Coppin's New Center Opens

Coppin opens New Center. Seen 4 colsm

Coppin State College Center initiates its new concert series with the Morse Donaldson Dance Theater and the Rod Rodgers Dance Company on Sunday, October 28 at 8 p.m.

Both companies, led by young black choreographer-dancers, are known for styles that fuse ballet, modern and jazz tecuniques with strong ethnic overtones. Yet each group possesses hallmarks that are in direct contrast with the techniques of the other.

Donaldson is a product of the Julliard School of music, Metropolitan Opera Ballet School and the National Ballet of Canada. He has performed as soloist at the New York City Shakespeare Festival and the Wagnerian Festival in Bayreuth, and the European tour of "Black Natvity." His talents on Broadway have been in "Purlie," "Cotton Comes to Harlem" and "A Season in the Congo." In Cuba, Scandinavia and the Netherlands he has choreographed, staged works and taught both acting and dancing.

The Rod Rodgers Company has been featured at Jacob's Pillar, famed summer center for the dance in the Berkshires. Its founder was the recipient of a 1965-66 John Hay Whitney Foundation award and a 1970-71 choreographer's grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. He is a master teacher having directed the dance project for the New York Mobilization for Youth Cultural Arts Program, a pre-professional training project, the New York City-Vermont Community of Performing Arts in Ripton, Vermont. Most recently, his choreographer was seen in a WCBS-TV Special "Journey Into Blackmen."

Other performances in the Center Series include the Newark Boys Chorus, November 4; Mezzo-soprano Shirley Verrett, November 30; the Billy Taylor Trio, March 22; Donald McKayle's Inner City Repertory Dance Company of Los Angeles on April 26, 27.

The concerts will be held in the college's new auditorium located at 2500 West North Avenue. Ticket information is available at the box office by calling 383-4525.

These performing elephants will be a highlight of the 30th annual Shrine Circus coming to the 5th Regiment Armory in Baltimore October 30 — November 3. Tickets may be reserved through Boumi Temple, 4900 North Charles Street. There will be two shows daily and three on Saturday.

School 94 Visits AFRO

Sixty-three students of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of School 94, 2200 Sinclair Lane visited the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers this week as part of this newspaper's Newspaper In The Classroom program.

Miss Mary Richardson is principal and they were accompanied by Mesdames Viola Hill and Carolyn Beane, teachers and Miss Regina Dockins, aide.

The students were greeted by AFRO executives, Mrs. Frances Murphy, Chairman and John H. Murphy III, president.

The Public Relations staff, Mrs. Ida Peters, Mrs. Connie Brown and Miss Cynthia Stevenson took the students on a guided tour to talk with editors and staff members.

They were shown a film on AFRO operations and given various special sections of the AFRO including the new DAWN Magazine and Opportunities '73.

By the way...

by Joe Black

Back in the twenties, there was a beautiful lady they called the Empress of the blues. Her name was Bessie Smith. And she was famous for a song called "Nobody Knows You When You're Down and Out."

That was a long time back. And yet, today, you can still hear it echoing in many Black communities, and from Black organizations.

You can hear the rip off against Blacks who have achieved some measure of success. Downing the achievers who, if you believe it, have turned their backs on their Black brothers and sisters.

Well, I wonder just how many of those wailers can dig into their pockets, and produce an NAACP card, an Urban League card, or a receipt for a contribution to PUSH, SCLC, or any reputable Black institution.

Of course, when you're not up there, it's easy—sometimes natural—to sit back and blame the achiever for a lot of things. Not the least of which is not being more involved.

However, lots of achievers are involved. But, what's more important is this. Rather than allow an attitude like this to keep Black communities divided, I suggest we all do a little more to help ease the problems that exist in our communities. Repeat, all of us.

Some can help more than others, of course.

But please keep in mind, when we all help, we all help each other

"Shaft"

"Shaft" in a cowboy hat and leather vest, sitting in a Western saddle astride his horse, galloping into the California desert ...

That's the unlikely, but true, picture of how Richard Roundtree, a native Easterner, spends his spare time. The actor, who skyrocketed to movie stardom as John Shaft, a tough, New York City private detective, already owns four horses and is fast acquiring expert knowledge of equine bloodlines and training schedules. Roundtree now is the star of "Shaft," the 90-minute dramatic program seen Tuesdays (9:30-11:00 p.m., ET) in rotation with "Hawkins" and "The New CBS Tuesday Night Movies."

A native of New Rochelle, N.Y., Roundtree dates his love of horses back to childhood vacations at a family farm in the South.

"My biggest dream was always to own a 150-acre ranch," he says. "I hope to have it within the next year or so. In the meantime, I'm getting my stable together."

