from Pasadena.

was reported the car, owned by Stokes, was found abandoned in New York City with a dead body in it.

Baltimore police report Knox was arrested at about 2:37 a.m. Friday after Mrs. Jean Gentry, 600 block New Willow St., reported her car was shot at in the 600 block Cherry Hill Rd.

Also arrested was Harry J. McMillian, 23, 400 block Watty Ct.

After his arrest, police said Knox identified himself as "Jessie Gardner," 150 Chaffing Ave., Long Island, N.Y. But fingerprint checks revealed he was a wanted escapee from the Maryland State Penitentiary serving life plus 20 for homicide.

According to police the two were arrested after a hot chase by a number of patrol cars. A handgun was found on one of them.

Warden McClellan of the State Penitentiary told the AFRO Knox was one of six inmates who successfully made off when eleven prisoners having a Bible class overpowered Rev. Tilghman, the chaplain, tied him up and locked him in a room Feb. 23 this year. Knox let himself down to the ground by curtains tied together.

He was sentenced February, 1969 for murder in Caroline County Knox was sent back to the Pen Tuesday and is placed in the South Wing awaiting court action.

An AFRO call received Wednesday by a man who withheld his name said he knew Knox as "William Sewell."

He stated that Knox had been seen on Fulton Ave. in Baltimore shortly before he (Knox) announced he was going to California.

The caller said Knox knew "sly" and Benny and was supposed to have been the last person seen here with the two dead men.

The caller also said the man he knows as "Sewell" had been in Atlantic City lately and when observed recently "didn't look poor or unkempt nor like a fugitive, although he was on the run."

—Tape dispute

signed an order giving the White House until 10 a.m. EDT Aug. 7 to show cause why it should not turn over the tapes.

At the same time, on a motion by Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., its senior Republican, the Senate Watergate committee voted unanimously to take the issue to court after Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., the chairman, read Nixon's letter of refusal at the start of Thursday's televised hearings.

In his letter, Nixon did offer to give the committee some documents "that can properly be made public" if the committee would ask for them specifically. Ervin said that was patently impossible.

"We are not clairvoyants, since we have never seen the documents," Ervin said, his eyebrows waggling.

While former White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman sat with narrowed eyes and clenched jaws at the witness table for an hour awaiting further questioning, Baker abandoned his long-held hope of finding a way out of the impasse.

"The issues are in fact joined," he said. "We have arrived at the place where the third branch of government — the judiciary — might be called upon."

Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel, will ask the court for a declaratory judgement that the President must comply with the committee's subpoenas for recordings of five conversations Nixon had with ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III and for all documents involving 25 past and present White House aides and campaign officials.

The tapes sought by the committee concern conversations Nixon had with Dean from Sept. 15, 1972, through March 21, 1973, in which Dean alone has testified that the President indicated he knew of coverup efforts following the June 17, 1972, break-in at Democratic headquarters. Nixon has said he knew nothing of the coverup until March 21.

Dash said the committee probably would go to court early next week. Ervin said the case will be prepared carefully to avoid being thrown out on a technicality.

cluding Joe Robinson, the only other member of the NDC.

Not that it mattered, of course!

To say the least, Mrs. Harrison's selection came as no great surprise to the group of nearly 100 who jammed inside the church's basement to witness the proceedings.

Her name had been frequently mentioned in connection with the second district seat ever since Mr. Scott's death.

Mrs. Harrison, a member of the Democratic Central Committee, becomes the third legislator in eight months to occupy the second district seat.

Delegate Scott was selected just last December to fill the vacancy created by the sudden death of Delegate Floyd B. Adams (D., 2d).

Mr. Scott himself was murdered only seven months after being selected and now, Mrs. Harrison takes over.

"I'm really thrilled," she enthused upon being selected.

"The shock is still there. Right now, I don't have any feelings, but when I go home and lie down, it'll probably hit me!"

As is always the case, Mrs. Harrison's background will be extensively researched by the governor, though in most instances, he accepts the selection of the board.

"I'm sure that he'll (the governor) find I'm okay. I've lived openly all my life," she stated.

Liddie and Bobby ask for a new trial

A motion for a new trial for John Edward (Liddie) Jones and his brother Robert (Bobby) Jones was slated to be heard this afternoon (Friday) in Federal Court at 3 p.m.

If the new trial is denied, Liddie and his brother Robert will be sentenced by Judge C. Stanley Blair.

The two brothers were found guilty by a Federal Court jury of conspiracy to distribute heroin. Another brother, Baxter (Peanut) Jones has been acquitted of a charge to distribute heroin.

