AFRO INQUIRING REPORTER

This Christmas, less turkey less presents

Question: With food and other prices up so high, will you have to cut back on turkey dinner and giving out presents as usual this Christmas?

* * *

Mrs. Myrtle Mercer, 73, 1300 Poplar, housewife — I'm going to give my presents because of the rising prices. I'm going to go going away for dinner so that'll help me.

* * *

Edward Robertson, 26, 2500 Charles St. Coca-Cola worker — I'll still have a turkey this year, because my company gives me one. I don't know about other things though.

Mrs. Geneva McGowens, 22, 2500 Talbot Rd. housewife — Oh yes, I'm going to have to cut back a lot on Christmas. We're going to have to cut back on presents for the kids, and on food too. We're going to have a smaller turkey.

* * *

Mrs. Sweetie Squire, 62, 4900 Littsfield Ave., housewife — Yes, I will. I'm going to have guests, no turkey dinner either. I'm going to have to cut back on presents too. Iwon't be able to give to our in-laws. I'm cutting down my lightsfund thermostat also.

Mrs. Debora Wright, 20, 3400 Virginia Ave. housewife — Yep, kids are going to get less presents this year. No turkey dinner as usual. It's all because of the rising prices.

* * *

Mrs. Elsie O. Whaton, 55, 2700 W. North Ave., housewife — Oh yes, I'm going to have a turkey as usual, but it's going to be much smaller. I'm going to give to everyone, but the presents are going to be ones that cost less. I partly blame President Nixon for it. I think he could control it if he wanted to.

Charles Henson, 64, 500 W. Mulberry St. retired — I don't usually have a big dinner, so it's not going to affect me as much. Cutting back on the thermostat is ok, because you have to do it.

* * *

Mrs. Charlet Kaplan, 3500 University Pkwy., retired housewife — Yes we're going to cut back. We're not having turkey, though we usually do. I'm giving money, it saves me some work.

* * *

Ernest H. Podwers, 52, 3600 Park Heights Ave., Porter — Yes, very much. I usually have turkey on Christmas, but now I'm not sure. I'm going to have to cut back on presents too.

Miss Lizzie Woodard, 64, 1300 Wirton — I'll be eating with my sister-in-law so it won't bother me that much. I'm not going to be able to give presents. I'm on welfare, so I don't have the money.

* * *

Mrs. Ann Boydd, 39, 2500 Quantico Ave., waitress — I couldn't say on presents. but we will cut back on food though. There'll be no turkey like before.

* * *

Miss Shirley Kindred, 26, 1700 W. Madison St. — Yes I am, we'll have the regular turkey dinner, just cut back. We'll be cutting back on presents too.

* * *

Miss Edith Andrews, 19, 1700 W. Madison Ave., student — Yes, a lot. Your not making that much working either, so you're not able to buy the presents that you want to buy.

Thomas Franklin, 26, 700 W. Lafayette St., custodian — I started buying presents during the summer, and I put some of them on layaway. I'm a bachelor, so I'll be eating out with my family, so I'll save money there.

MISS SHIRLEY KINDRED "just cut back"

THOMAS FRANKLIN "eating out with family"

MRS. ANN BOYDD "no turkey"

MISS EDITH ANDREWS "not making that much"
