More Holiday Parties

Parties have been happening in the New City, plenty of them. Space will only allow this writer to mention only one this week.

It was a lovely way to entertain, and nearly 50 people had a smashing time at the gala holiday party given by Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Turner (Sarah) in their spacious split foyer home.

The colorful setting was absolutely beautiful throughout. The Turners' daughter, Velleda Hilliard, greeted the guests at the door while her charming mother met the guests as they entered a lower level where the sounds of popular records were heard. One had to stare at the gorgeously decorated table. It had a centerpiece made of Christmas decorations placed on a red and white table cloth inscribed Merry Christmas with matching napkins.

The buffet was mouth-watering and tasty ... so much that some of those goodies such as the well-prepared chicken salad and hot meatballs and colorful Christmas mold made of Christmas colors were devastated. The hostess really had a spread for her guests — plenty of everything — egg nog, open bar, coffee. What a spread.

Mrs. Turner is a reading specialist in the Howard County school system and also does private tutoring.

One guest designed a special garment for the Turners' party. She was Mrs. Shirley Henson from Lanham, Md.; also a reading specialist. She was looking sharp in her own creation: a hot pink, long-sleeve jump suit with a long, brown-pattern, sleeveless coat with a matching strip of material on sleeves of suit. She chose gold for her jewelry.

Mrs. Ruby Harrell from D.C. chose a navy blue, long, princess-line gown with a deep slit up the side; she too chose gold for her jewelry. Mrs. Anna Miles, Suitland, Md., wore a two-piece pant suit with multi-colors on print jersey; the pants had the wide elephant legs. Mrs. Ethel Parker was very attractive as always. This time she chose a wine and beige, metallic pant suit with a matching blazer and wine clog shoes.

The charming hostess, Mrs. Turner, was beautiful in a two-piece evening attire; the long, black knit skirt had fashionable jewel butterflies on the side; she chose a matching knit sleeveless sweater.

Enjoying the holiday festivities were:

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hilton, Washington, D.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Parker, Mr. Eddie Cooper, Mrs. Ruby Harrell and Mrs. Shirley Henson, Lanham, Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Miley, Suitland, Md.; Major Tony Hernandez, Alexandria, Va.

Messrs and Mesdames Douglas Sands, Arthur Fletcher, Eugene Day, Alex Parker, John Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Blake, Dr. and Mrs. F. Cooper.

Messrs and Mesdames W. A. Ross, Nathanial Kelly, Steve Wilson, Robert Harper, Jack Reid, J. Kostre, E. Rude, D. Adams and Mrs. D. Houck.

Best wishes for the New Year of Brotherhood and Peace.

Thought For Today

"No evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death." Socrates

Goodies like pineapple mousse, apple crisp, pound and devil's food cakes, fresh fruit sweetened with strawberry jam, ice cream and fresh fruit were plentiful that evening. The hostess says her friends went back to the punch bowl several times for her cinnamon coffee punch which is always a winner. Their holiday guests were:

Drs. and Mesdames Lionel Desborder, Roland Smoot, Harold Ramsey, Edward Hunt, Ralph Twining, Thomas Allen, Bernard H. Christmas, Eugene Byrd, Albert Laforest.

Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Robinson, Howard Murphy, Charles Josey, Jeffrey Moss, Dennis Gowia, Alexander Stark, David Booth, Malcolm Hellmen, Judge and Mrs. Joseph Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown.

Misses Ruth Fegley, Henri Daniels and Messrs. George Vaughn and Walter Dean.

(Cuff Note: Hostesses for the Banfield gathering were Mrs. Alimay Kendrich and her lovely daughter, Karin).

Cocktails By Candlelight

Dr. and Mrs. Wesley (Alice) Shelton were at home on Sunday with many of their close friends for cocktails by candlelight.

The charming and youthful hostess carried out the holiday theme in a peach colored knit dress, Tricisa original, which featured a V neckline, long sleeves and bodice embroidered with miniature sequins in a geometric design. Her skirt was pleated and belted at the waist.

The Cedric Road home found Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Stewart, William Ghant, Lipson George, Harold Holmes, Robert Campbell, James Griffin, Jack Brook, Marcus Carson, Irving Lotter, A. Paul Moss, Thomas Mitchell, William Britt, Thomas Hasty and Willie Brown there.

Also, Messrs. and Mesdames James Harris, George Alston, Melvin Alston, Robert Smith, all of Washington; Joseph B. White, Iran; William Davis, Herman Sydnor, Jackson Glass, Joseph Bernard, William Proctor, Bertram Harrington, Maurice Middleton, Louis Gwynn, Marquis Shelton.