MURDER SUSPECT — Sherman W. Dobson, 20-year-old son of a prominent Baltimore minister, is moved to Baltimore City Jail after being charged with the July 13 murder of Delegate James A. (Turk) Scott. A pistol recovered from Dobson's home at first was linked to both Scott's death and the July 18 murder of George L. Evans, which was similar to the Scott slaying. Police later said the Dobson gun was not involved. (UPI Telephoto)

—Free on $15,000 bail

May 7 was "the largest single one ever shipped in the United States."

He told the court in vain that he wanted Miss Schier held on $25,000 bail and asserted she had made recent trips to the West Coast and South America.

The government's affidavit says the package was air-mailed to Miss Schier "from Laura Schier, 7832 Ney Ave., Oakland, Calif." with instructions for Friendship Airport to "hold for pickup."

Here is the story of the LSD shipment and the events that followed according to the affidavit of Virginia Miller, a Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs special agent:

On May 3, 1973, a representative of United Airlines Air Freight, Oakland, Calif. contacted the San Francisco District Office, BNDD, and advised that they had just received a package at the air freight terminal and that they believed this package contained narcotic drugs.

Special Agent Lloyd Clifton, San Francisco Office, BNDD, went to the United Airline freight terminal and seized this package.

A field test was performed on a small portion of the substances in the package and a positive reaction for a hallucinogenic drug was received.

The above mentioned package was addressed to Rosemary Schier, Friendship Airport, Baltimore, Maryland, with special instructions "Hold For Pickup."

The package had a return address from Laura Schier, 7832 Ney Ave. Oakland, Calif. Investigation by BNDD Agents in San Francisco revealed that this address did not exist.

Special Agent Clifton then telephonically conferred with Group Supervisor Michael J. Agnese, Baltimore, Md. and it was decided that the package would be sent to Baltimore under the supervision of BNDD Agents.

On May 3, 1973, Group Supervisor Agnese contacted United Airlines Air Freight, Friendship Airport and determined that a female, who identified herself as Schier, inquired about this package on a number of occasions. Group Supervisor Agnese advised United Airlines personnel that if this female called back, to advise her that the package would arrive on May 4, 1973, and also advise her to call back on that date.

On May 4, 1973, at about 9:25 a.m., Special Agent Clifton placed the above mentioned package in a paper bag addressed to Special Agent Mike Agnese, Baltimore Regional Office, and placed this package on United Airlines Flight No. 62 from San Francisco, California to Baltimore, Maryland. Special Agent Clifton placed the package in compartment No. 12.

On May 4, 1973, a female who identified herself as Schier again contacted United Airlines air freight and inquired about the package. The United Airlines personnel, at the direction of Group Supervisor Agnese, advised the female that the package could be picked up at 7 p.m. The female then asked for directions to the air freight terminal.

On May 4, 1973, at about 5:40 p.m., United Airlines Flight No. 62 was met at Friendship Airport by Special Agent Joseph T. Grills, Jr. who then removed this package from the plane.

Special Agent Grills then took the package to the United Airlines air freight terminal and placed it with other packages waiting to be picked up. Special Agent Grills continually maintained observation on this package.

At about 7:40 p.m. on the same date, a white female, later identified as Rosemary D. Schier, arrived at the United Airlines air freight terminal and picked up the package consigned to her. Schier signed United Airlines air bill No. 7008 8760 for the package.

Schier then entered a 1970 Mercury driven by a white female. This vehicle then drove from the United Airlines air freight terminal and headed toward the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

BNDD Agents followed Schier, who was a passenger in the above mentioned vehicle. While conducting surveillance, it appeared to the agents that Schier was opening the package.

At this time, Group Supervisor Agnese advised the agents to arrest Schier. Schier was then placed under arrest and the opened package was seized from her.

This package contained approximately 38,200 Lysergic Acid Diethylamide tablets. Schier was then transported to the BNDD Office for processing.

Records filed in Federal Court state the condition of Miss Rosemary D. Schier's release of May 9, 1973 allowed the defendant to move from 2006 Griffis Ave. to 3907 Old York Rd.

The defendant will personally contact her mother, Mrs. Myrtle R. Mick, daily during the pendency of these proceedings.

"Upon her release, the defendant shall not leave the State of Maryland without the permission of the court.

"She shall appear before this court and at such other places and times as this court or the U.S. Magistrate may order or direct.

"The defendant shall notify the office of the clerk of the court, the office of the U.S. Attorney and her counsel immediately upon any change of her address."

Miss Schier was employed at Community College of Baltimore from Feb. 14 to May 1, 1973.