He currently has an Appaloosa mare and her colt, a pinto, and a thoroughbred named Little Nell. He keeps them at a stable in Victorville, in the high desert country 96 miles from Los Angeles.

More Happening

ROSALIND CASH

Beautiful Rosalind Cash, best known for her roles in "Melinda," has a featured role in "The All-American Boy," a Warner Bros. production opening this week at the Baronet Theater, in N.Y.

Jon Voight stars in the film about a young, tough, good-looking Golden Gloves fighter who doesn't know what he wants. E. J. Peaker, Anne Archer and Bob Hastings are co-featured.

Miss Cash has the role of Poppy, an attractive out-of-town girl who has an affair with Voight.

WAILERS

The Wailers, Jamaician reggae group now touring with Sly Stone, added an Oct. 23 concert at Philharmonic Hall in New York, with Johnny Nash. The Island Records band will end their 1973 season Nov. 5 at the 19,000-seat Spectrum in Philadelphia, as special guest act with War.

The group is celebrating its second decade together, having started in the ghetto of Kingston, Jamaica.

WITHERS

Bill Withers, Sussex Records star, is making his lone United Kingdom concert appearance Oct. 28 at the Rainbow Theater in London.

While in England he'll also tape an "In Concert" for the BBC-TV, to be aired for producer Stanley Dorfman in November, and then will make a guest appearance with Lulu on her TV show, Nov. 3.

WILT

When basketball great Wilt Chamberlain visits next week, Dinah Shore gets a refreshing view of the world from his high vantage point, as the NBC television camera gives a "Wilt's-eye" tour of "Dinah's Place." Wilt prepares mozzarella marinara. Dinah sings "I've Never Been To Spain."

JAZZ STORY

Spurred by the resurging interest in jazz nationwide, a new 32-page booklet, "The Jazz Story — An Outline History of Jazz," has been published for jazz fans and students by Calvert Extra.

The colorfully written and profusely illustrated publication was written by Dan Morgenstern, former editor of Down Beat and Metronome magazines and one of the world's top jazz authorities. It is available at a cost of 25 cents (to cover postage and handling) from: Calvert Extra Jazz Booklet, 375 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022.

FUELWARN

The NBC Television Network's "Today" program (Mondays-Fridays, 7-9 a.m. NYT) will inaugurate a new service during the upcoming winter heating season called "Fuelwarn." This new weather feature on the severity of the 1973-74 winter season will be presented each Wednesday, and if cold waves and fuel shortages warrant it, on a daily basis.

PEARL

Pearl Bailey commented to Mike Douglas in San Francisco about her recovery from the series of heart attacks she has experienced: "The medicine is good, but God is the One who really blew the breath back in."

She received a huge ovation from the overflow audience at Aquatic Park, as she did a different, very dramatic treatment of "It Only Takes A Moment," the song from "Hello Dolly" in which she starred on Broadway ... When a dog, the latest of several, wandered across the Douglas outdoor stage, guest Charlton Heston quipped, "That dog was hired by the Johnny Carson Show."

RAY CHARLES

Ray Charles, The Raeletts and The Ray Charles Orchestra, currently winding up their annual European concert tour, have been set for a three week tour of Japan, beginning November 2. The Ray Charles Show '73 will perform a total of 12 concert appearances and 8 night club shows in Tokyo, Osaka, Hiroshima, Kobe, Nagoya and other major Japanese cities.

Ray Charles will be Barbra Streisand's only guest on the upcoming television special "Singer Presents Barbra Streisand ... And other Musical Instruments." And the medley of tunes they sing together on the show will be one of the tracks on Streisand's new LP for Columbia Records.

Here's another reason we call the Lottery...
TWIN WIN
an explanation of the Lottery's Regular and Scramble Prizes:
There are many ways to win the Lottery. That's why we call it Twin Win. The Regular way is to compare your LOTTERY NUMBER to the WINNING WEEKLY NUMBER. If the last three, four, five or six numbers on your Ticket match exactly the WINNING WEEKLY NUMBER, then you are a cash winner. Your prize will be between $25 and $50,000 and you also qualify for the Million Dollar Preminimary Drawing. If only the last two numbers in your Lottery Number match exactly the last two numbers in the WINNING WEEKLY NUMBER, then you are eligible for the Million Dollar Preliminary Drawing.
Scramble Prizes:
Another way to win the Lottery is to be a Scramble Winner. People who are Scramble Winners have all six numbers IN ANY ORDER in either their LOTTERY NUMBER or their SERIAL NUMBER correctly matching the six numbers in the WINNING WEEKLY NUMBER. Be sure to check both your Lottery Number and your Serial Number to see if you are a $35 Scramble Winner. In fact you could win the Lottery the Regular Way and the Scramble Way on the same Ticket. Boy, then you'd be a real Twin Winner.
