College students sought

The Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development is seeking students of Maryland colleges to participate in an intern program designed to provide state and local governments with a future source of technical assistance in developing community resources.

Interested students should request their college advisors to contact the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development in Annapolis, telephone (301) 267-5381, for further details, or write to the department's community development administrator, 2525 Riva Road, Annapolis 21401.

SBA contracts awarded

Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, D-Md., says his office has been directly involved in the awarding of 2.1 million dollars in new government contracts.

These contracts are for goods and services purchased from black businesses in the Seventh Congressional District. The amount cited covers a period of one year ending Oct. 31.

In addition, Mitchell said his office had assisted constituents in successfully completing SBA loans totaling $794,500.00 during the same period.

The Congressman noted these figures are even more significant considering the fact that he has been a constant critic of both the Small Business Administration and the Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE.

Reading programs announced

"Baltimore Is Doing Something Special About Reading" is the theme of a series of Lunch-Hour Read-Ins sponsored by the Baltimore City Public Schools that will begin on Wednesday, Nov. 28, in Mondawmin Mall.

Mrs. Dorothy Clayborne, coordinator of reading and Mrs. Marie Francis, Right to Read project manager, have jointly announced that the Baltimore City Public Schools are inaugurating a series of lunch-hour read-ins.

The Lunch-Hour Read-In will take place in the Mondawmin Mall at Gwynns Falls Parkway and Liberty Heights Avenue from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. A special display on the Right to Read project will be supplemented by materials from the Enoch Pratt Library.

Women on boards discussed

The League of Women Voters of Baltimore City says the public has a right to know and tells why every Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m. on WBJC-FM (91.5).

Nov. 28, Women on Boards and Commissions in Baltimore City will be discussed by Mrs. M. Maree Farring, school board and Mrs. Joan Bereska, Mayor Schaefer's administrative assistant.

Mrs. Myra Hale is hostess of the radio program and chairman of the league's radio committee.

Lang gets appointment

Edward J. Lang has been named regional supervisor for Baltimore City (Region VII) in the Division of Court and Community Services of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Juvenile Services Administration, according to administration director Robert C. Hilton.

Lang's appointment is effective immediately.

He was assistant regional supervisor in Baltimore City since March, 1971, and, on two occasions, was acting regional supervisor and has been working with juveniles since 1965.

NOV. 28

On Wednesday, November 28 at 12 noon in its Academic Center Student Study Lounge, Maryland and Mt. Royal Avenues, the University of Baltimore will present part one of a two part program on the Arab-Israeli War. Guest speaker for part one will be Safei Hamed, architect, and native of Cairo, Egypt, who is now living in the U.S.

Anti-NAACP phone calls hurt drive

The Baltimore Branch NAACP said in a Monday position paper that a telephone campaign is being waged against its upcoming Bicentennial Benefit.

The report claims the anti-benefit phone drive is largely responsible for the fact that only nine companies out of 300 have favorably responded with financial contributions in answer to the NAACP's asking area business firms each for $1 a day or $365 a year.

The goal of $109,00 was expected to be reached partly through filling some 1,800 seats at the Nov. 30 Lyric Theatre showing of "Save the Children" film.

To date, contributions will fill only about 400 seats according to Executive Director B. Nathaniel Knight.

Firms contributing are Maryland National Bank, Koester's Bakery, First National Bank of Maryland, Commercial Credit, McLean Contracting Company, Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and the American National Building and Loan Association.

Hopkins seeks gifted math students

The Johns Hopkins University has announced testing dates for a program that seeks to identify seventh and eighth grade Maryland youngsters who have exceptional ability in mathematical areas.

To be conducted under the university's Study of Mathematically and Scientifically Precocious Youth, this test will make gifted boys and girls eligible for in their areas.

tuition waivers by colleges

The test will be given at several centers throughout the State. On Jan. 19, 1974, it will be given at Frostburg State College.

Qualified students for their parents should contact William C. George, research coordinator for the project, at the Department of Psychology, The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, 21218. The telephone is (301) 366-3300, Ext. 538. Completed applications must be returned no later than Friday, Dec. 14.

GI benefits available

High school dropouts who detoured through military service en route to college have a GI Bill benefit that was not available to their fathers after World War II.

In addition to 36 months college assistance, Vietnam veterans earn with as little as 18 months service, they also can receive GI Bill payments for any training necessary to complete high school or additional courses needed to meet college entrance requirements.

These "free entitlement" months can be used without depleting the basic 36 months' eligibility needed for four college years.

Summer job applications due Jan. 25

College students seeking summer employment in federal agencies are reminded that requests to take the Summer Employment Examination must be postmarked prior to Jan. 25. Late applications will not be accepted according to the Civil Service Commission.

DEC. 5

Villa Julie College will hold its second Campus Day, scheduled this year on Wednesday, December 5, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. This day will give high school students an opportunity to participate in a regular college day. They will be invited to attend classes informally, meet the faculty, talk with Villa Julie students and learn firsthand of life at the college, located at Green Spring Valley Road between Falls Road and Park Heights Avenue.

DEC. 5

The public is invited to a comprehensive lecture on the problems of aging in America, to be given in Anne Arundel Community College's Humanities Lecture Hall on Dec. 5 at 8:30 p.m.