And, Messrs. and Mesdames Herman Moore, James Pierce, Wilford Shelton, Ronald Jackson, Rudolph Thomas and Robert Dunmore, Drs. and Mesdames James Cooper, Bernard Christmas, Edward Hunt, Lord Newberry, New Jersey, Mesdames Iola Stewart, Geraldine Woods, N.J.

And Messrs. Jack Brook, Sinclair Reed, Bermuda and Misses Lynn Newberry, Zenella Harrington and Johnnie Dunmore.

Woodlawn HIGHlights

By MARJORIE R. GREEN

MRS. GREEN

The Hunt Valley Inn was the setting recently for the annual luncheon given by Government Girls on the Go. The afternoon social hour began at 1 p.m. with lunch and ended with a fabulous fashion show featuring Mitchell's Furs modeled by members of the government girls group.

This year's chairman was Mrs. Eileen Manning who extended the greetings to the group of 70 women representing every Social Security building in the downtown and Woodlawn area.

Mrs. Shirley Horton was winner of the GGOG of the Year certificate. The certificate presented by Mrs. Mamie Jones was the first of its kind to be awarded since the Christmas luncheons began fourteen years ago. Mrs. Jones told the audience that each year the committee plans to select a new GGOG of the year from the luncheon participant.

Among those seen table hopping and doing their own things were: Mesdames and Misses Shirley Myers, Brenda Rigby, Debbie Hendricks, Hazel Woods, Carolyn Mello, Delores Bordley, Barbara Brown, Yvonne Glenn, Jean Richardson, Martha Dotson Catherine Richardson.

Also, Mesdames and Misses Alfredia Johnson, Rosetta Queen, Edith Fauntleroy, Mary McCall, Phyliss Waters, Ellen Byrd, Liz Nelson, Mary Neal, Geraldine Smott, also Barbara Alcindo, Betty Hobbard, Elizabeth Johnson, Barbara Dyer, Blanche Wade, Ellen Johnson.

Mesdames and Misses Vera Macklin, Barbara Knight, Pauline Turner, Doris McKinley, Janet Perkins, Loisetta Smith, Marjorie Green, Mae Spicer, Kerrill Boore, Melvina Thompson, Barbara Turner, Barbara Green, Phyliss Hall, Earlene Smith, Carolyn Dorrneyes.

Mesdames and Misses Shirley Hanks, Rachel Briley, Pearl Queen, and Mary James, Marion Counts, Irene Smott, Barbara Aleid, S. Gorman, Jane Sherr, Rose Latoire, Phyliss Reaves, Peggy Evans, Theresa Fagan, Nina Edosa, Alverta Blake.

Mesdames and Misses Bernice Haynes, Elizabeth Tolson, Carolyn Smith, Sandra Washington, Alice Jones, Bernadette Burrell, Joyce Agero, Ray Wheehel and Robert McKinley.

Sunday, December 23 marked the second time in 1973 that the Social Security volunteer workers left their individual projects to join forces for the purpose of bringing holiday happiness into the lives of others.

It was Senior Citizen Day at the Mount Vernon Place United Methodist Church and Mrs. Kitty Smith, SSA volunteer coordinator, was beaming as she accepted praise for another job well done.

The Rev. James H. Cain along with Mayor William Donald Schaefer and Chuck Richards were moving about greeting the 300 invited guests as Social Security employees waited on tables and distributed Christmas gifts.

After dinner the Senior Citizens were escorted by volunteers into the large, packed sanctuary where a musical festival given for the benefit of the Jaycees "1973 Santa Claus Anonymous Appeal" was in progress.

Participating on the program were: the Morris Queen Chorale, Phoenix Choir, Mount Vernon Place United Methodist Church Choir and the St. Michael's Ukrainian Catholic Church Choir.

St. John's Christmas Party

The Annual Christmas Party sponsored by St. John's AME Church was held at the Fontaine Blue on Thursday, December 27. The four organizations responsible for such a lovely affair were the Lela M. Tomkin Progressive Club, one More Effort Chancel Choir, Church Aide Society and J. S. Grant Sisterhood.

Dinner was quickly and efficiently served to the individual tables which were tastefully arranged and decorated with the traditional Christmas colors.

The menu included fruit cocktail, a salad, and a well selected seafood platter with baked potatoes and string beans. Ice cream was served for dessert.

The program consisted of a ballet dance by Leda A. Fuller with the soft music of Ave Maria in the background. Leda is a student at Peabody and were a beautiful white ballerina gown while doing her dance. Mrs. Estelle Hargrove served as Mistress of Ceremonies when Awards and Presents were given to various dedicated and steadfast workers of the church.

Among those present were: Misses and Mesdames: Katherine V. Oliver, Leda Fuller, Ethel Blake, Anne C. Fuller, Eleanor Hann, Florine Johnson, Myrtle Smith, Thelma J.
